The pair celebrated Thanksgiving together and shared the pics to prove it on WhoSay over the weekend. According to UsMagazine.com, they spent the holiday with some members of Vergara's family, and Vergara's photo caption was, "Giving thanks for a beautiful year and my loved ones!! Happy thanksgiving!!!!"

How do you know when to start celebrating holidays with your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

Taking the step to celebrate holidays you would traditionally spend with your family with your new partner is a big step. Cupid has some tips:

1. Assess the strength of your relationship: The last thing you want to do is celebrate a special day steeped in family tradition with someone who isn't going to be around very long. Make sure to assess your relationship, and make sure it's going to last ... at least for a while!

2. Follow your heart: Do you want to spend the holidays with your new partner? If, when you think about the holiday in question, you picture your new partner by yourself, that may be a sign he/she should be there.

3. Is your family okay with it?: Sometimes your new partner isn't the only one to consider. You've been spending holidays with your family a lot longer than you've been dating your new partner, so make sure to take their feelings into account, too.
