Cupid's Advice:

With a baby on the way, traveling can seem like a daunting proposition. But there are tons of benefits to turning a romantic getaway into a special babymoon to celebrate your upcoming family addition. Here are Cupid's top tips on why you should prioritize a trip the next time you and your partner get such happy news:

1. It's your last chance to travel kid-free: While traveling while pregnant can be a mild ordeal, traveling with a baby or small child is exponentially more difficult! Considering that this may be the last opportunity you and your partner may have for a trip that's all about you, it might be a good idea to take the plunge and enjoy one last luxury vacation – minus the pitter patter of little feet.

2. It's a great way to bond: Even if you're both super excited to be parents, it's likely that if you don't get away to celebrate, "real life" may distract you from your happy news. Get away from the pressure of work and other time commitments for a bit, even if just for a weekend, and really focus on the dreams, plans and hopes you have for this new special individual you're bringing into the world. One-on-one time will give you tons of opportunities to talk about your future favorite kiddo, and even make a great plan for your first few months as parents too.

"As long as she's happy in a relationship, that's all we want." Safai said sweetly, "So I'm just happy that she's happy."

This celebrity couple is happy as can be! What are some things you can do about an unhappy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When it comes to famous celebrity couples, it's great to see ones like Hadid and Malik who have officially achieved romantic bliss. But sometimes in relationships, things don't go as smoothly. Here are Cupid's top tips for dealing with an unhappy relationship in your own life:

1. Talk it out: First things first, prioritize communicating clearly with your partner. If there's building resentment, frustration or some issue that's become a roadblock to your happiness as a couple, sit them down and hash it out. It may be painful or angering in the moment, but ultimately it will do nothing but benefit your relationship and each other to know where both of you stand and that you're both seeking resolution.

2. See a counselor: While many couples cringe when they think about sharing their problems with a relationship expert and therapist, there are many upsides to bringing an unbiased third party into your discussions. Try to see this not as a sign that your relationship is not going as planned, but that you and your partner are both committed to talking your feelings out in healthy and fair ways. If anything, it's an indicator of how dedicated you both are to preserving your relationship, not the other way around.

3. Know when it's time to walk away: As painful as break-ups can be, there is nothing so painful as spending all your time trying to repair something that will simply never be truly fixed. If your partner isn't doing their share to deal with your issues as a couple or if you feel that they've permanently damaged your trust in them, don't be afraid to just say the words out loud; “It’s not working.” It may seem scary and sad in the moment, but ultimately you’ll be happier on your own and eventually with someone else than you would be staying in a relationship that isn’t meant for you.

This celebrity couple is on cloud nine when it comes to their whirlwind romance. What are your ways of knowing when a relationship is solid or when it’s starting to rip at the seams? Let us know in the comments!
