

The Real Life 'Desperate Housewife' Michaela Salahi Says Love with Journey Neal Schon Is True

D.C. Housewives star Michaela Salahi tried to prove that true love never dies. Sadly, it was at the expense of her current ex , Tareq Salahi. Now, Michaela and Journey singer Neal Schon have picked up right where they left off after the rocker invited the reality star couple to his concert in Virginia not long ago. E! Online reports that the pair have had a secret relationship via phone up until their recent reunion, as the two had met nearly 15 years ago originally.

The love-struck couple are excited to have finally revealed the nature of their relationship to the media. Schon exclaimed, "I'm very happy, very happy after waiting for her for 15 years." Salahi admitted to dating both Schon and her ex-husband back in the late 90's. However, after being diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis, she decided upon a more settled lifestyle with her now ex. The two both remember the night of the concert as a whirlwind of emotions that ended in Michaele going home with her husband out of respect, but then packing up her belongings and heading out not even two weeks later.

How do you prove you're in love to family and friends?

Cupid's Advice:

It's important not to try too hard when trying to make your relationship believable. Everyone has different ways of expressing love, so it should come off naturally:

- 1. Too much PDA: A lot of kissing and unnecessary touching is not the best way to prove your love. It makes it seem as if you're trying too hard. A quick peck here and there is cute, but try to keep your hands to yourselves.
- 2. Body language: It's is easy to know how a couple feels toward each other by observing their body language. Make sure to lean into your partner when speaking to them. A few coy smiles and longing gazes won't hurt either.
- 3. Declare it: Telling your friends and family that you love your significant other is always a sure way to let them know how you feel. They may not be able to notice the subtleties of love between you and your partner, but a verbal message comes across loud and clear.

DC Housewives Stars Michael & Tareq Salahi Back to Bankruptcy

Wacky                      Real

Housewives of DC couple Michael and Tareq Salahi, known for questionably attending the White House State Dinner, have filed for bankruptcy yet again. Their company, America's Polo Cup Inc., went under late last month, according to RadarOnline. Tareq Salahi was president of the company that currently owes $320,000 to a catering company that has sued for non-payment, reports the Northern Virginia Daily. Tareq was also the president of Oasis Winery, which went into bankruptcy last year. It looks like the Salahi's are not having good luck in the business world lately!How do you support a partner who isn't good with money matters?

Cupid's Advice:

Money is one of the worst relationship killers. Cupid has some advice on how to deal with your partner's not-so-frugal ways:

1. Talk about it: It's important to discuss what both you and your partner value when it comes to your finances. Serious talks about money are far from romantic, but it's best to get it over with so that financial issues won't haunt your romance down the line.

2. Budget: Working with your partner to realistically plot out your expenses is absolutely necessary. Being surprised by a sudden lack of money is never a good thing. Sometimes luxurious candle light dinners or expensive vacations will have to be put aside, but in the scheme of things, it's better than being broke!

3. Work together: Maybe you've discovered that your partner is not as good with handling money as you are. Take charge! Let that be a contribution to the strength of your relationship. Just because your partner isn't great with finances doesn't mean he or she doesn't have plenty of other qualities to bring to the table.
