What are three steps you can take to recover from a split?

Cupid's Advice:

One of the hardest things in life to recover from is heartache. Everybody needs a room at the 'Heartbreak Hotel' at some point throughout their lives, just like Elvis Presley sang about. Nonetheless; it's important to remember that there is always light at the end of the tunnel. You have lots to look forward too, and someone more suited for you will come along. Cupid has some advice on how you can recover from a painful split:

1. Take time for YOU: When you separate from someone you were once close too, it can be very difficult. Make sure to make room for 'me time' and cater to all of your needs. You deserve it. Take a bubble bath, enjoy a nice glass of wine, let your favorite singer serenade you, read a good book, order comfort food you fancy and watch reruns of your favorite show. Indulge in all of the things that bring you happiness, because even though you're feeling down – there are still things that can make you happy in your life left.

What are some ways to keep the intimate details of your relationship under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

In our society today, it's hard to maintain privacy due to the fact that we are living in the age of technology. It can be difficult to keep all of the intimate details of your relationship behind closed doors. Cupid has some ways to keep the intimate details of your relationship under wraps:

1. Your lips are sealed: Kiss and DON'T tell! If you keep the intimate details of your relationship to yourself, then nobody else can find out and it will remain confidential. It's totally understandable to discuss the personal aspects of your relationship with your close friends and family. However; make sure it's people you can fully trust. Also keep in mind, you never know who is overhearing your conversations – so make sure the stories you are discussing are those that you don't mind if the world were to know. It's safest to keep your lips sealed, just not too sealed!

2. Pay attention please: With the internet and social media, news spreads rapidly like wildfires. People talk and gossip, people post and blog. Since this can occur so quickly, the information isn't necessarily true – but that won't stop the private details of your relationship from being out there. Don't post too much information online. It's a good idea to monitor your social media and make sure you always have tabs on the whereabouts of your phone, laptop, camera, video-camera, iPad, iPod, etc. You never know when those could be stolen, if someone has made copies of your information, or if someone has hacked into your personal accounts. Monitoring these will allow you to maintain the privacy you deserve!

3. What happens in 'Vegas' – stays in 'Vegas': It's human nature to want to have privacy in your life and, of course, in your relationships too. When in Rome, do as the Romans do. It's absolutely acceptable to live your life and engage in the kind of relationship that you and your partner both decide on. That being said, it can be really nice to keep the details between you and your partner only. There is a big difference between you and your partner being private, and keeping the entire relationship a secret. It can be refreshing to keep things between just you two. It provokes an 'us against the world' type of feeling which can be enticing!

And this man who I loved for six years, I believe deserves – and everyone around us – everyone knows that this man deserves a second chance if he did make a mistake. And right now I'm working that out."

How do you know whether to give your partner a second chance?

Cupid's Advice:

Once trust is broken, it can be difficult to rebuild a relationship. Sometimes it's not even worth the effort, while other times it may be. Cupid has some tips about whether to give your partner a second chance:

1. Check track record: Take a look at how your partner has behaved in the past. Was this a one time occurrence, or has it happened on numerous occasions? Is this familiar behavior or very out of their character? We're all human and make mistakes. If this was a one time slip up and you have a lot of history together, you may want to give your partner another chance if that's what you want. "Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice, shame on me."

2. Learned lesson: If your partner is truly sorry for what they did and is owning up to it, you might want to give them a second chance. Sometimes urges get the best of us and things happen in life, even though they shouldn't. Although your partner should have known better, if they are taking responsibility for their actions and being genuine, it may be acceptable to offer a second chance.

3. Good heart: When your partner overall has a good heart and positive qualities, that very well may warrant a second chance. You should dig deep inside yourself and your partner, to identify if that is still the case. See what feelings are still lingering, choose where you want to go from there and decide if the pros outweigh the cons. If you would be able to be ultimately happy with your partner still, then it could be worth it. All that matters is your happiness!
