Acknowledging that your relationship is over can be difficult, but moving on to something healthier and happier is worth it. Cupid has some advice for you on when to know when its really over:

1. Your mental health is suffering: If you aren't feeling like yourself anymore, and the relationship is the root cause, it's time to move on. Letting your mental health suffer for the sake of another person isn't healthy or positive. Love the life you live, with confidence and strength!

In celebrity news, the reason behind Lady Gaga’s broken engagement is finally coming to light. What are some tips for dealing with jealousy?

Cupid's Advice:

A jealous partner does not mean you have to immediately break up with them. Cupid has some tips to deal with jealousy. But just remember, if it ever starts to feel too out of control, you are right in calling off the relationship:

1. Stay calm: Listen to your partner and the reasons that they are jealous. Most likely it isn't something you have done and they might have some insecurities about the relationship that you both need to work on. Remember, a key to a strong relationship is communication, and if you can't listen to their concerns, then it might not work out.

Celebrity Divorce: Mandy Moore Reflects on 'Sad' and 'Lonely' Marriage to Ryan Adams

By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity divorce news, Mandy Moore opened up about her seven-year roller-coaster marriage to singer-songwriter Ryan Adams, according to UsMagazine.com. The celebrity exes met when Moore was 23, and she became smitten with him. They married a year later. Things fell apart in Moore's immediate family when her mother left her father and so she thought, "I'll create my own family," Moore admitted on the "WTF with Marc Maron" podcast. She explained that her career quieted down soon after the marriage. "I couldn't do my job because there was just a constant stream of trying to pay attention to this person who needed me and wouldn't let me do anything else." Moore and Adams divorced in June of 2015. She is now happily married to Dawes frontman Taylor Goldsmith.

This celebrity divorce ended up being a blessing in the end. What do you do if you find yourself in a marriage that's bad for you?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're truly being abused by your partner, the best thing you can do is get out of the relationship. Call this domestic abuse hotline if you ever need it: 1-800-SAFE (7233). Local women's shelters and community-based services may be able to provide help as well.

When you're in a bad marriage, it can be a tough call to decide whether you should leave or stay. But, you have to think about yourself and your children (if you have any) before you think about the longevity of your marriage to someone who makes you unhappy. Cupid has some tips:

1. Stop making excuses: It's easy to make excuses if you're in an unhealthy marriage. They're working too hard for you and your family, or they had a bad day at work, so that's why they insulted you, especially when it happens constantly. Stop this. You're letting your spouse get away with treating you badly. It's easy to find yourself in a loop of reasons why it's okay to let your spouse treat you this way. Remember this: the only person that can get you out of this situation is yourself.

Related Link: Celebrity Exes: Mandy Moore Says Ex Ryan Adams Was 'Psychologically Abusive'

2. Take a good, hard look at your role in the relationship: Does the house fall apart when you aren't home no matter how many times you've asked for help? Do they expect you to hold a full-time job and do all of the housework? Take care of the kids by yourself? If every single thing falls on you and they aren't trying to help, or they try to make you feel awful when you haven't gotten everything done, then it might be time to get out.

Related Link: Celebrity Divorce: Channing Tatum & Jenna Dewan's Split is Becoming 'Challenging and Emotional'

3. Reach out to friends and family: It can be easy to lose touch with friends and family when you're busy. This is normal. But one of the first signs of being abused is for the abuser to start isolating their partner so they can't reach out for help. Being in a relationship that requires an occasional venting session with your bestie is one thing, but feeling completely isolated with no way out is another beast entirely.

There are a lot of factors to consider before you start working with your partner, but it can be well worth it in the long run! Cupid has a few:

1. Make date nights a priority: Will you be able to maintain date nights if you both work together? It's a proven fact: couples who date stay together. In order to do that, you need to put aside your professional lives at home and vice versa. If neither one of you will be able to do this, working with your partner might not be a good idea.

Cupid's Advice:

When you're going through a difficult time, whether with depression, anxiety, or any other number of other issues, here are some things that can help.

1. Try positive thinking: Negative thinking can be a downward spiral that is hard to come back from, and it can become difficult to be positive when you hardly have been. Only use words that will empower yourself. It may seem hokey and redundant, but positive thought is a powerful tool and will reshape the vocabulary your brain uses.

2. Reach out to someone who you trust: Have a serious conversation with someone close who is willing to listen. Also, if it's bad and you don't have a support system, do not be afraid to seek professional help. There's never a reason to be ashamed of how you feel.

3. Exercise: Exercising can release endorphins in the body that relieves stress and boosts the mood. This doesn't have to mean working out in a gym. These celebrity exes are the definition of "amicable split." What are some ways to keep things civil with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

When going through a divorce or break-up of any kind, it can be difficult to remain civil with your ex. No matter how hard it may be, it is important to try to be as friendly as possible, especially if there are children involved. Cupid has some ideas:

1. Remember why you fell in love: Whenever you are going through a divorce or a tough split, it is important to keep in mind that you were once in love with this person and never forget what qualities made you fall in love in the first place. Keeping these desirable qualities about your ex close in thought will help you remain on good terms.

Expert Relationship Advice: The Exclusivity Trap!

By Megan Weks

Are you stuck in an exclusive relationship but not really ready for a monogamous one on one? While we all yearn for that special someone to be just ours, jumping into exclusivity too soon can be damaging, especially to women. Read the expert relationship advice below to help you make healthier dating decisions.

Expert Relationship Advice to Help You Stand Up for Your Best Interests in a Relationship!

What angers me the most about being a relationship coach is the same reason I am a relationship coach: women are breaking their own hearts. Yesterday, three women reached out to me in desperation. They each have a man but they are feeling frustrated and nervous. Their stomachs are in balls of knots, they are crossing their fingers for luck, and they are extremely anxious. Why? Because their needs are not being met in their new relationships. Interestingly, these women happily agreed to jump into the situations they now find themselves in. Didn't they want a boyfriend? After all, that was their goal. Now, however, they feel trapped in exclusivity with men that may not be right for them.

The "going steady" dating model, by the way, did not occur until the 1940s. It was born out of the desire for – and the more acceptable view of – casual sex. Before that, people would take their time to really determine if someone was a match, and then get married through a leisurely process called "courting." The "going steady" dating model, or "linear" dating, as I call it, can be extremely disempowering for a woman who has the goal of getting married within the next couple of years.

You meet a man. You date and spend time at his place and at yours. You get close, enjoy his compliments, and share laughs. Things are going great. You feel attached to him. You are excited to finally find someone who sees what you have to offer: how special you are. You feel like a celebrity couple at first. You feel comfortable and slip into that girlfriend role with ease...heck, you've been waiting a while for this. You're sick and tired of being "out there." Now it's your turn.

Or, is it...?

Suddenly, he starts to get a bit lazy. The communication isn't what you feel it should be from a boyfriend. He said he wasn't dating others, and you aren't supposed to, either. However, you don't know if you're seeing him this weekend or not. You're playing the waiting game...again. The nervousness, the anxiety-stricken feeling, the knots in the pit of your stomach return. You start thinking that you're running out of time and that you're back in the waiting game. You want this all to be over. It's a familiar feeling, and it's awful.

"How did I get here again? Why is dating, and men, in particular, so difficult? What can I do to save this relationship?" You don't want to make plans with your friends and then have to cancel on them if he comes around. You think to yourself, if you just see him again you'll get the magic back. So you push to see him again. You will accommodate his busy schedule. You make excuses for him. You accept less than you deserve. You lack integrity for yourself. You worry that if you stand up for yourself or push for more time, it will backfire. It's like your fate is dependent on his next move, which is determined by a stupid little flashing red light on a digital screen. You peek at it all day while at work.

Ladies, if you find yourself in this position, get yourself out of exclusivity. Exclusivity is a trap! You have no business spending your precious mind, sanity, and time waiting for a man to choose you. While it may not be what you want to hear in relationship advice, you must get yourself back out there and explore your options. Allow a man to get to know you, and allow yourself to get to know him and his intentions deeply before you jump into an exclusive relationship.

Rushing over to his place and getting cozy is the lazy dater's way to find relief. You both can't wait to drop the pesky formalities of dating, jump in the bed, and experience what the relationship would be like – now. The problem with this is, the formalities are actually an important part of the courtship process, and a courtship process is exactly what you need to go through in order to avoid getting into "the exclusivity trap!"

It can be difficult to say the right things to your friend or family member who has been cheated on. You don't want to say anything that will upset them and you truly want to comfort them because it pains you that they are going through this. Here are some tips on how you can help in this occurrence:

1. Be more positive than negative: Try not to say things like "once a cheater, always a cheater" because who knows if the two will get back together. split?

Cupid's Advice:

It is a struggle to completely cut ties with the person you were just so close to, but sometimes, it is necessary. Prolonging a break-up can serve unfair to both of you. Here are some great things about having the strength to completely cut ties after a split:

1. No wasted time: No time is wasted if it was spent doing what you wanted at the time. But, when you keep in contact with an ex and it is unhealthy for both of you, it can halt the opportunity for you to let go, move on, and find someone new. Be excited for what is to come!

3. No possibility of slipping up: We all know that sometimes we fall back into meeting up with our ex for a drink and then end up regretting it. If you have completely cut ties with your ex, this won't happen. Maybe in a few years after the break-up isn't fresh anymore you two run into each other and catch up, but that isn't a bad thing. We have all heard the saying that age is just a number. But it is definitely true that age comes with experience, and it is a serious responsibility to care for a child. Here are some things to consider if there is a large age gap in your relationship:

1. Be prepared to handle the differences: It is beneficial to understand that if you are in a relationship with someone where there is a large age difference between you two, you are going to encounter some generational contrasts. Celebrity Break-Up: Anna Faris Learns Important Lesson From Divorcing Chris Pratt

By Carly Horowitz

In latest celebrity news, Chris Pratt finally broke the silence in regards to his celebrity divorce from Anna Faris. Pratt and Faris announced that they were “legally separating” in August 2017 after eight years of marriage, and they filed for divorce by the end of that year. “Divorce sucks,” Pratt ultimately revealed in an Entertainment Weekly interview this week. He continues to explain that him and Faris are still friends and are kind to one another for the sake of their five-year-old son, Jack. From Faris’ view, she said, “We have a great friendship, we really do and we always have. And it’s always tough to envision your future as one thing, but I think there is a lot of love,” on a SiriusXM’s Hits 1 in Hollywood interview. According to EOnline.com, Faris added, “I think it’s a lesson learned a little bit in terms of keeping relationships a little more private, potentially, even though I pride myself on being a pretty open person. But, I don’t know, it’s tough when you’re under the scrutiny.” In other news, Faris is currently dating Michael Barrett, while Pratt is allegedly still single.

This is the first we are hearing about the opinions of Chris Pratt and Anna Faris since their celebrity break-up. What are some benefits to keeping your post-relationship details on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

It can truly be a tough time in your life after you split from a partner you were together with for so long. You don't need to expose all of the details to every single one of your friends and family if you do not wish to. If you keep to yourself and a few close friends, here is what can happen:

1. You will be able to explore your true self: Without the input from others, you will have the opportunity to really understand what you are feeling. Sometimes, it isn't bad to have input from the ones you trust most, but this can occasionally lead to you thinking that you are feeling one way when you are really not. It is most beneficial to get to know yourself alone during this time.

2. You won't receive as much judgement: This is hard for you as it is, you don't need further scrutiny to just make this situation even worse. When people go through break-ups, it is really difficult for outsiders to truly understand the emotions and feelings that you go through. Therefore, they may judge. You can minimize that by conducting your life in a more private manner.

3. You won't be bombarded: The more details you put out there, the more people will crowd you with questions. "Why did you break-up?" "Was there cheating involved?" "Are you guys still talking at all?" It can become overwhelming. It is okay to just stick to talking to one specific person that you trust most to help get you through this time and then let the magical self-growth occur.
