

Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Alum Arie Luyendyk Jr. Defends Wife Lauren After She Leaves Infant at Home

By Katie Sotack

In celebrity news, Bachelor alum, Arie Luyendyk Jr, and wife Lauren Burnham are putting up a united front when it comes to their child. Celebrity parent Lauren left her one week old home for a luncheon with her sister. Social media users attacked, claiming Lauren left baby Alessi too fast, but Arie has come to his wife's defense. According to UsMagazine.com, the star responded that it was his idea and "[t]o all the negative comments regarding leaving her with grandma for a 45min lunch, cut her some slack!"

In celebrity news, Arie is coming to the defense of his wife's parenting decision. Why is providing a unified front as parents so important?

Cupid's Advice:

Parenting is hard enough as it is. If partners aren't on the same page publicly, it leaves room for all the nosy nobodies who claim to know better for your baby. A unified front is essential to a clear message for both your child and others. Here are some ways to hone that message:

1. Back your baby mama/daddy: It's important to demonstrate agreement in front of others and have each other's backs. Even if you're not 100% sold on their decision leave that discussion for a more private time.

2. Confess to disagreeing (behind closed doors): No couple sees child care the same way all the time. Have an honest discussion with your partner about compromising on the way to raise your kid and what you want for them in life.

3. Share your observations: Talk about the time spent caring for your children and what you've observed about them. As different people you'll likely pick up on different aspects of what the kids' need. By sharing this with your partner you'll merge perspectives and have an easier time finding common ground.

Unified fronts in parenting are greatly important. How do you and your co-parent stay on the same page? Share your comment below.

Celebrity Baby News: 'Bachelor' Stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. & Lauren Burnham Welcome a Baby Girl

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, Bachelor stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. and Lauren Burnham are parents. According to People.com, Luyendyk confirmed on Wednesday that the pair welcomed their first child together, a beautiful baby girl. After meeting and falling in love on The Bachelor, the celebrity couple has maintained their relationship in the public eye throughout the pregnancy, although they have not yet released the baby's name.

The latest celebrity baby news is that this Bachelor couple welcomed a baby daughter. What are some ways to work on your relationship while at the same time having a young child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful gift, but that does not mean being a parent with young children is easy. Add the stress of now having a young child who solely relies on their parents to your relationship and you might find yourself asking how your relationship will survive. Cupid has some advice to keep your relationship working after having kids:

1. Have adult conversations: Just because you have a child doesn't mean all of your conversations have to revert to baby talk. You still need to communicate with each other, and as much as your young child is a very important part of your lives, they cannot be the only thing you discuss. Don't cut out your conversations just because you have a child, even if time alone is limited just have your conversations in front of your child because they will likely interrupt even if you try to take a moment and step out of the room.

2. Work as a team: It is important for both parties in a relationship to remember that you both had a child, and that means sharing more than those adorable baby grins. It means that you need to share the work with each other. You both have to help with the fun parts and the bad parts like when they have a meltdown. Be a united front when your child is having a tantrum because it will only add to your stress if you are not on the same team.

3. You both deserve time out: Every parent needs an occasional break. A break from your partner and even the occasional break from your child. We all need a little me time now and again. Give each other that time out and away to just be alone and revel in their own thoughts. Even though this time alone may seem like a strange way to help work on your relationship, your partner will love you for offering them a break.

Cupid's Advice:

For a lot of couples like Arie and Lauren, a babymoon is the last chance to have a romantic getaway before the baby comes. Cupid is an expert on this and came up with some ideas:

1. A nature-filled babymoon: There's just something about pregnancy that makes a mom-to-be feel connected to nature. Search for a local area where you can rent a cabin in the woods or take a road trip along the countryside. This is sure to give you both a chance to relax and enjoy the last few months you'll have together as a couple before the baby comes.

Cupid's Advice:

The universe works in mysterious ways and sometimes two important people will come into your life all at once. It can be difficult to decide who you truly want to be with! Fortunately, Cupid has some tips on how to decide who to date:

1. Make a list: Yes, the old-fashioned pros and cons list. Sit down and deeply ponder what each of these people have to offer. How do they make you feel? Who do you get more excited to see? Do you have similar plans for the future? Take time to really think about it and you can even try to spend two consecutive days with each of them to explore the best qualities in each.

2. Stick to your instincts: Who do you feel more natural with? The best choice is the person who you can sit in silence with and still feel comfortable because your relationship just comes naturally. Be aware of these innate aspects. Also, try not to turn to multiple people for their opinions. Only you can determine what you truly desire. Listen to your heart.

3. Don't rush: Hopefully there is not anything binding you to make a decision right away. Things take time and as long as you are not tampering with anyone's trust, it is okay to keep going as you are until you realize who is truly the best fit for you.
