The celebrity couple officially split in May of this year after 10 years of marriage.

In celebrity news, there's definitely some drama between these exes, who share three kids together. What are some ways to iron out parenting differences with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be difficult to navigate co-parenting with an ex, especially if you have differing opinions on many fronts. If you are looking for some ways to iron out parenting differences with your ex, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Establish predetermined rules: An easy way to prevent conflict or differences from arising in the future is to establish some predetermined rules. If you are against having your children featured on social media, or want a universal curfew for both of your houses, these are rules that can be established ahead of time. Be sure to keep these rules straightforward and collaborative to help eliminate as many parenting differences as possible.

2. Ask for permission: There will always be gray-area when it comes to parenting, whether you and your partner are still together or not. A great way to avoid differences is to simply ask for permission when you are unsure if what you're about to do will upset the other parent. The other person involved will appreciate the open communication and hopefully do the same when faced with a situation they are unsure of.

3. Discuss differences privately: While it can be frustrating to navigate parenting differences, especially when they are repetitive issues, it's important to discuss these differences privately. Opening up your conflicts to many other people, such as posting on social media, will only add unnecessary tension to the strained relationship and make it harder to iron out differences in the future.

In celebrity break-up news, Brian Austin Green and Megan Fox are calling it quits. How do you know your relationship is beyond saving?

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships are bound to go through up and downs, which makes it hard to know when you should let go. For some clarity on when your relationship is beyond help, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Is your partner being faithful?: If your partner truly loves you, they won't be unfaithful. If they are cheating on you or being dishonest, then they don't respect you enough to tell you that they don't want to be with you. And, in that case, there is no point trying to fix the relationship because you deserve someone that respects you enough to be faithful.

2. Are you happy?: Your partner is supposed to make you happy. So, if you feel that that you've been unhappy lately, then that's a sign that something isn't working out. You should get to the bottom of your unhappiness, and if your partner is at the root of your unhappiness, then it's time to part ways.

In celebrity news, Brian Austin Green came forward with a cryptic post, potentially referencing his wife Megan Fox after she was spotted with another man. What do you do if you suspect your partner is being unfaithful?

Cupid's Advice:

Infidelity can plague and ultimately ruin a relationship especially if one partner finds out about the other's bad behavior. If you suspect your significant other of cheating, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Talk to them about it: Before you draw any conclusions, you need to have a chat with your partner. Something you may have seen or heard could have been misinterpreted or only a portion of the full story. While this is an extremely emotional situation, it's important that you leave your aggression at the door. Go into the conversation with a level head and open mind in order to understand the weight of what your partner has to say.

2. Analyze the situation: Once you've heard your partner out, it's up to you to decide what to do with that information. Take some time to think about the situation and your feelings for this person. Is this something you're willing to work through? Can your relationship move past this? Once trust is broken in a relationship it can be very difficult to get back to where you both were. Even though you may love this person, you need to put your mental health first. Decide if this relationship is worth repairing or if it's a better decision to move on.

Celebrity Diets: 5 Celebrity-Approved Diets to Achieve Your Summer Body

By

Jessica Gomez

Summer is here, and some of us have been procrastinating on getting in shape for fun in the sun, or maybe are just not quite there yet. Dieting is a challenge for most of us, so it's important to find one that is right for you. Some research suggests that choosing a diet you can stick to is more important than which diet you choose. Consistency is key, so choosing the most realistic diet for yourself is essential in reaching your goal.

Not every diet works for everyone, so here are five celebrity diets to choose from to lose weight. Let the diet and fitness tips begin!

Try one, try some, or try all of these celebrity diets! All of these diets are celebrity-approved and vegan-friendly! Some are full plans, and others are tips you can incorporate into your own diet:

1. Hot Lemon Water: Drink it right after waking up. Many celebrities have tried this tactic – Elle MacPherson, Lauren Conrad, Beyoncé, Gwyneth Paltrow, and Miranda Kerr are a few! The diet consists of a simple daily routine: drinking a cup of warm water with at least one tablespoon of fresh lemon juice. Lemon juice is highly acidic, so the mixture of it with warm water helps digestion by kick starting it early in the morning. For even better results, drink a cup before each meal instead of just before breakfast.

Related Link: Celebrity Chef Recipes to Help You Eat Healthy This Year

2. Master Cleanse: This is an all-liquid diet. Beyoncé did a master cleanse, while incorporating cayenne lemon water into her all-liquid diet. You can also try juicing as a master cleanse. Make some at home or get some from your nearest juice bar. Juice fasting is a good way to lose weight because you can receive the raw nutrients of vegetables and fruits, and since it's in liquid form, you digest it much easier. See the pounds fall right off!

3. Baby Food Diet: To some this may sound gross and to others, yummy. Baby food is no longer just for babies! The diet is based on eating baby food as your first two meals of the day and then eating a healthy dinner. Baby food is low in calories and is easy to digest. About 14 jars of baby food, up to 75 calories each (the less the better), should replace breakfast and lunch. For dinner, it's your choice! To aim for a healthy dinner, just try to lay off of anything fried or high in sugar, carbs, or salt. Celebrities like Lady Gaga and Camila Alves have tried this diet!

Related Link: Celebrity Chef Recipe: Meal-planning Made Delicious

4. Macrobiotic Diet: This strict diet is pretty famous due to Madonna. Meat, dairy, eggs, and wheat are all excluded from your meals for this diet. Other foods are fair game, like brown rice and other whole grains such as barley, millet, oats, and quinoa. The diet encourages "sea vegetables" as well. What are sea vegetables? Arame, nori, kombu, and kelp are few vegetables originating from the sea. These lower cholesterol, detoxify your body, and fights constipation and aging as well.

5. Apple Cider Vinegar Shots: Before every meal, take a shot of apple cider vinegar, measuring to around a teaspoon. Celebrities like Megan Fox have tried this diet. If you feel like you can't take the shot neat, you can mix two teaspoons into water. If the taste is still too unpleasant for you, you can add a sweetener like honey or maple syrup. Of course, neat shots and diluting the vinegar in water are more effective. This diet takes time – you must take it consistently over a long period of time. The acetic acid has fat-burning properties that influence your fat metabolism, stopping your body from storing fat, and instead using it as a form of energy.

There's another celebrity baby in the mix for Megan and Brian! What do you do if you find yourself pregnant and in the midst of a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy can cause a shift in a relationship, and it's not always positive. It's one thing when you decide to have a child together, but when you realize you're pregnant in the midst of a split, it can get dicey. Cupid is here to help:

1. Communicate: Weigh your options with your partner (or ex-partner) and decide how best to handle it. Raising a child together is a big step, especially if you aren't on the best terms. Understand that you have other options, but don't make any decisions without them.

Relationship Advice: Mending a Split Like Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green

By Dr.

Jane Greer

After five years of celebrity marriage, Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green had decided to call it quits. However, apparently their differences are reconcilable – the celebrity couple has reunited and is moving back in together. Sometimes it can be very helpful when two people take some time apart to evaluate how they feel about each other, and to sort out what is really important to both of them.

In the face of baby number three on board, it looks like Fox and Green have decided to join forces to work on their marriage and see if it can, in fact, work on take two.

Similarly, Patrick Dempsey and his wife recently put the brakes on their celebrity divorce. And you don't have to be married to give love a second chance. Courtney Cox and her boyfriend are back together after calling off their engagement late last year.

Related Link: Megan Fox Reveals Third Pregnancy

There are many things that can drive a couple toward a breakup. Underscoring most separations are feelings of disappointment, anger, and the idea that there was something you couldn't get beyond, some impassable issue, an irreconcilable difference for which there is no clear middle ground or answer. The anger itself can make it impossible to get along, either leading to too much fighting or a cold war distance between you, both of which can bring your sex life to a complete stop. For some people, the decision to end the relationship seems like the only path out of the hopelessness and unhappiness one or each partner is experiencing. Breaking up can appear to be a way out of the stress and on the road to a better place.

That said, love is a funny thing. Just because you aren't getting along doesn't necessarily mean you have stopped loving or feeling attracted to your partner. In addition to that, some space might infuse those feelings with new life while giving you a fresh perspective on what you can and can't tolerate in your life. In other words, even though an end to your connection might seem freeing at first, it might ultimately prove to be complicated, difficult, and lonely. Suddenly those weekend trips to see his mother don't seem like that much of a sacrifice, or the fact that she chooses to go to the gym most nights instead of eating dinner with you might not leave you feeling so abandoned as long as she comes home after. Time apart allows you to evaluate what is important, and can give you the chance to decide if what once felt untenable and unacceptable might suddenly become manageable in the face of what you really have to lose. Taking a break can give you a chance to get a new outlook, while letting the anger subside. You can cool down and bring some objectivity back into your relationship.

If your relationship feels like it is at a standstill and is steeped in feelings of resentment and disappointment try this relationship advice: instead of making the decision to end it for good, consider ending it for now. It's never easy saying goodbye. Watching the moments become faint memories, slowly fading into oblivion. Just because things may be getting more difficult, doesn't mean you have to give up the life you starting building with someone. Cupid is here to share some ways with you:

1. Go on a private getaway together: Remove the stressful demands of everyday life and go to a place where you can just focus on each other. Taking time out of a busy schedule is often the best medicine.

2. Find common goals: The aim is for both of you to share what you want your life to be about, where you want to end up and what these things mean to you. Look for anything that's common between the two of you and talk about ways to work toward that aspiration together.

3. Communicate problems and differences: Bring any issues to the surface to see if they can be fixed before walking away. Suppressing your feelings can be detrimental, not only to the relationship, but your internal disposition. Communication is key.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Megan Fox, Trai Byers and Selena Gomez

By Shoshi

In the latest celebrity news, these famous couples have made headlines, whether it be Megan Fox's rumored divorce, the Empire stars secret wedding, and Selena Gomez's not-so budding relationship. Whose stepping out in Hollywood this time around hand in hand? Check out my predictions for these three celebrity couples and find out what's next in their love lives.

Celebrity Couples Predictions: Celebrity Relationships That May or May Not Last

Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green: When Megan Fox started showing a baby bump, the press went crazy speculating over who the "baby daddy" could be. Since Fox filed for divorce from Brian Austin Green last August, technically, the baby could be anybody's. But I never doubted that the baby was Green's. This famous couple has been on a roller coaster ride since they got together. Fox and Green used to break up and get back together all the time before they got married. The new addition to their family was not planned, but they say all is good, they're happy now and plan to see where it all goes. Neither one of them were dating anyone else and they still lived in the same house. My prediction is that Fox and Green will not file for celebrity divorce. It may be bumpy between them every now and then, but their spiritual connection remains. My relationship advice to Fox is take a month or two vacation from Green every so often. That seems to do the trick when it comes to rekindling their love.

Trai Byers and Grace Gealey: Two stars from Empire, Trai Byers and Grace Gealey, got married in a quiet ceremony in the Cayman Islands. You could say that it was a whirlwind romance since they had a short and quick courtship. Will they last? Right now it looks good. The Hollywood couple have the same ideals when it comes to marriage and family. Around their fifth year of marriage will be a time of make it or break it. Oddly, none of their co-stars from Empire were invited to the celebrity wedding, because they wanted to keep the wedding small. That lets me know that the rumors are true. Byers is not happy to be on the show and there have been rumors circulating that he wants to quit. By the end of the year, let's say around November, there will be celebrity news that the pair is expecting their first child. They will have two kids together, a boy and a girl. After Empire, Gealey will focus on being mother and wife while Byers brings home the bacon.

Selena Gomez and Charlie Puth: Anytime Selena Gomez talks to anyone of the opposite sex, it causes a stir. This time around she is being paired with Charlie Puth. Puth does not have nearly enough swagger for Gomez. She likes bad boys and men with an edge. Puth is as wonder bread as they get. He's talented but a bore. Gomez needs a guy that matches her fire and passion. If anything is going on with Puth, it's simply a friends with benefits situation. This rumored relationship has no steam. I actually see Gomez involved with an actor a little bit older. This new celebrity couple should blossom during the summer. Puth will keep having make out sessions with starlets.

Hollywood Couple Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green Separate

By

Mackenzie Scibetta

It's official! Another celebrity divorce is soon to be in the books, as Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green have called it quits. According to UsMagazine.com, the couple is breaking up after an impressively long Hollywood romance of 11 years together. They were married for five years and have two children together, Noah and Bodhi. Fox and Green spoke numerous times about the highs and lows of parenthood, even once saying that the most important part of a relationship and love life is to "respect each other as parents". Ironically,

Fox told reporters in August 2014, “I don’t want to be boastful and say that we would never divorce, but I can’t imagine a scenario we couldn’t work through...”

This Hollywood couple joined the ranks of celebrity break-ups this summer. What are some ways to balance parenting with your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Even Hollywood couples aren’t immune to the struggles of parenthood, so when you feel overwhelmed, it’s helpful to remember you’re not alone. Everyone wants to have it all, so Cupid has some tips to help you live a more harmonious life:

1. Family activities: An easy fix to balancing time between your lover and children is to combine the time you have with each and host a family outing. Heading to the zoo, traveling to an amusement park or having a picnic are all perfect ideas that the whole family can have fun with.

Related Link: Celebrity Divorce: Terrence Howard Splits From Wife No. 3

2. Set aside time for date night: The stress you get from taking care of children can put a damper on your relationship. This is why it’s crucial you and your loved one to set aside a day each week where you spend a few hours only with each other. It doesn’t have to be an extravagant night on the town. A simple Netflix marathon after the kids are asleep or a walk in the park is enough to enjoy each others’ company.

3. Help one another: Both of you in the relationship need to be equally committed to helping out. Contributing even in the smallest way, such as packing a lunch, can make all the difference and can help prevent many future fights. At the end of the day, don't forget to always thank your loved one for just being there. A simple "thank you" can help encourage more help in the future.

Megan Fox: “It’s So Hard To Be A Working Mom”

By

Shannon Seibert

Hot momma Megan Fox gave birth to her second son Bodhi just five months ago, and she’s already set to hit the big screen on August 8th in Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. The actress, 28, is also the mother to 22-month old son Noah and wife to Brian Austin Green. Fox recently caught up with Celebrity Baby Scoop to talk all things motherhood, expressing her joy on being a parent.

CBS: Do you feel like a mom?

MF: “I’ll have these moments like the other day – three days ago actually – I was holding Bodhi, and Noah was running around. I was trying to manage both of them because my husband wasn’t feeling well. My sister was with me, and we were talking. We were having some sort of theological discussion and Bodhi peed through his diaper and onto me. I was so exhausted that I didn’t even bother looking for a wipe to clean me up. I was soaking wet, but I just let it air dry. I was too tired to be bothered with cleaning up my clothes or even my hands. My priority is making sure he’s fine, and if he’s fine, then whatever. That’s sort of one of those moments when you realize how much your life has changed – especially for me because, once upon a time, I was a germaphobe! The idea of that would have like sent me hiding under the covers. Now I just embrace it and wear it, and it is what it is.”

Related Link: Daniel Radcliffe Says He Loves the ‘Idea of Lots of Kids’

CBS: How has motherhood changed you?

MF: “From the moment I gave birth and when I was in the hospital with him, even when he would sleep, I wouldn’t sleep. I would wake up every 10 minutes and look at him just to make sure he was still breathing. I think that was the first time I was just like, I love something so much that I will never be the same again. I will never be relaxed again because I will always be worried about him and hoping he’s OK and safe and happy.”

CBS: How exactly do you juggle work and motherhood?

MF: “I’ve never been an extraordinarily ambitious girl or career-oriented but – especially when I got pregnant with my first son and now my second – it’s so hard to be a working mom, especially when your heart is not in your work, when your heart is with your family. I have to work sometimes! I have to make at least one movie a year because I have to have a future and I have to be able to pay their way through college and be able to provide for them whatever they need in the future. I do need to work, and I do need to leave them. What that comes down to in terms of making movies is I'm looking for movies that shoot in Los Angeles – there are very few of them. I'm looking for movies or projects where I'm part of the ensemble so I can shoot in and out in 10 to 20 days. It's all about time and trying to spend as little time away from my kids as possible."

Related Link: Alicia Keys Is Pregnant With Second Child

What's it like having two kids under 2?

MF: "It's total chaos, obviously! Before you have kids, you really do not understand how much work it is and how consuming it is. Then you have one and you're like, my baby is my whole world – especially if you're trying to do it yourself. Every moment of the day is dedicated to this one baby. And then all of a sudden, you have two babies. What they need is so different. When I'm alone with them, it's really hard to manage because I also don't let them watch TV. It's not like I'm going to set Noah in front of the television so I can take care of Bodhi. I have to figure out how to incorporate Noah into the process and have him help me take care of Bodhi, and make sure he doesn't get jealous, and nobody's neglected, and everybody's needs are being met! It's difficult to manage that way, but also emotionally, I think for me at least as a mom, it's hard because I don't feel like I'm ever giving either one of them 100 percent of my attention or 100 percent of myself, so I carry a lot of guilt. Do they each understand how special they are and how much I love them and are they understanding that they're unique? It's hard to make each one feel like an individual when you have to raise them together and manage them together all the time."

Surviving Holidays as a Stepparent

By

Michele Sfakianos, RN, BSN for Hope After Divorce

It doesn't have to be difficult.

A stepparent who has different holiday traditions from the rest of the family, especially a stepparent with no child of their own, can feel left out of the celebration. All family traditions matter, and it's vital for everyone to be considered when planning holidays.

Actress Megan Fox is stepmom to hubby Brian Austin Green's son, Kassius. Word has it that she is a stepmother to the fullest extent. She has happily looked after Kassius since he was three years old. Fox is a good example of a stepparent who most definitely includes her stepchild in all holiday celebrations as well as every aspect of their family's life. It should be this way for all children in blended families.

As a stepparent, here are a few things you should consider when planning holidays:

Related Link: Reinventing Home for the Holidays

Who is going to spend the holiday where? Holiday plans can be predetermined by custody or shared parental agreements. If you have the flexibility of options, discuss them with the children and keep their desires in mind. Some families split up the holidays each year: "I'll take Halloween and you take Thanksgiving." Or some try to do both: "I'll take Christmas Eve" (Mom) and "I'll take Christmas Day" (Dad). Several people celebrate twice, once with each parent.

Where will the gifts be opened? Parents who purchase presents for their children like to see their reactions when the child is opening the gift. How would you feel if you didn't get to see their surprise? Make sure you think of all parties involved when making plans.

Watch out for trouble on the stepsibling front when the kids have other plans. Stepchildren can feel left out if there are "whole" kids in the picture. Try to keep the presents even and have the major festivities take place when all the children are present.

Don't expect holidays to be as you had in the past. Be aware the loss of the old ways of doing things is a disappointment for the kids and for you. Discuss how holidays were for each of you and have each person define which rituals are most important to them. This can be hard to hear, but it's important. Incorporate a few of these old rituals into your new holiday.

Create new holidays. If all the holidays seem to be taken up with stress and other people's claims ("But Thanksgiving is mine!"), you can always select another day (Cinco de Mayo, Arbor Day, Stepparents Day) to become an annual blow-out holiday. Acknowledge you are starting from scratch. There is a new excitement about having the opportunity to create holidays as you would like them to be. Aim for creating your own holiday spirit (with additions) and welcoming kids into it.

If you won't have the children for the holiday, create an alternate festivity for yourselves. Don't stay home and mope. Don't force false cheer. Make new memories. Get creative. Plan ahead and don't let yourself feel lonely or disappointed.

Related Link: How to Cooperatively Co-Parent After Separation or Divorce

Here are a few more simple tips to keep in mind as well:

- The first few years, try to lower your expectations.
- Don't assume holidays will be calm and peaceful if daily life is full of conflict. There is no holiday from mixed feelings, and you cannot force fun, laughter, and family spirit.
- The winter holidays are traditionally a time of family togetherness. You and your partner can have private time too, but always take the children and stepchildren into consideration.
- Take into account the religions of those involved. It's important to keep family traditions alive with certain cultures.
- Be flexible and encourage flexibility.

– If things are tense, do not force get-togethers or minimize the amount of time spent together.

No matter the holiday, remember to celebrate. You are a real family!
