By Courtney Omernick

Who says exes can't be friends? Kate Hudson and Matthew Bellamy were spotted in Aspen this week as they were finishing some Christmas shopping, according to UsMagazine.com. The pair recently ended their relationship after a three-year engagement. Hudson and Bellamy have one child together, son Bingham.

How do you know how much space to give your ex post-split?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups can have different outcomes depending on the couple. Sometimes, it's mutually beneficial and no harm has been done. Other times, one or both members are left feeling many different emotions all at once. So how do you know how much space to give your ex post-split? Cupid has listed some tips below:

1. Assess their emotions: If it was a mutual breakup and the other person also clearly thought that it was for the best, you probably don't have to give them too much space. However, if you both disagreed about the breakup and there are hard feelings, you may want to give your ex more space before you're able to be friends or hang out post-split.

2. Consider how long you've known them: If the two of you have been friends since you were teenagers and you've been dating for the last five years and if the relationship didn't end because of a cheating scandal, you won't have to give the other person too much space. But if you haven't known each other very long and it ended because you both want to go different directions with your lives, you might want to hold off on a lot of contact.

3. Blended friend group: If you've been together for a long time or if you both work at the same office, went to the same school, etc., you might have the same friends, and you may not be able to take a break from each other for long. If this is the case, you should figure out how to behave around each other as friends as quickly as possible.

Kate Hudson Would Marry Fiance Matt Bellamy 'For the Kids'

By Sanetra Richards

Kate Hudson is in no hurry to walk down the aisle any time soon. According to UsMagazine.com, the 35-year-old actress talked about her relationship with love of three years, Matt Bellamy, during an appearance on The View on Monday, July 21st. “I just don’t have – I’m happy. We’re married. We’ve got kids and a family and we’ve got to find our time together alone,” the Wish I Was Here star said when asked about any possible marriage plans. “We are in it. I think if we do get married it will be for the kids, really. For us, we’re just happy. She continued to say, “I know that’s not really necessarily a golden ticket but there is something beautiful about the security of marriage. And we’ll get there when we get there.” The pair got engaged in April 2011 and welcomed a baby boy, Bingham, shortly after. Although Hudson and Bellamy, 36, had a bump in the road recently, a source revealed they are definitely “happy in love” and worked their way through it.

What are three good reasons to tie the knot?

Cupid's Advice:

Making that step towards marriage is no easy thing to talk about, let alone actually do. For some time, you and your partner have been giving it some thought and could possibly be ready to make a lifetime commitment to one another. However, you think you may need some confirmation before this milestone approaches. Cupid has a few ways to find out if you are indeed ready to exchange vows:

1. You've met your soul mate: The one person you connect with like no other, the one person who knows nearly every single detail about you, the one person you cannot imagine life without, the one person who you are willing to spend decades with. If this remotely describes your relationship, it just may be time for the wedding nuptials (no pressure).

2. Sealing the deal: Marriage gives you the opportunity to make your relationship beyond official. No more "boyfriend" or "girlfriend," you can even toss out the word "partner" if you'd like. Plus, a marriage license may be more sentimental and significant to you, rather than long-term cohabitating.

3. You become a dynamic duo: Really. You will work as a team more so than ever. Whether that is dealing with financial decisions or something as simple as deciding and cooking dinner for the night – you're in it together.

Kate Hudson Looks Up to Goldie Hawn and Kurt Russell's Relationship

By Louisa Gonzales

Nobody's perfect! This includes the beautiful Kate Hudson who stuns on the cover in the May 2014 issue of Self Magazine saying she too still has her flaws and troubles when it comes to relationships, according to UsMagazine.com. The fiancée to musician Matthew Bellamy, told the magazine she has had her own "insecurities" when it comes to her physique and image. The Something Borrowed star also went on to share with the magazine her thoughts on finding happiness, how it takes “practice” and who she looks up to when it comes to relationships. Hudson revealed her parents, Goldie Hawn and Kurt Russell who’ve been together for around thirty years, as some of her biggest inspirations and the two people who have taught her a few things about love.

What are some ways to incorporate lessons from your parents in your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Even though relationships are special and unique to each individual person, we can still look towards others for examples to follow. Growing up we rely on our parents to teach us new life lessons and to help us grow, this doesn’t have to end when we are adults. Cupid has some advice on ways to incorporate lessons from your parents into your relationship:

1. Ask for your parents advice: Hearing about your parents experience might help you in your own. There’s nothing wrong with asking for your parents advice or help when it comes to your love life. It can be good to grow and learn from their past mistakes or incorporate things your parents did that worked into your own relationship.

2. Take inspiration from your parents: Parents can be strong figures in your life and are people you can find inspiration from, even when it comes to love. It’s nice to be able to look up to your parents and see how much they have grown from love. Parents have done it all before and watching them and seeing how they’re when it comes to relationship can inspire you to take action in your own love life.

3. She what works and hasn't worked for your parents: There is a lot of things you can learn or take from witnessing your parents own relationship. You and your lover can look back on all the things that worked with your parents relationships and what didn't. From seeing and hearing about their troubles or good times, you can learn a great deal about love and what it takes to make a relationship work and long-lasting.

Cupid's Advice:

Nothing good ever comes easy, and if you really want something, you have to work for it. These ideas hold true for couples too! Here is some advice on ways to strengthen your relationship.

1. Dedication: Every relationship requires both you and your partner to put in equal time and energy. If both parties don't put in the same amount of effort, it will make it seem like one is pulling more weight than the other, and the relationship can quickly fall apart.

2. Communication: You know what they say: Communication is key. You should feel comfortable enough to share your deepest thoughts and fears with your significant other. It's also vital to talk about any problems or issues. Be open with each other, and you'll quickly notice improvements in your partnership.

Muse Media Manager Thomas Kirk Marries at Kate Hudson's

House

By April Littleton

Congratulations to Muse media manager Thomas Kirk and Jaclyn Ferber who married at Kate Hudson's Pacific Palisades home Saturday, Nov. 9. A source told UsMagazine.com that the wedding took place in the front yard of Hudson's home, which had been decorated with bistro chairs and an ivy-covered altar. The new bride wore a strapless gown and walked down a white wood plank aisle.

What are some ways to make a wedding at home special?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to a wedding, nothing can be as special as having it in the comfort of your own home. Just because you decide to hold your special day in a familiar place doesn't mean it can't be mesmerizing and over-the-top if that's what you're expecting. Cupid is here to help:

1. Decorations: If you plan on having your wedding outside of your home, hire a professional landscape to tend to your yard. Get some fresh, unique flowers planted just in time to be in full bloom for your wedding. You can also hang up lanterns, lamps or other different types of lights to really help your wedding ceremony and reception stand out.

3. Keepsakes: Provide all of your guests with disposable cameras so that they can capture precious moments throughout the reception and ceremony. Once the photos are developed, you and your new spouse can create a scrapbook together or you can pass out the pictures to your loved ones.

What are some ways you can help a friend who has lost his/her partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Helping a friend get through a tragedy of losing someone they love is not an easy task. You don't want to overstep your boundaries, but at the same time, you want him/her to know you're there for them whenever they need you. Cupid has some tips:

1. Support them: One of the best things you can do for a friend in need is just lend a listening ear. When your friend is ready to vent to someone, just be there for them. Don't pressure him/her to do or say anything they're not ready for.

2. Keep them busy: Get your friend up and out of the house. Help them get back into their old routine. Maybe the two of you can pick up some new hobbies together. Sign up for a cooking class, learn how to play a musical instrument together or catch up on the latest movies. If those options don't work for you and your loved one, find something else the two of you would enjoy doing.

3. Help them reminisce: Help your friend find some healthy ways to remember their lost love. Start a scrapbooking project together or be there for your friend when it comes time to visit their late partner's grave. Let them know it's OK for him/her to still think about their significant other from time-to-time – they just have to figure out how to grieve in a proper manner.

What are some advantages of going on a double date?

Cupid’s Advice:

Many couples associate double dating with a much younger and less serious kind of dating. Group movie dates and making out in parked cars come to mind. However, group dates can be extremely beneficial when pursuing serious relationships later in life. Here’s how:

1. It allows you to get to know your date: If you met your date through a friend, a double date could take the edge off the initial “getting to know you” period, prompting him to share more than he may have if the two of you had gone out one-on-one.

2. It allows your friends to get to know you and your date as a couple: If your friends are not used to being around you and your beau together, a double date is the easiest way to work them into your circle of friends. Let your friends see what you love about your partner.

3. It can help you get a different perspective: If you are uncertain about how you feel about your date, take him out on a double date. Your friends may be able to validate some of the issues you have or help you realize that you are just being overly-critical of your new man.

Goldie Hawn Says Kate Hudson and Matt Bellamy Are Not Married

Actress Kate Hudson has been engaged to the Muse lead vocalist and guitarist, Matt Bellamy for about a year, and he will remain her fiance for now. The happy couple gave birth to their son Bingham last July, but are waiting to tie the knot until a later date.

What are some ways to keep your wedding date a secret?

Cupid's Advice:

Weddings can be a big to-do, and some couples who want to keep things low key may decide to keep their wedding date a mystery. Cupid has some tips to keep the word of the wedding getting out:

1. Run away: Perhaps the easiest way to keep anyone from finding out about your wedding is to elope sporadically. If you plan to elope, you might break down in excitement and tell someone, but if you go on a whim, only you and your fiance will know.

2. Don't go public: Sure, people may know you're engaged, but who says you have to announce a wedding date? Keep the date strictly between yourself and a few loved ones so you can keep things as private as possible.

3. Last Minute: Planning a wedding can be stressful, so take the stress out and plan a quick last minute wedding without all the fuss of decorations and a guest list. Only tell the people close to you a few days beforehand and word is less likely to get around.

What do you believe are some of the benefits of keeping your wedding hush-hush? Share your comments below.

What are some ways to become friends with your ex after a split?

Cupid’s Advice:

So you and your ex didn’t make it to the altar like you thought would, but that doesn’t mean the two of you still can't be friends. Don't know how to get over the awkwardness ? Cupid has some tips:

1. Give yourself some time: You may not be ready to immediately come face-to-face after your relationship ends, which is understandable. Allow yourself time to heal after splitting, especially if it ended on bad terms.

2. Get over the grudge: The breakup might not have ended so well, but if it's been years since then, you shouldn't hold onto a grudge forever. Sometimes, not holding a grudge with your former flame can be what you need to move on to the next best thing.

3. Be friendly: If you have the same friends, you might run into each other often. When this happens, smile and make small talk. This may not reignite the spark in your old relationship, but it may lead into becoming friends again.

What should you do if you find out your friend is being cheated on?

Cupid's Advice:

Knowing that a close friend of yours is being played by their partner is a tough situation. Figuring out what part you play in the messy situation can be difficult, so Cupid thought of some steps you can take:

1. Talk: It's always smart to talk to the cheater before anything else. Make sure you're right about what's going on, and try to figure out what he or she plans on doing about it.

If there's no plan to stop, give him or her the option of telling your friend. If not, tell your friend yourself.

2. Hint: A safe approach you can take is telling your friend ... without actually telling him or her. Make subtle comments about how their partner has been "working late a lot lately," and point out how it doesn't make sense with his or her schedule. This way you can help your friend without actually starting problems with the cheater.

3. Tell: If the cheating doesn't stop and your friend still isn't getting the hint, just be up front. Don't stall! The longer the affair lasts, the more hurt your friend is going to be.

Kate Hudson and Matt Bellamy Are Engaged!

Kate Hudson, America's favorite blonde beauty, announced her engagement Wednesday to Matthew Ballamy on the Today show. After Matt Lauer noticed her ring, the actress proclaimed, "I'm engaged! It just happened a week ago. I'm so glad you noticed. I haven't really announced it. ... I was waiting for someone to notice." According to People, she would not reveal any more about the engagement ... only that it was very romantic.

Does it take the intimacy out of your proposal story if you share it?

Cupid's Advice:

Though secret proposals and/or marriages may seem romantic, most people who go that route find it difficult to keep something so joyous a secret. It's not a matter of intimacy; it's a matter of practicality:

1. Give me a ring: Even if you choose not to share your engagement with friends and family, the ring is a dead giveaway.

2. Share the love: You may agree to keep your engagement a secret, but one of you is bound to crack.

3. Eloping: It ends up being more of a surprise than secret.

Kate Hudson Discusses Why She Fell In Love with Matthew Bellamy

Kate Hudson has finally opened up about her new beau and soon-to-be father of her child, Matthew Bellamy, 32. People reports Hudson, 31, told InStyle that what made her fall in love with her British rock star boyfriend was his kindness. “Matthew was polite and immediately protective, which for somebody like me who’s all over the place – one minute I’m over here and the next I’m over there – is important... He is just an amazing person.”

Is it important for your partner to be protective of you?

Cupid’s Advice:

Being protective is wonderful, but it’s easy to cross the line into being overprotective. Cupid has some tips on how much your mate should defend you:

- 1. The good: It’s extremely important that your mate at least feels protective of you. That way you know that someone’s always got your back no matter what.
- 2. The bad: Sometimes a partner can use being protective as an excuse to be possessive and keep you from doing things you want to do. Make sure your significant other isn't crossing the line.

3. The ugly: Being watchful over you can sometimes result from jealousy. If your significant other won't let you see certain people, talk to him or her about the real reason for their sheltering.

Matt Bellamy Thanks Pregnant Girlfriend Kate Hudson at Grammys

At the Grammys, Muse's lead singer Matt Bellamy was a winner in more ways than one. When the band accepted the Grammy for Best Rock Album on Sunday night, he seized the opportunity to gush about his girlfriend, Kate Hudson, in a very public way. UsMagazine.com reports that Bellamy, 32, ended his band's acceptance speech by thanking his "beautiful pregnant girlfriend." Hudson was present at the show, but didn't walk the red carpet. The 31-year-old actress, who has a 7-year-old son with ex-husband Chris Robinson, has said that she doesn't think she will get married again.

What are ways to thank your partner for being there for you?

Cupid's Advice:

While most of us don't have the chance to thank our significant others on TV in front of millions of people, there are plenty of everyday opportunities to say thanks for being there. Cupid has some ideas on how to show you care:

1. It's the little things: Attention all men: no woman doesn't like getting flowers. She'll like it even more if you give them to her out of the blue just to let her know you appreciate her.

2. Put yourself out there: If you want to thank your partner for being there, doing it front of an audience shows you're not afraid to celebrate your love publicly. Try making a speech at your mate's birthday party or on your anniversary in front of your friends.

3. Actions speak louder than words: Thanking your significant other doesn't always mean saying "thank you" out loud; it's about showing you're thankful by doing something for them. If your partner nags you about how messy you are, try cleaning the house before they come home.

Why Kate Hudson Kept Pregnancy a Secret

Kate Hudson isn't keeping quiet any longer. The actress has publicly announced that she is pregnant with her second child by her rockstar boyfriend Matthew Bellamy, People reports. Hudson tells The Times that she has been having bouts of morning sickness but couldn't tell anyone, not even her closest friends. "But I didn't want anyone to know for a long time," she said. "I was just hoping that all of a sudden, I could show up somewhere with a big belly." Hudson says her due date will come this summer, making her son, Ryder, 7, who she had with her ex-husband Chris Robinson, a big brother.

Should you keep the news of your pregnancy from your friends?

Cupid's Advice:

There are few things more exciting in life than announcing a pregnancy to all of your friends and family. But sometimes, depending on the situation, it may be best to keep mum for the first few weeks:

1. A new chapter: Your new life isn't going to start once you leave the hospital nine months from first finding out about your pregnancy, but instead right then and there. When you first hear that you're pregnant, it's a lot of information to take in all at once. It's okay not to tell anyone until you yourself can handle the news.

2. Work-related: You may be ecstatic about being pregnant, but will your employer feel the same way? It can nerve-racking to tell your boss that you'll be needing to take maternity leave, especially if you've just received a recent promotion. Take a little time and some deep breaths before you announce it to the workplace.

3. Everyone wants a piece: Others may not realize that your pregnancy is yours alone. Advice, questions, belly touches and name suggestions will be flying their way right into the delivery room. By not making your pregnancy public right away, it will give you a little more privacy and a lot less stress.

Kate Hudson Talks Pregnancy and Engagement Rumors

Actress Kate Hudson's pregnancy is igniting many rumors, most of which are absurdly untrue, reports UsMagazine.com. While on the England-based talk show The Graham Norton Show, Hudson effectively debunked several rumors. She revealed that while she is pregnant with boyfriend Matt Bellamy's child, she's not engaged to him. When asked about the possibility of a marriage, she replied, "I don't like putting that sort of pressure on it and I don't feel it necessary to get married." The actress went on to explain, "I just want to be happy."

Is getting married unnecessary pressure to a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Many feel that a relationship is only worthwhile if it results in marriage. However, more and more people are finding this untrue. Before you begin to stress over a dead-end relationship, consider the following factors:

1. Don't rush: Your relationship will pan out in its own time. Even if it seems to have a long way to go before marriage enters into the equation, have no fear.

2. Think things through: Before you sprint to the altar, think about the reasoning behind your decision. Do you want to marry to please others, or is it really what you want? Marriage is life-changing, so take it seriously.

3. Your happiness: Ultimately, the point of marriage is for the couple in love to be happy together. If you and your partner are happy already and you don't think marriage will enhance it, it's totally fine to keep things the way they are.
