What are some ways to involve your parents in your pregnancy?

Cupid's Advice:

Your parents will be eager to get involved when they hear the news of grandchildren. Let them share the love by finding a spot for them in this special moment. Since you'll be a parent soon, show your dedication to family by incorporating your parents in your pregnancy. Bring the generations of your household together to celebrate this new addition:

1. Keep them informed: All your parents really want is to be kept in the loop. They want to share in your joy and connect with their grandchild. Making sure they're present at every event, and phone them if you have news. Keeping tabs on you is probably their default reaction anyway, but if you're proactive with the information you share then they'll know they're part of new baby's life.

2. Give them responsibility: Your parents are important, and you can make them feel that way too by giving them a share of responsibility. Whether it's coordinating birthing, taking you to classes or organizing a shower, they want a way to contribute. Your parents are a symbol of support, and that responsibility should be present now more than ever to demonstrate the power of family.

3. Ask for help: If you have a problem, don't feel like you're burdening your parents by sharing it. They want to be there for you during this exciting time. Your parents will be gratified that they can still give you a hand even now that you're a parent yourself. If you have a lot of free time on your hands, you can spend it by strengthening bonds with your family.

2. Ask for advice: Even if you have a decision made in your head, just ask your spouse for his or her opinion anyway. Show him that you value his thoughts.

3. Talk about it: Whether or not you give your future spouse a task is up to you, but no matter what you do, tell them all about the wedding plans. It wouldn't be good if your partner was unprepared for something and got upset on what's supposed to be the most memorable day of his or her life.
