Celebrity News: How Michelle Williams Found Love After Heath Ledger's Death

By Rachel Sparks

Is it possible to find love after loss? The late heartthrob Heath Ledger's wife, Michelle Williams, opened up to ENews on the ten-year anniversary of her late husband's death.

According to Williams, the celebrity news of her Ledger's overdose became her hell. Williams's relationship advice: keep moving forward. When she had given up on the fairytale of a happily ever after, dating celebrity ex Jason Segel, Williams finally found the one. In a very quiet relationship avoiding being part of celebrity gossip, Williams and Harvard graduate Andrew Youmans, a New York financial consultant enjoy vacations with Williams's daughter Matilda.

In celebrity news, Michelle Williams finally found a fairytale love 11 years after Heath Ledger's death. What are some ways to move on after a loved one?

Cupid's Advice:

The celebrity news about Heath Ledger's death had us all heartbroken, as if the teenage version of ourselves had been his wife. Dealing with our own losses are even more difficult, a battle that is both exhausting and daunting. When you've lost everything, how do you move forward? Cupid's Pulse has taken some love advice from Michelle Williams:

- 1. Focus on what matters: Matilda, Williams and Ledger's daughter, grounded the single mother in what mattered: Williams had to move forward in order to raise her. You and your lost loved one may not have had kids, but there was some sort of legacy left behind. Honoring someone's memory through what mattered to the both of you can ground you in the present, help you accept the loss, and start healing. Whether it's children, hiking in Peru, or building birdhouses, there is some way to stay busy and move forward while honoring your loved one.

2. Let go of expectations: Like Williams, we all have expectations of love. When our partner dies, our perception of love and the world shifts drastically. Sometimes, we lose hope. Sometimes, we hold onto something false. Don't expect to find anyone like the person you had; they were one of a kind, after all, but realize that there is still something and someone special out there for when you're ready.

Celebrity Wedding: Michelle Williams Is Engaged to Andrew Youmans

By Carly Horowitz

It's official! Latest celebrity news reveals that even though Michelle Williams has made great efforts to keep her celebrity relationships and life in general on the down-low since the death of the father to her daughter, Heath Ledger, multiple sources have confirmed that Michelle Williams is engaged to Andrew Youmans. According to UsMagazine.com, Williams has been sporting a heart-shaped diamond ring over the past two months, but has brushed off speculation. Now, this celebrity wedding has been confirmed. We have another celebrity wedding to look forward to!

Michelle Williams has kept her upcoming celebrity wedding news under wraps. What are some reasons to keep your relationship on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

Relationships are usually between two individuals. It gets complicated sometimes when other people try to interfere. Sometimes it's beneficial, but other times it's better to just keep your business between you and your significant other. Cupid has some reasons why you could be keeping your relationship on the down-low:

1. Not everyone will be happy for you: The public may judge as people are getting into relationships very soon after the end of a previous relationship. As long as you are happy with your partner, that is all that matters and you don't owe reasoning to anyone else.

2. Less people will interfere: Sometimes you just need time for yourself. By keeping your relationship on the down-low, you can minimize unwanted opinions about how you are conducting your life. Guidance is great, but true personal growth comes from making your own mistakes from decisions within.

3. The breakup is easier: When getting into a relationship after previous tragic events in life, it is sometimes harder to keep a steady relationship. Instead of having multiple people trying to keep up with your status, it is easier to just do your own thing and if relationships end, less gossip will arise because many people won't know about it in the first place.

Celebrity News: Celine Dion Receives Support From Celebs After Husband's Death

By Jasmine Igwegbe

In latest celebrity news, Celine Dion received support from her fellow celebrities after her husband, Rene Angelil, passed away as a result of a long battle with cancer recently. According to UsMagazine.com, Dion received condolences from celebs “including Reba McEntire, Josh Groban and Michelle Williams. They extended their prayers to Dion via social media.” A friend in grief is a friend in need.

What are some ways to help a friend through the loss of their partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dealing with tragedy, especially when it has to do with your partner, is incredibly hard to handle. Watching a friend go through it can make you feel helpless. Cupid has some tips:

1. Offer your support: Let your friend know that you are there for them no matter what. Never make them feel as if they’re alone, but also give them room to breathe. Let them call the shots, and just be there for them.

Michelle Williams Steps Out with Rumored Boyfriend Dustin Yellin

By Petra Halbur

Four months after her break up with Jason Segal, Michelle Williams may have found new love. Williams was spotted hanging out in Brooklyn with artist, Dustin Yellin, in early June.

According to UsMagazine.com, the couple attended a child's birthday party together along with Williams' 7-year old daughter, Matilda. Williams has been very vocal about her priorities as a mother. "Raising the kid is the work, yeah," Williams said in April. "That's my side project and my center project."

What are some ways to debut a new relationship to family and friends?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be intimidating to introduce your new boyfriend or girlfriend to friends and family. Cupid has some ideas to help:

- 1. Make an event out of it: Invite your beau to join you and your friends for a night out. The mutual activity will generate casual conversation and ease nerves.
- 2. Don't put it off: It's difficult to determine when to open up about your relationship, but try not to wait too long. After a while, folks will begin to wonder if you have something to hide.
- 3. Don't build him/her up: Let your family and friends come to their own conclusion about your significant other. Jabbering on about how great he or she is will only make you seem desperate for approval.

Relationship Advice: 7 Secrets to Make a Long-Distance Relationship Smokin' Hot

By Dr. Diana Kirschner

You meet a hottie and it is a glorious, soul mate relationship. You are dreaming about an amazing future with this great match, who definitely feels like the One. The only problem is, he or she lives a long way away from where you are, and you are afraid that this will be the kiss of death for the whole relationship.

Your fear is well founded—long-distance relationships have lots of built-in obstacles. Consider what recently happened to Michelle Williams and Jason Segel. Jason couldn't let go of his successful LA life to come and be with Michelle in Brooklyn. And by most reports, this played a big role in Michelle breaking up with him because she felt that in this kind of a distant situation she simply could not commit to him.

You wonder: Just how do you keep a long-distance relationship smokin' hot so you can have the happiest-ever-after you are dreaming about? Here are seven secrets:

1. Bookend your days with connection. Each morning and every night make sure you talk with your Beloved on the phone. This will cement you in as a regular part of their day.

2. Utilize technology. Use Skype or the phone strategically to bond with your partner and keep the spark alive.

Related: How to Find Love Online With Non-Traditional Dating Sites

3. Text or call throughout the day... so that you are in contact and talking about what is happening for each of you.

4. Take turns coming to stay with each other. During this time make sure you have a lot of fun and intimacy, which releases oxytocin, the bonding hormone. Over time make these visits longer so that you can see how you do as a couple when you are living together.

Related: Tips for Making a Long Distance Relationship Work

5. Be supportive. If your Beloved has a crisis, drop everything and be as supportive as possible. Show him or her that they come first in your life.

6. Consider making a sacrifice. If the relationship is growing for a year or more in a way that feels more intimate, committed and nourishing, consider making the sacrifice of giving up the life you have in order to move in with your long-distance partner. If you do this, take time to work out a contract about what your partner will do so that he or she is supporting you and making his or her own sacrifices to establish your new life together with the least stress possible for you.

7. Make it possible for your partner to move. If you do feel that the relationship has been developing well for a year or more, but moving in with your partner is not feasible: discuss with him or her what you would be willing to provide in terms of financial, emotional, networking, job search or other support if your partner would consider moving in with you or into housing together in your area.

When you use some of these tips, a long-distance relationship can work out to be your happiest-ever-after! So give it a try and see if you and your Beloved can grow together despite the obstacles involved. True lasting love is well worth it.

Relationship Advice: Can Love

Conquer ALL?

By Jane Greer, PhD for GalTime.com

Actors Michelle Williams and Jason Segal recently announced their official break-up after spending much of the last year trying to make their bi-coastal romance work. She lives in New York City with her seven-year-old daughter, Matilda, and he lives in Los Angeles. The couple cited busy schedules and irreconcilable distance as the reason for the end of their partnership. It raises the question, when is love not enough?

Many people would like to think that finding love is the answer to most problems, and, in the name of it, one or both people in a relationship should be willing to uproot their lives or let go of important aspects of their individual routines. Jason made numerous cross-country trips over the course of their connection. Michelle's waterfront loft in Brooklyn became his home away from home, and he could often be seen playing at a local playground with Matilda. But despite all of that, his life remained rooted in California, where his professional commitments run deep. If the reports are true, then in the end, the pull for each of them to hold onto their own lives won out over the desire to maintain their relationship. This may have surprised fans, and forces us to wonder, when is it time to make that hard call – to call things off?

Two people can be drawn to each other and still have strong personal or professional ties that don't suit the other person. What if you're committed to a neighborhood and everything that goes along with that, wanting to give your children stability? Or what if one person's job can be found in only one part of the country and he or she must live there, no questions asked? Or you are dealing with two different religions that initially didn't cause a problem, but as you begin to make a life together, you are looking to your partner to convert to your religion and they don't want to?

When it becomes a matter of feeling that you are being asked to literally give up your identity, core values, and beliefs, so that the necessary change is equivalent to losing yourself, then that is the point when compromise can instead become too much of a sacrifice. And if one does give up their sense of self, then what is relinquished for love can really take a toll with the relationship crumbling under the pressure and resentment.

By Michelle and Jason taking responsibility for their respective individual needs, they prevented this from happening. For them, dropping everything for love was not a viable option. And in the end it seems that Michelle didn't expect, or even want, Jason to leave his career to further immerse himself into her family. For them, sadly, love did not conquer the obstacles they faced.

Has distance ever ended a relationship for you?

Celebrity Couple: Michelle Williams and Jason Segel Call It Quits

By Andrea Surujnauth

Michelle Williams and Jason Segel have decided to end their long-distance relationship. According to UsMagazine.com, Williams and Segel called it quits earlier this month. Williams, actress in Oz the Great and Powerful, lives in New York with daughter Matilda, 7, from her relationship with the late Heath Ledger. Segel, star of How I Met Your Mother, lives in Los Angeles where his CBS sitcom is filmed. In March 2012, Us Weekly broke the news about their secret relationship, and the two were always extremely hush-hush about their romance. Their sudden split is apparently due to their distance from one another.

What are some things you can do to make your long-distance relationship stronger?

Cupid's Advice:

Long distance relationships are a real test of love. They can be very difficult and trying on a relationship. Luckily, Cupid is here with some advice on how to have a successful long-distance relationship.

1. Be on the same page: Make sure you both agree on the definition of "relationship" and identify what standards you need to uphold while away from one another. If you decide that you're exclusive, you need to agree on not dating other people and set ground rules on what is allowed and what isn't.

2. Bond: Try doing things together even though the two of you are apart. Watch your favorite television show while on the phone together. Make sure you chat with each other everyday; you can even talk while doing your day-to-day activities. Keep each other updated on what is new in your lives to help prevent you from growing apart despite the distance.

3. Skype: What a great invention! Skype is a program that allows you to talk, message and see one another over the Internet. You can download it on your computer or even on your smart phone. Think it can't possibly get any better? Well, Skype is free. Seeing each other will make you feel even closer.

Shrinkwrap: When Are You Exclusive?

By Jane Greer, Ph.D. for GalTime

Taking Your Relationship to the Next Level

From recent reports it seems that actors Michelle Williams and Jason Segel have quietly crossed that line between playing with the idea of being exclusive and committing to being a couple.

At a recent premiere party to celebrate Segel's film The Five-Year Engagement, they were seen holding hands and gazing into each other's eyes. They are both known for taking their time when it comes to romance. It raises the question, how does a hopeful pair get from one point to the next? When do you actually become an exclusive couple?

Related: 6 Things to NEVER Say to Your Man

One of my patients was pondering this recently, and she asked me about when it's appropriate to have the conversation and negotiate the terms of becoming a committed couple. I told her that in order to gauge that, you want to look at what is going on between the two of you.

Being exclusive is the exciting hill everyone wants to get over in a new, promising relationship. And there will be definite signs that you are successfully making that climb. One example might be if you begin to refer to each other, and to introduce each other, as boyfriend and girlfriend. Other clues are when you start to show your affection in public by holding hands and touching, making the statement that you belong together, or you start to say, "I love you." And the best indication of all is that you no longer want to date other people, or even leave that door open for the possibility. When it becomes clear that you are focusing your energy and heart on that one person, and that it is a mutual choice, that is a good time to check in to determine if you are now being exclusive.

Related: 5 Things to Give Him a Pass on this Summer

Once you decide you are each other's one and only, you will be able to usher in the emotional and sexual trust and safety that most people crave. You want "the talk" my patient was referring to, and even more important, the move toward steady dating, to be an acknowledgment of what is already happening between the two of you rather than a negotiation to put something in place, just as it seems to be for Williams and Segel.

Jason Segel Spends the Weekend with Michelle Williams and Matilda

Is Jason Segel finally serious in the dating world? The 32-year old actor has been playing daddy for 6-year old Matilda, Michelle Williams's daughter, ever since he and Williams became a couple. Segel, Williams and Matilda were spotted leaving the Broadway musical Jersey Boys before doing a little shopping together one afternoon. Later, they were all spotted having lunch in Brooklyn. Segel is showing a lot of commitment by acting as the father figure to Williams's little girl. A source for UsMagazine.com claims, "He's been doing all sorts of 'dad stuff' with her, like drawing and playing music." The two seem in love, and adding in a third for a trio doesn't seem to be a problem for their relationship.

How do you bond with your partner's child?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes relationships can get even more complicated by adding a child. Here are some ways to bond with your partner's child and help ease up that often-troubling situation:

1. Be honest with them: Children are curious, so if they're old enough to ask you personal questions, they most likely will. Tell them whatever they want to know about yourself, and be sure to be honest. It's likely to bring you two closer together.

2. Find things in common: Try to pick up on things that the child likes to do, and use that to bond with them. If they like sports or movies, take a day to do those things with them.

3. Include them on some of your couple's activities: Children always enjoy being included in any plans you have with their parent. Bring them along on some of your dates and make them family activities. You'll still have a romantic time while also being able to connect with your partner's child.

Michelle Williams and Jason Segel Take a Romantic Stroll in NYC

Michelle Williams seems to be no joke to the ever-so-comical Jason Segel. The two were seen strolling on quite the lovely day in downtown New York City last weekend. Williams was rocking a lightweight, white top and cut off jean shorts while Segel sported a button-down with pants. But this isn't the first time the two have been spotted spending quality time together. The stars were also caught getting cozy back in March. The news of their day out in NYC came just in time after a source told People just days before that Williams “hasn’t been this happy in forever” and Segel is “totally smitten” with the 31-year old actress. With that said, feelings seem to be running mutual with this unexpected couple.

What are some very basic yet extremely romantic date ideas?

Cupid’s Advice:

Romantic dates often keep the firing burning in both new and old relationships, but it is possible to keep them simple. Here are some great ways to have a relaxing, fun date still filled with romance:

1. Picnic in the park: Picnics in the park are always a fun, romantic idea. You don’t need a ton of candles or a tux and evening dress to create romance. The thoughtfulness behind the picnic speaks for itself.

2. Carnival trip: Going out to a great local carnival with your sweetie is perfect for a romantic night. Share a funnel cake and take a lovely ride on a ferris wheel with the lights shining all around you.

3. Drive-in movie: Take your honey to see a classic love story at the drive-in. The drive-in keeps the date personal and romantic.

Source Says Michelle Williams' Daughter 'Loves' Jason Segel

Despite some of his more humorous roles, according to sources and UsMagazine.com, Jason Segel is “ready to be a grown-up.” As he and Michelle Williams’ relationship goes more public, this is undoubtedly a good thing. Williams isn’t the only one enamored with the comedian-actor, as her daughter “loves Jason” and Jason Segel definitely knows how to “entertain children.” Having your partner’s kids like you, is definitely a good step toward a more serious relationship.

What are some ways to bond with your partner’s kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Once you start to get serious with a partner who has kids, it's crucial to start bonding with them too. Cupid shares some advice:

- 1. Ask them about themselves: Kids like to talk just like anyone, so ask them about their interests and get to know them.
- 2. Do what they want to do: Take them to the park, the mall or a concert. Do the things they want to do, and further build that relationship.
- 3. Be good to your partner: It might seem obvious, but be good to these kids' parent. They like when their parent is happy, and will automatically respect someone who can make that happen.

Michelle Williams and Jason Segel Show PDA at Movie Premiere

Everyone is talking about Hollywood's newest couple, Michelle Williams and Jason Segel. The two attended the premiere of Segel's new movie, The Five-Year Engagement at the Tribeca Film Festival. According to People, they didn't leave each other's side for the entire after party at the Museum of Modern Art. The couple looked very happy holding hands, snuggling and whispering sweetly to one another for the entire evening. When asked about his own potential engagement, Segel said, "My plan is to get her to marry me as quickly as possible before she finds out who I really am. I'll do it romantic, but I'll do it like over a three-day weekend. We'll meet on Friday, have our first date on Saturday, engaged on Sunday and married on Monday."

How do you know when it's OK to show PDA?

Cupid's Advice:

PDA is okay as long as it's done in a casual setting and isn't overdone. A kiss and a warm touch here and there is perfectly cute and acceptable, but once you feel the need to get a room, you need to tone it down. Cupid has some tips:

1. Stay away from PDA in a business setting: When you bring your partner to meet your co-workers or to the company holiday party, this is never the time for PDA. Keep it professional.

2. At the beach: No one can resist their partner in a swimsuit. So, PDA at the beach or poolside is perfectly acceptable. Feel free to hold hands, steal a kiss or wrestle in the waves.

3. After a big achievement: When your partner has just won an award or scored a point in a sports game, this is the perfect time for PDA. Show your congratulations and affection with a kiss.

Michelle Williams to Reportedly Avoid Heath Ledger Mistakes With Jason Segel

Michelle Williams is ready to get serious with new boyfriend Jason Segel. It's been a tough past couple of years for Williams, having mourned the death ex-fiance, Heath Ledger.

An insider told UsMagazine.com, "She is a romantic and always felt partly responsible for not being able to help Heath."

But, Segel has done the single mother some good, and now she's reportedly in love! The 5 Year Engagement star is ready to commit, and having learned from past mistakes with Ledger, the two are moving forward.

What are some ways past mistakes help future relationships?

Cupid's Advice:

The best part of a faulty past relationship, is that it's in the past. You now have control of your new relationships and know exactly what to avoid. Here are some ways past mistakes can help you in the future:

1. You know how to avoid silly arguments: From past relationships, you realize that all of the little fights you had were pointless, and you know to just avoid those all together in the future.

2. Improve communication: The biggest aspect of a relationship is communication. A lot of the time, arguments are started because there was a miscommunication. So in your new relationship, you know exactly how to say things and when to say them.

3. Don't let a relationship take over: As you can see from past faulty relationships, sometimes things just don't work out. Now you know to keep that balance between your normal life and your new beau.

What are some other things you can learn from past relationships? Share your ideas below.

Michelle Williams and Jason Segel: A Serious Couple?

It seems that things are heating up between My Week With Marilyn star Michelle Williams and actor Jason Segel ... and many people didn't see it coming. However, according to UsMagazine.com, friends close to the couple are surprised it didn't happen sooner. The couple have known each other for years and met through Williams's good friend Busy Philipps, who starred with Segel in Freaks and Geeks.

How do you know when your relationship has turned serious?

Cupid's Advice:

Even when you both having feelings for one another, labeling your relationship as "serious" can be difficult. Here are some signs that it's approaching that label:

1. You're Facebook official: Once you've both announced your relationship to your friends via your social media circles, it's safe to say you're serious.

2. You've met the family: Meeting your partner's family and introducing them to yours is a huge step for a couple. It's one that you don't take unless you're serious.

3. You're moving in together: Signing a lease together is a big step that's never to be taken lightly.

New Couple: Michelle Williams and Jason Segel Are Dating

Longtime friends Jason Segel and Michelle Williams are the newest celebrity couple. According to a source, "They are smitten and very serious." The duo was caught taking a romantic stroll after a meal at Frankie Spuntino in Brooklyn this weekend, reported UsMagazine.com. A source says, "They seemed very relaxed." The day after the pair's stroll and meal, Segal was spotted playing with Matilda, Williams' 6-year-old daughter. Living on different coasts makes their relationship challenging, but the source says the couple is "trying to make it work. She hasn't been this happy in a long time."

How do you stay close to your long distance mate?

Cupid's Advice:

Being in a relationship is hard enough as it is, but what about when you are in separate states, or even separate countries? Here are some tips on how to stay as close in a long distance relationship:

1. Skype: Skype is a lifesaver for long distance relationships. Seeing your sweetheart's face every day makes the distance seem much more bearable. Even if you chat for only five minutes, talking face-to-face will keep your relationship alive better than any text message could.

2. Share photos: Send each other pictures. Even if it's only what you had for lunch, share your life with your partner. Send pictures of things you would normally laugh about together, or something you tried for the first time together and are passing in the grocery store. Keeping your partner in the know will make reuniting seamless.

3. Make countdowns: Countdowns can definitely help you through a long distance relationship. If you have visits planned, count down to those. Or, if you have a birthday coming up, count down to that. The smaller and simpler the count down, the better they will make you feel, until the ultimate countdown of being able to be together for good.

Jake Gyllenhaal Spends Time With Three Eligible Women In One Week

Jake Gyllenhaal is definitely enjoying the single life! The 30-year-old actor was spotted with no less than three women in one week, reports People. First, Gyllenhaal stopped at a gas station with Anna Kendrick on their way back from Las Vegas.

Next, the eligible bachelor joined pal Rashida Jones for lunch at an organic, vegan café in L.A. Finally, he hung out with married Cougar Town star Busy Philipps, who is a longtime friend and fellow godparent to Matilda Ledger, Heath Ledger and Michelle Williams' daughter. Although all three women are said to be "just friends" with the Love & Other Drugs star, it looks like Gyllenhaal is still one of Hollywood's most popular bachelors.

What are things to be cautious of while dating around?

Cupid's Advice:

When you're single, you want to play the field without going overboard. Cupid has some tips on how to be careful, and yet still have fun while dating:

1. Overbooking: Even if you're a heartthrob movie star like Jake Gyllenhaal, more than three dates in a week can be a little overwhelming. It's not like you can't go out with more than one person at a time; just make sure you're giving each of your dates enough attention.

2. Being dishonest: When you're seeing someone new, you should be truthful right away. If you're not looking for a serious relationship, tell them that to avoid any confusion or hurt feelings.

3. Falling into a pattern: If dating bad boys hasn't exactly worked out for you, try changing your habits. By dating outside of your comfort zone, you'll find out what you like and in the process, you may also find "the one."

Michelle Williams Upset Over 'Nightline' Interview Focus on Heath Ledger

While promoting her new movie, Blue Valentine, Michelle Williams had what she calls a “devastating” experience with Nightline. E! Online reported last week that Williams didn’t like how Nightline producers edited the interview to focus almost entirely on Heath Ledger’s death. “They used those few quotes, and the way they edited the piece to sell the interview, it appeared as if I were breaking some kind of silence and sitting down with the express purpose to discuss something that is very private to me,” says Williams, who still finds talking about her former partner’s death a “struggle.”

How can you avoid unnecessary questions about a lover who's no longer in your life?

Cupid's Advice:

When you lose a partner, whether it's through a breakup or an unexpected tragedy, it's hard to talk about at first. Cupid has some ideas on how to avoid prying questions:

- 1. Say 'no': When someone brings up your ex, simply tell him you're not ready to talk about it yet. Most people will understand that you still need time to mourn.
- 2. Date someone new: Once you've taken time to grieve, go out with a new person. People will stop asking questions about your old partner and start asking about your new one.
- 3. Don't avoid it forever: While it may be difficult to answer questions about a painful subject, remember that most of the time, people ask because they're worried about you. Accept their help when you're ready to move on.
