How do you handle rumors when you're in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Rumors can destroy your relationship if you don't rid yourselves of them soon after they arrive. Cupid has some tips:

1. Address it: When there are rumors surrounding your relationship, it can be very frustrating. The key is to address them straight on. Whether you're in the public eye or not, saying things like “no comment” just adds fuel to the fire. You and your partner can make a statement about what is being said. On the other hand, you don't owe anybody an explanation if you don't want to give one. That being said, it's good to discuss it with your partner so you are both on the same page.

All that matters is what you and your partner believe and feel. This is why it's important to connect with your partner and bond more than ever during tough times. Remind each other how committed you are and realize that it doesn't matter what other people say.

1. Figure out your styles: It will be easier to mesh your two parenting techniques together once you both identify which technique you prefer. The three types of parents are generally authoritative, passive, and democratic. Once you and your partner pinpoint your styles you can figure out how to make them work effectively together.

2. Take turns: No one parent should be in full control of the children. Both should take turns dealing with any problems that arise so that both parties are involved in the children's upbringing.

3. Compromise, not compete: If your children see you and your partner disagree when it comes to raising them then the kids will start to think that they have some of the control. Sure

Daddy may say no to buying me a new tricycle, but Mommy is sure to say yes. Parents should work together, not against one another.

Source Says Kim Kardashian and Kanye West Will Be Ready for Baby #2 Post-Wedding

By Gabby Robles

After almost five months since baby North West's birth, Kim

Kardashian and Kanye West have begun planning for a second child. According to UsMagazine.com, a source revealed that the couple plan to get pregnant next summer after their wedding. The source says, Kardashian “wants her kids to be close in age,” and West “wants a huge family.” Guess they want to get started!

How do you know how many children is right for your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Children are a beautiful miracle and really bring joy to this world. You hear about couples that share eight children but other people only have one child. How do you know when is when? Don’t worry, Cupid has your back:

1. Talk about it: This is a conversation that you and your partner should have a mutual decision about. You both need to be on the same page or else resentment will form in between you two. When the baby conversation comes up, simply ask “How many do you see us having?” If the number doesn’t match yours, share your feelings. Maybe he never thought about having three instead of two and now that the thought is in his mind, it’s looking better and better!

2. Be realistic: In the 1950s, having six children was a no-brainer, but the times have changed. It’s hard to have a big family and still be able to maintain a happy, healthy home. If you and your man are both lives well within your means and are both interested in having a huge family, then go for it! But if you guys are still working hard everyday, you might want to hold back.

3. Think of the times: Nowadays, three or four children make a big family. You don't need to go through labor and have multiple twins to achieve the "fullness" that you and your man might crave to have in your house. Go with how you feel once your first child is born and go from there, don't set a number and just stick to it.
