How do you prepare differently for a second baby than the first?

Cupid's Advice:

You can change a diaper in under a minute, you can diagnose what's wrong by the type of crying you hear, and you've tried just about every method there is to get your baby to fall asleep. With the second baby on the way you know exactly how to prepare, because let's face it, you're basically an expert.

1. You aren't giving in to all of the baby hysteria: Yes, all of the gadgets are cool, but do you really need a rocking chair for every room and a teething ring in every color? Now you aren't worried about having the baby's next four years of outfits together, and you realize that you have more time than you thought. This saves you money and energy from not obsessing over whether or not you have everything you need for your second child to be comfortable.

2. You're more relaxed with your birthing plan: You've been through it once before, and everything turned out okay. You are less stressed out about whether or not your hubby has all of the right attire packed in the over-night-bag, and you aren't putting the poor guy through as many "The baby is coming!" preparation drills. You're calm, cool, and collective, like every mother of two should be (Right?).

3. You know what moments are the most significant: Now that you've been through the process you've been able to reflect on what moments need the most attention. The first bath, the welcome home, the first time they sit up. These moments you're going to be able to point out to their big brother or sister, so they too will see how awesome it is to have another little one around the house. This is also a bonding moment between you and your oldest because they realize they get to be Mommy's assistant, and serve as a role model for their new sibling.

What are some ways to prepare your relationship for a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt that your relationship will change when you have a child. In order to avoid a negative impact, Cupid has some ways to prepare your relationship pre-baby:

1. Plan: Avoid being surprised by child-related obstacles as much as possible by doing the research you need to do before the baby is born. Make Daddy read the Daddy chapters in What to Expect While Expecting.

2. Strengthen your bond: Spend as much romantic and quality time together as possible pre-birth. Make sure your relationship is as strong as it can possibly be before your lives are changed forever.

3. Discuss expectations: Make sure that you both view raising a child in the same way. Determine what morals and values you plan on instilling so that you don't find out when it counts and fight about it.
