There may be a new celebrity couple in town! What are some creative ways to make your crush notice you?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're trying to get that new cutie you've got your eye on to notice you exist, Cupid is here to help:

1. Find common ground: If you're looking to make a connection with a crush, but you're virtually strangers, find some common ground with them that you're sure you share. This doesn't have to be something super complicated or personal, in fact it's way better if it isn't. Focus on surface-level commonalities at first, even if there one's that seem obvious, like the fact that you work at the same place or go to the same school. Think about what you have in common – classes, bosses, friends, hobbies – and go from there. The next time you see them at a party or on break at work, walk up and introduce yourself and find a fun conversational tidbit to break the ice that relies on your joint experiences. Remember, if you go blank and are stuck in a pinch, virtually every one loves to talk about themselves!

2. Create an inside joke: Once you have common ground with the person you're crushing on and are friendly with them, find an inside joke that you two can share. This can be based on something funny that happens in the office or a professor you both love to hate at school. This will bond you two together further and also be a great lead-in for more flirty teasing. Don't be afraid to move from friendly and funny to actually flirty pretty soon though; after all you want to make sure your crush understands you want to be their partner, not just their buddy!

3. Give them a compliment: If you've developed a fun, flirty teasing relationship, don't get so wrapped up in giving your crush a hard time that you forget that you're trying to sweep them off their feet. Throw in a compliment every so often to remind them that you genuinely like and admire them. Remember to keep it light but also personal, something that not every one would notice or that you think they'd really appreciate hearing. And when they blushingly accept the compliment? Give them a smile and a long, soft look to take things from merely flirty to truly romantic.

Katharine McPhee's Celebrity Divorce: Can You Stay Friends With an Ex?

By Dr. Jane Greer

Katharine McPhee's celebrity divorce from ex-husband Nick Cokas may have been messy, but the two seem friendlier than ever. They were spotted getting breakfast together last week, and Nick even caressed her face during the meal.

This celebrity couple has remained amicable since the split, which raises the question: is it possible to continue to be friends with an ex?

Are there any lingering issues?

There are several things to consider when trying to decide if it is a good idea to be your former partner's pal. The first is to think about how your relationship ended and if there are any lingering issues. If there is still a lot of anger and resentment between you, and you continue to be at odds sorting out the logistics of your new lives and what that means, then you might not be ready to be friends yet. In other words, if you are still trying to iron out the difficult details of dealing with kids, sorting through your things, sharing friends, and deciding how to deal with family events, the likelihood that these complications will raise your already brewing frustration level is pretty high. If the "we" world that was dismantled is still requiring a lot of directions and maps to navigate through, and the journey hasn't been smooth or easy, it is probably too soon. With that in mind, trying to stay close at this time might only serve to fuel the negative energy and keep the anger going.

Are you still upset?

Along the same lines, if you are still feeling upset, bitter, and blame your ex for what has happened between you, then you will probably need time to heal and deal with those feelings before embarking on a new phase of your relationship and love life. If this is the case, don't pressure yourself. Give yourself the time and space you need to process these emotions, so that there is the chance that you can get to a more peaceful point in the future and you will be able to be sociable with each other.

Are you considering the feelings of a new partner?

Finally, if you or your ex is now involved with a new person, that person's feeling should also be taken into consideration. If it makes them uncomfortable, or they would rather you didn't maintain a connection with your former spouse, that will probably have an effect on your decision to try to remain friends and to what extent.

Sometimes the viability of maintaining a friendship goes back to how your relationship began. If you were friends before you were romantic with each other, it might feel natural to fall back into that pattern. The bottom line is that being friends with an ex works for some people and not for others. At the very least though, once things settle down, the goal of being friendly is a good one so that you can work together and not have to divide cleanly into separate camps.

Hopefully Katharine and Nick can continue to stay on good terms with each other while still experiencing new happenings and new loves in each of their lives.

Kathrine McPhee Trying to Work on Marriage

By Louisa Gonzales

Katharine McPhee and her husband Nick Cokas separated nine months ago, but now it seems the couple may be trying to work on marriage. According to People, a close friend of the pair says they are trying to work things out. The duo has been spending time together and was recently spotted out in Los Angeles walking their dogs. There was initially a lot of controversy surrounding their separation, because just 5 months after the ex-lovers announcement of their split, news broke about McPhee's affair with married man, director Michael Morris. Morris is married to actress Mary McCormack. However after everything, McPhee and Cokas remained close and now it seems they're hoping to start fresh.

What are some ways to seek help with your marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

After you get married things aren't going to be 'happily ever after' all the time. There will be a lot of obstacles and challenges that come after tying the knot and, sadly, sometimes couples can't overcome them. However, if you are willing to work on your union, it is possible to overcome any roadblocks you may face. Cupid has some advice and ways to get help with your marriage:

1. Seek advice from other married couples: You're not the first couple to face marriage challenges and you won't be the last. Go to trustworthy family or friends and ask them for tips or to share their experiences. It is important to gain perspective outside of your own marriage, it will help you and let you know you are not alone.

2. Go to counseling: It's not easy to admit you need help and it's even harder to take other's people's advice. However it could be good to go the counseling together, many couples have done the same so you don't have to feel alone. A good counselor could help you remember all the reasons you fell in love and work out your issues.

3. Look to each other: If you're both willing to admit you have issues, together you can work them out and save your

What are some ways to resist the temptation to be unfaithful?

Cupid's Advice:

If you think you're starting to have a wandering eye – whether it be for a few people or just one person – and you're committed, it's an issue. You need to nip it in the bud ASAP. Cupid has some advice on how you can handle your situation:

1. Think about it: Take a step back and think about why you want to do this. Think about how it truly benefits you emotionally and physically. 2. Talk about it: Bring it up with your partner. Know that they are going to be hurt and upset, but you need to figure out how to fix this issue as a couple. Maybe you just need to spice things up, or maybe you enjoy the appreciation that other people give you that your partner doesn't seem to give you much of. Express your needs, wants, and desires.

3. Remember why you're there: Think of why you're actually still in your relationship. If you were very unhappy, you would have ended things before, so why risk it all now? Think of the good qualities of your partner and your relationship. You'll find that being unfaithful is much bigger of a deal than you think it is.

Michael Morris Steps Out with Wife Post-Katharine McPhee Scandal

By Whitney Johnson

It looks like yet another cheating scandal has rocked Hollywood. Last week, married actress Katharine McPhee was spotted kissing her Smash director Michael Morris, also hitched. This past weekend, Us Weekly revealed that Morris was spotted with his wife, In Plain Sight actress Mary McCormack, who allegedly kicked him out of the house they share with their three children. Sources say that the American Idol runner-up has been separated from her husband, Nick Cokas, for several months, but she's still incredibly embarrassed by the situation.

What do you do if you find out your partner has been cheating?

Cupid's Advice:

It's easy to say what you would do if your partner ever cheated, but the reality of the situation is completely different than that "what if" scenario. Before you make any rash decisions or say and do something you may later regret, consider the tips below:

1. Take a breather: It's natural to need a bit of space after finding out such life-altering news. Step back from your relationship and use this alone time to think about how you feel about your relationship, your partner, and, most importantly, your future.

2. Seek outside help: Whether it's a close friend or a therapist, talking to an outsider about your partner's cheating will help you gain some much-needed perspective. It'll allow you to look at the big picture and really consider the questions needed to determine if you want to work through this rough patch with your significant other or if you're ready to call it quits.

3. Follow your heart: Finally, no matter what anyone says, listen to yourself. Deep down, you know whether or not you can truly forgive your beau and move forward in spite of the transgression. Just remember that if you can't see past this mistake, you'll never be happy together.
