What do you do if your ex starts bashing you behind your back?

Cupid’s Advice:

Bashing your ex behind their back is about as about as low as you can go. The best you can do is ignore it and refrain from adding to the furry:

- 1. Take yourself out of the situation: If the gossip is so bad that you can’t just ignore it, get out of town for a while or try to be in a place void of your ex.
- 2. Don’t add fuel to the fire: The worst action you can take is to contact your ex and let them know how upset you are. It will just make matters worse and give them the satisfaction of knowing that they got to you.

3. Move on: Don't let the rumors and the hate stop you from moving on with your life and finding someone new.

How should you react when an ex gets serious with someone new?

Cupid's Advice:

>Although Hulk Hogan initially had some problems with his ex-wife's new – and much younger – love interest, he eventually supported the situation. While you might not agree with an ex's new choice in love, it's important to be the bigger person, and at the very least, keep things cordial.

1. Hey! No technology: Cryptic tweets and Facebook statuses are still obvious to anyone who knows you or your ex. If you have something to say and can't tell your ex in person, then don't post it on your profile where anyone can see it.

2. Be open: In the event that your ex still wants you in his or her life, you'll most likely meet the new partner. Don't back down from this situation, and be as open-minded as possible when meeting him or her.

3. Back off: Once the first encounter has happened and the new relationship is in full swing, let your ex be the one to determine where things go. You are not the one in the potentially fragile new relationship. Be as supportive as you can, and as involved as your ex wants you to be.
