There may be a new celebrity baby for Lance and Michael this year! What are some ways to know when the right time is to have children?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding to have children is a big step in your relationship. How do you know if you are ready? Well, no one is ever fully ready, but here are some signs that can indicate that you are prepared enough to jump in to this new exciting experience:

1. You are financially stable: Before having a baby, you need to make sure you are ready in all aspects, especially financial. Babies are expensive! If you are at a stable point in your career and you can care for your baby without having to worry about finances, then that is amazing.

'N Sync Alum Lance Bass Marries Michael Turchin

By Maggie Manfredi

Wedded bliss! According to UsMagazine.com, Lance Bass married fiancée Michael Turchin in L.A. on Saturday, Dec. 20. The pair tied the knot at the Park Plaza Hotel and had a quick ceremony. For personal details, you can search the hashtag “#LanceLovesMichael,” which Bass used to show his excitement leading up to the big day.

How do you decide how long to make your wedding ceremony?

Cupid’s Advice:

Your wedding ceremony is just that: yours! That being said, timing is a major decision you have to make when confirming the details of your big day. Cupid has some factors to consider:

1. Who will be: Keep in mind the amount of guests when deciding on the ceremony length. If there are a ton of people or a very small group, that may change the way you plan your ceremony. Think about who you want involved with the ceremony too; if you have one speaker versus three, that’ll impact the amount of time it takes to say your vows.

2. Where it is: If it's a hot August afternoon or a windy beach day, make sure to take that into account. Having guests who are uncomfortable – or a bride or groom who is uncomfortable, for that matter! – will spoil the mood.

3. What traditions you want to include: If you have plans to do something religious or traditional with your bridal party, don't get caught up on time. This is your one opportunity to have the celebration of love that you want, so do what makes you happy.

Lance Bass Proposes to Michael Turchin Again on Anniversary of Engagement

By Kaley Allard

'N SYNC alum Lance Bass has this adorable thing down pat! Bass, 35 proposed to fiancée, Michael Turchin on the anniversary of their first engagement. UsMagazine.com reports that Bass gave Turchin a gold band complete with black diamonds this time around, which Turchin then posted on Instagram with the caption, "Who gets proposed to a second time on the first anniversary of the first proposal?? This guy!!!" There is no denying that the couple is adorable, but it will be even cuter when we finally see them walk down the aisle – let's hear the wedding bells!

What are three special ways to declare your love to your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding to declare your love and propose to the one you love is a very big decision, one that comes with many things to consider. You want to make the moment magical and one to remember, so here are three pieces of advice from Cupid on how to make the proposal special, not sloppy:

1. Don't go too big: If you are preparing to propose to your partner, you may think it best to do so in a very big way. There are too many videos of an individual proposing at a stadium or other large gathering and the proposal fails. It may be that the significant other is not ready, or that the way the proposal happened made them uncomfortable. Instead consider something more intimate that involves just the two of you.

2. Be creative: If you are the one proposing, either man or woman you should still get on your knee, it's tradition! But that does not mean that you do not have to be creative. Consider making the proposal into a scavenger hunt, or make it a surprise prize at the end of a game. Being creative does not mean putting the ring in food or drink – no one wants to put on a dirty engagement ring!

3. Pick a memorable location: Whether it be the place you had your first kiss, first date or first place you said 'I love you.' Not only will your partner be surprised by this location he or she will be even more touched that you remembered where these monumental events occurred.

How do you know when you're ready to get married?

Cupid's Advice:

You know you're in love, but you're not sure if you're ready to make such a huge commitment to your partner. Marriage is a big step and it's not something that should be taken lightly. If you're certain that your honey is the one you can't imagine spending your life without, Cupid has some tips:

1. Think about what's important: Before you start planning your dream wedding, it's crucial to know if you and your significant other will match well in the long run. What are his/her long-term goals? How will the two of you solve any future issues? Does your sweetie want kids? It's not a good idea to enter a marriage without knowing the answers to these questions. Some of the feedback you get from your partner may change with time, but for now, you'll need a general idea of how compatible the two of you will be once you've tied the knot.

2. Your loved ones approve: You can't get married to someone your family and friends don't love just as much as you do. Well, you could, but don't count on a big turnout at your wedding. Choosing someone to spend the rest of your life with is a big deal and your loved ones should be included on your journey to find someone special. After all, your family knows you better than you know yourself. If they don't dig your partner, there might be a reason why.

3. You make each other better: You and your honey are two peas in a pod and it shows whenever you're out in public together. Does your partner give you that little extra incentive to be better as a person? Are you nicer to others? Has your patience rubbed off on your boo? Marriage might be in your near future if the two of you bring out the best in each other.
