What are the best ways to come clean about your sexuality to friends and family?

Cupid’s Advice:

The nuclear family is changing, and more people have the confidence to come out about their sexual orientation. Cupid has some tips to help you be honest with your friends and family:

1. Friends: Coming out to your friends first will be good practice for when you tell your family. You’ll get an assortment of reactions, and you’ll be able to identify your true friends. It will be easier to tell your family once you already have a support system behind you.

2. Be ready: If you have gay friends that have already come out, they may pressure you to hurry and do the same. Wait until you're completely ready emotionally and mentally, so that the situation is handled the best it can be.

3. Confidence: Your biggest fear about coming out may be your friend's and family's reactions. If things take a turn for the worst, be patient and give them time to come to terms with the situation.
