her late baby niece.

In this celebrity news, talk about a unique romantic gesture! What are some unique and thoughtful gifts you can give to your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

While you certainly don't have to gift your significant other a present as grandiose as kangaroos, it's nice to show your love with a romantic gesture every now and then. If you're feeling stumped, Cupid has some ideas for you:

1. Something sentimental: Do you two have a certain date that's important to you? Maybe you have a special spot you always go to, or a fun inside joke. Whatever the case, something sentimental is always appreciated. Perhaps you find the coordinates to the location you first saw your partner and have that stamped on a bracelet. The more specific, the better!

You'll be sure to leave a smile on your partner's face every time they pull something out.

This celebrity couple isn’t going to be heading down the aisle anytime soon. What are some reasons to hold off on marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

While you may feel pressured to plan your wedding right after you and your partner become engaged, it's important to keep your wants and needs in mind. Long engagements are perfectly okay! Here are some reasons to consider pressing pause on your future walk down the aisle:

1. It saves money: Sometimes, it's financially smart for you and your partner to have a long engagement to save money for your big day. No matter the size of the wedding, they can be quite costly. Invites, rental spaces, dresses – they all add up very quickly. Ease the financial burden and take your time!

This celebrity news shows us that sometimes comfort overpowers style. What are some style tips for staying comfortable for dressier occasions?

Cupid's Advice:

As awesome as it is to get dressed up, it's not always the most comfortable thing. If you're dreading an event because of the inevitable discomfort, Cupid is here to help:

1. Predict the mishaps: Nothing is more uncomfortable than getting blisters or cuts from wearing heels all night! Invest in blister bandages, and wear them before putting on those heels and leaving for the evening. Make sure to put a few extras in your purse or the back of your phone case, too. Predict the problem beforehand to prevent it from happening – it's a game-changer!

2. Have a backup plan: Don't let painful feet stop you from tearing up the dance floor! If you know you won't be able to wear your heels for longer than a half hour, bring a backup set of flats. (Or, just ditch the shoes all together if you don't mind dirty feet!) Your feet will thank you...we promise!

3. Wear what feels right: Comfort directly correlates to confidence: if you feel comfortable in your outfit, you will be more confident! Make sure to accentuate and play-up your favorite features. It's super important to wear what you feel good in – and if that happens to be sheepskin boots and a formal dress then go for it!

From an abrupt reality show exit, to a mystery boyfriend, Lala Kent is causing quite the commotion these days. The reality star was mum about her boyfriend on the most recent season of Vanderpump Rules, but the latest celebrity news surrounding Kent has brought a name to the surface. EOnline reveals that Kent has indeed been dating television producer Randall Emmett for the last year and a half. Rumors surrounding the celebrity couple have been floating around for a few months, and the pair was seen kissing at a FabFitFun event in Beverly Hills earlier this month. The couple's relationship has been a subject of criticism since Emmett is still legally married to his wife, though he has been in the process of receiving a divorce.

This celebrity news may not be appreciated by the married boyfriend in question. What are some ways to make sure your love interest is truly unattached?

Cupid's Advice:

It's not fun to deal with others' emotional baggage. Though your partner may claim to be unattached to their ex, there's always a possibility they still could be. Cupid has some signs to look out for:

1. They've purged their social media: This may seem like a small detail, but it speaks volumes. One hand they're just pictures, but it could also indicate that they have some unresolved feelings about their ex. Photos are nostalgic – so your partner might just be nostalgic about their past love.

2. They talk about them nonstop: People want to talk about topics they're interested in, people they like, or things that are on their mind. If your partner brings up an ex a little more than what seems normal, it's likely that they are still emotionally attached. Don't overlook it or take it lightly

3. Your relationship feels forced: Your relationship should never feel forced or like a chore. You should always feel a natural connection and feel inclined to confide in your significant other. When you feel like your partner is forcing their feelings toward you, it is probably a sign to take a closer look at what's really going on.

Celebrity News: Taylor Swift's Ex Turned Her Into 'Quasimodo,' According to BFF Todrick Hall

y Karley Kemble

Taylor Swift is infamous for being dramatic about her exes. If 2017 has shown us anything, it's that Swift is tired of being defined by the media. From winning a defining court case as a victim of sexual assault, to releasing her sixth album, Swift's past reputation is slowly, but surely being forgotten. In the latest celebrity news, one of Swift's closest friend Todrick Hall has revealed some vulnerable details about her most recent celebrity ex, reports EOnline.com. According to Hall, Swift would "hunch over" at the mere mention of her ex's name – so he edited a photo of her to look like Quasimodo and told her, "You cannot turn into Quasimodo for this guy. Every time you say his name, you hunch over." Though her most recent relationship ended with a break-up, Hall said that his bestie is happier than ever with her current beau, Joe Alwyn.

In celebrity news, even Taylor Swift fell victim to an unhealthy relationship. What are some ways to know you're in an unhealthy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Unhealthy relationships are emotionally draining, and it's best to end them before things worsen. If you think you might be in an unhealthy relationship, read these tips from Cupid:

1. They're too attached: Sure, it's normal to be a little clingy to your partner, but there is a line that must be drawn. Make sure you are aware of the differences between healthy attachment and emotional manipulation. Phrases like "I'll die if you ever break up with me" should never be taken lightly. Emotional manipulation is never, ever okay.

2. They constantly blame you: If your partner finds a way to spin every argument or disagreement you have and makes you feel like the bad guy, that is a telling sign of an unhealthy relationship. You are entitled to your feelings and opinions, and your partner should never invalidate you for being too sensitive or for overreacting. Beware of this if it arises.

3. You're changing for the wrong reasons: You and your partner should bring out the best in each other. It's cliché, but staying true to your core values is important, and you should never lose sight of that!

Sometimes, it's better to keep your relationship between you and your partner. If you're looking to keep your relationship quiet for the time being, read these tips straight from Cupid:

1. Keep it offline: In a world ruled by social media, it's important to refrain from posting or sharing anything related to your personal relationship! When you begin a relationship, there's always an element of uncertainty. Sometimes, you just know when somebody's going to be around for longer than a few dates. Here's what Cupid has to say:

1. They're eager to be with you: Everyone's busy to some extent. However, it is important to recognize the difference between not having time and making time. If your partner seems super eager to spend a lot of time with you, and never (or very, very seldom) postpones plans, that is very telling! Cupid's Advice:

Regardless if you have been with your partner for a matter of months or many years, it's important to keep the spark alive! If you're looking for different ideas to reignite the romance, Cupid has some tips for you:

1. Surprise each other: Never underestimate the power of a random surprise. Leave a cute note in the pocket of their jeans or in the glove box of their car. The more seemingly random your hiding spot is, the bigger the surprise will be!

There's another celebrity baby on the way! What are some ways to prepare for your second child differently from the first?

Cupid's Advice:

A second baby is very exciting! While you certainly are more of a parenting pro the second time around, there are still some considerations to keep in mind. Check what Cupid has to say:

1. Talk to the future big sis/bro: Your first child is used to garnering all the attention from you and your partner, so another kiddo will be an adjustment for them. Make sure you take the time to talk to the first-born so they know what to expect. Make it clear that you still love them just as much, and that nothing will change your relationship.

2. Utilize your hand-me-downs: You've probably got a lot of old clothes and necessities lying around the house somewhere, so use them! This helps keep your finances in check and is also makes it feel as though you're getting your money's worth. The toy that your first-born child played with one time will feel brand new for your second kid!

They have the most diverse shade range of any drugstore line, and even rolled out six new shades this year. This foundation will keep your face matte all day and makes your skin seamlessly perfect!

Tarte Shape Tape Contouring Concealer: Shape Tape is a cult favorite for a reason. Though it has only been around for a year, it's taken the beauty world by storm. Nyx Glitter Primer: If it's basically impossible for eyeshadow to stay on your lids all day, eyelid primer is essential! Nyx is a great brand overall, but this Glitter Primer is a notable standout. This primer doesn't budge once it's on your eyelids, and works on both pressed shadows and loose pigments.

Urban Decay Heat Eyeshadow Palette: One of 2017's most hyped launches within the beauty world, the Naked Heat Palette is a must-have palette for anyone's makeup stash. The warm shadows are super pigmented, buttery, and look good on any skin tone. L'Oréal Lash Paradise Mascara: L'Oréal's mascaras are well loved – and their newest launch is probably their best ever! Lash Paradise has become a cult favorite and comparable dupe to Too Faced Better Than Sex mascara. What makes this mascara so amazing is that it curls, lengthens, and volumizes eyelashes and doesn't make them feel crunchy or crusty.

Their lipsticks are a game-changer because of their one-swipe coverage and comfortable feel. The brand is constantly releasing new shades, so there's a color out there that's perfect for you!

Finish:

Laura Mercier Translucent Setting Powder: This setting powder is crucial for keeping your makeup in place all day. It has a very silky-smooth texture and doesn't look cakey on top of all your other products. It also doesn't cause flashback in photos, so you won't look ghostly at all.

open about your relationship triumphs and woes?

Cupid's Advice:

Being open about your relationship has many benefits that not only help you, but also help others. Check out these tips from Cupid:

1. It's mature: There is a certain maturity that comes from being open about your woes. Nobody has a perfect relationship that is free from conflict. 2. It's therapeutic: Sometimes, you need a listening ear to help process your feelings and emotions. Celebrity Break-Up? Nina Dobrev & Glen Powell Taking Time Apart Amid Busy Schedules

could soon face an upsetting celebrity break-up. According to EOnline.com, the celebrity couple are taking a break from their relationship. Though they've not officially called it quits, a source close to the duo says that Dobrev has been quite busy with various projects, which has caused a rift in the relationship. While there hasn't been any explosive fights between or bad blood, sources are saying they are not as close as they had been earlier this year. We hope things work out for this celebrity couple!

Though this may not be classified as a celebrity break-up yet, it seems busy schedules are getting in the way of this relationship. What are some ways to keep a busy schedule from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, life gets in the way and it's challenging to balance your professional life with your personal life. Check out some ways to manage your busy schedule, without feeling as though you're neglecting your relationship or your job:

1. Set boundaries: Make it a point to keep your work at work. When you constantly blur the lines between your relationship and your career, it's inevitable that one will take up more of your time. Being present with your partner without checking your phone for work updates when you're off the clock really means a lot! Set boundaries and make sure you keep yourself accountable.

2. Communicate: A strong relationship needs strong communication to survive. If you or your partner conceal your feelings of neglect, then it's likely an explosive argument will occur somewhere along the line. If you need to work late, and reschedule date night, make sure your partner knows you still care for them, and aren't choosing your job because you love it more than them!

3. Include them in your plans: If it's possible, you can try merging your two worlds. This doesn't mean you have to find your partner a job at your workplace, but perhaps you two can form your own business together (given that you two mesh well on a professional level, that is!) Alternatively, invite your partner into your "work world," and bring them to social events outside of work. That way, they can meet the people you spend your working hours with, and they can get a first-hand look into another area of your life that is kind of unknown.

Cupid's Advice:

It can be troubling when your family doesn't approve of your partner. Check out Cupid's advice on how to deal with these tough situations:

1. Start small: If your family is hesitant to accept your partner, it's probably a good idea to start small. In just under six months, Prince Harry and Meghan Markle will be saying “I do!” According to UsMagazine.com, the couple’s royal celebrity wedding will be held in the extravagant St. George’s Chapel at Windsor Castle in England. Cupid’s Advice:

The venue is a very important piece of your wedding puzzle!

Check out these tips straight from Cupid to help you figure out where to exchange your vows:

1. Finalize your bottom line: Before you settle down on your location, it's important to have a budget. Talk with your partner about how much you're willing to spend, and make sure you have some wiggle room for overages. Doing this will help organize and prioritize the important elements of your dream venue!

2. Pick your date: Picking the date of your big day is another determining factor when deciding where your wedding will be. There should be some synchrony between the two! This will also help give the venue coordinators out when you go to book the location; they can't help you out if you don't have a day in mind!

3. Think about your needs: Having a rough estimate of how many guests you plan on inviting is a smart thing to consider. If a venue has a maximum capacity of 200 people, that doesn't necessarily mean it'll fit 200 people comfortably! Additionally, you should also have an idea of how you intend on using your spaces. If you want your ceremony and reception to be in the same place, make sure there's enough space for those things to happen!

If you and your partner are having a difficult time with keeping the spark alive in your marriage, Cupid has some marriage advice that'll help you and your partner get out of your funk!

Cupid's Advice:

1. Flirt like nobody's watching: Post baby, it may feel weird to openly flirt in front of your kid. Don't worry; you're not alone. Flirting should always be fun and harmless – so don't feel like you can't anymore now that you have a child.

2. Schedule those date nights: We know. Seeing “schedule” and “date night” in the same sentence feels so...old school. The reality of parenthood is that it can be hectic, but you and your partner still need a break every once and a while! Look at your calendar, find an evening that works, and call your mother-in-law or a good friend to see if they'll babysit. Date nights are essential to keeping you sane and giving you two an intimate time to touch base with each other.

3. Try going tech-free: If you and/or your partner find yourselves glued to your phones while the baby is sleeping, challenge each other to put the devices away. Instead of checking your social media accounts, use the rare moments of down-time at home to talk with each other or play a board game! You'll find the little moments of quality time will help your relationship grow, especially without the distractions of the glowing screens.

4. Get touchy: Physical contact is so important in any relationship! As humans, we are designed to desire contact with other people. Post-baby, it's normal for PDA to decrease. (Perhaps you haven't even realized that you and your partner don't get intimate as much – that's also common!) Make it a point to touch your partner whenever the opportunity arises. Hold hands whenever you can – just do whatever it takes to keep each other satisfied.

5. Use your manners: After having a baby, it's easy for you or your partner to feel forgotten. A little kindness goes a long way. If your partner did something as small as starting the full dishwasher, or as big as surprising you with breakfast in bed, thank them! Never underestimate the power of “thank you” – your partner will feel so appreciated.
