Cupid's Advice:

Having a child can be both an exciting and nerve wrecking time, but planning and making arrangements before the child's birth are both key. Cupid has some tips on things to think about before bringing your little bundle of joy into the world:

1. What don't you know?: Read, read, read and ask, ask, ask! It's time to learn. Know what to expect and know what to do when you go into labor. Ask a medical professional any questions you have in order to have a full understanding on the situation. And of course, do some reading. There are a lot of books for the mommy-to-be. Understanding things will help you plan better for the big day.

2. How do you want the birth to be?: Do you want a home birth or hospital birth? Do you want epidural or no epidural? Talk to a medical professional about your options and weigh the pros and the cons of each. Every person is different, so after you have all the facts, think about which option is best for you. And be prepared, too. When your due date is approaching, prepare a bag full of necessities you need to take to the hospital, or if you're going in the home birth route, have a box of things ready – that way, once you're in labor, you're ready to go!

3. Who do you want present at the birth?: Decide and make arrangements now to ensure a higher probability for things to go as planned. This decision is a personal one, which should be well thought out, considering you will be in a different state of mind at that moment! You can also arrange for someone to take the lead and keep everyone in the loop (sending texts, making calls) once you're preoccupied.
