

Relationship Advice: How Can You Seamlessly Welcome A New Baby?

By Dr. Jane Greer

There is no question that the announcement of a baby brother or sister is exciting. It can be a wonderful time when you are expanding your family and planning to welcome your next child into your home. Prince Harry and Meghan Markle recently told the world that they are thrilled to be expecting baby number two who will join big brother Archie. And while everyone rightfully expects this time to be joyful, it can also be stressful and harder than you might think to navigate. With the...Arrival of your newest addition, for the child who is already there it actually can be a...Rival. They may worry about what it will be like to have to share their parents' attention and may fear that they will stop being the center of their parents' world. And while the prospective parents may view it as a gain, the child can see it as a loss. So how can you make the experience less fraught and more positive?

There are certain things to keep in mind which will help make the homecoming of your new family member as smooth as it can be.

The first thing you can do is to include your child or children in the adventure of your pregnancy so they feel a part of it, and so they can get excited about being involved. Help your child look forward to the birth of their new sibling by sharing with them how the baby is developing, and how their presence will enhance the family unit and not take away from it. If you are able to illustrate how much they can contribute and be helpful to you in caring for their new brother or sister – whatever that might mean based on how old they are – they can look forward to feeling valued and needed.

Another thing to consider is how birth order will affect the dynamics of your family unit. I talk about this in my book Adult Sibling Rivalry: Understanding the Legacy of Childhood. It is fairly well accepted that we make decisions about how many children we want to have based on the structure of our family of origin. For example, if you are one of four kids, that can seem normal and comfortable, and you may want to replicate that when you begin to discuss building your own family. What isn't talked about as much is the fact that your place in your family growing up – whether you were the baby or the oldest, the middle child or an only child – can often shape how we interact with our own children. If you were the youngest and were always pampered, you may look to treat your youngest the same way. If you were the oldest and felt you were given too much responsibility, you could take that in two possible directions. The first is to offset what you thought of as negative treatment and consequently be more indulgent with your first child, thereby letting them off the hook. Or you might take the opposite approach and think if I had to do it then they should too, and therefore be more strict with them. Recognizing this in yourself can help you as you prepare for your new baby, and how you might relate to them based on your family experience.

The crux of sibling rivalry is having to share your parents love with your sisters and brothers, and worrying that you won't get your fair share. Everyone understands that. But it is possible to use this necessary sharing as a means to learn how to compromise, how to care about your siblings and develop concern for the best interest of others, how to deal with disappointments, and finally how to accept that you can't always have your way. Taking this into account, sibling rivalry can be viewed as a positive experience.

If Harry and Meghan keep these things in mind, they will likely be hands-on equipped to deal with the unknown and the sibling rivalry that is an inevitable part of an expanding family, and you can be, too.

Royal Celebrity Couple Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Take Aim At Online Negativity

By Carly Silva

In the latest celebrity news, Prince Harry and Meghan Markle spoke out against online negativity during an appearance on ABC's Time 100 special on Tuesday. According to EOnline.com, the royal celebrity couple addressed the importance of rejecting hate speech and misinformation online, especially going into the upcoming election. They also stressed the importance of voting this November and encouraged viewers to register to vote.

Royal celebrity couple Harry and Meghan took aim at online negativity during a Time 100 special. What are some ways to keep online negativity from affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Negative comments and criticism online can be really stressful for a couple. If you're looking for ways to keep online negativity from affecting your relationship, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Talk about it: The first thing to do if you're dealing with online negativity is to talk about it. Sharing your experiences with others may help you notice that others are dealing with similar problems, and you may not feel so alone about it.

Royal Celebrity Couple Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Step Out in Matching Masks in Beverly Hills

By Alycia Williams

In latest celebrity news, celebrity couple Prince Harry and Meghan Markle are enjoying their time together in Los Angeles. The Duke and Duchess of Sussex were spotted on Friday afternoon, walking side-by-side as they waited for their car from a valet in Beverly Hills, wearing matching face masks. Harry and Meghan relocated to California with their one-year-old son Archie in March, and the couple is said to be living in Tyler Perry's Beverly Hills mansion.

This royal celebrity couple is following protocol when it comes to COVID-19. What are some ways to support each other through the pandemic?

Cupid's Advice:

This pandemic has been a crazy roller coaster ride and it's hard to determine what's coming next, which can make your relationship rocky after a while. If you are looking for ways to support your partner through the pandemic, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Make time for each other: It can be easy to get set in your ways and do what you want to do during the pandemic, but set aside some time for your partner. Whether it's twice a week, once a week, or everyday, it's nice to have time specifically set aside for your partner.

2. Try to get out when you can: Being in the house all day can be really suffocating, so try to get out with your partner. You don't have to go to an extravagant place together; it can be just a walk around the block or you can sit right outside your door together. Try to breathe in that fresh air together.

Celebrity News: Prince Harry's Ex Cressida Bonas Feared Being Labeled 'It' Girl After Split

By Ellie Rice

In the latest celebrity news, Prince Harry's ex Cressida Bonas has opened up about life post-royal-split and how the relationship held her back. According to UsMagazine.com, Bonas feared her reputation would leave her branded as an "it" girl once the duo broke up, but she now has found the confidence to pursue her passions. The pair amicably went their separate ways in 2014 but remained on friendly terms as Bonas attended his wedding to Meghan Markle.

In celebrity news, Cressida Bonas was afraid of what people would think of her after her split from Prince Harry. What are some ways to keep your break-up from causing gossip and rumors?

Cupid's Advice:

Gossip and rumors can cause quite a rift in any relationship, often leading to a break-up. If you're wondering how to navigate the post-split waters without any of that negativity, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Stay on the same page: Break-ups are tough for both parties, even when they're amicable. Moving on from a relationship and person that's held such a prominent position in your life is challenging. If you're worried about people gossiping and starting rumors about your relationship, then you need to have a conversation with your ex-partner. Let them know how you're feeling and get on the same page about what's going on.

2. Be respectful: The last thing you want is to sour your split and have it turn messy. Once the two of you have gone your separate ways, be respectful. Honor the memories you shared and understand that it's now time to embark on a new chapter in your life. Unless your ex has done something awful, there's no need to soil and tarnish their reputation in the public sphere. You wouldn't want them speaking negatively about you without cause either!

3. Redirect: If you're finding yourself surrounded by gossip about your relationship, set the record straight, and then move on. Understand why it ended, respect the feelings and decisions within the relationship, and then move forward. Redirect the conversation to what you're doing with your future and the other stuff that's happening in your life. The ins and outs of your relationship are nobody's business but yours and your former partner's.

Celebrity News: Queen Elizabeth Is 'Disappointed' Prince Harry & Duchess Meghan Won't Be at Christmas Festivities

By Meghan Khameraj

In celebrity news, Queen Elizabeth II is disappointed in Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan's decision to spend Christmas with the Duchess' mother. According to a source for UsMagazine.com, family drama is one of the reasons the royal famous couple decided to spend the holiday away from the rest of the royal family. Prince Harry and his brother Prince William have grown apart during the last few years. Harry and Meghan want to make this holiday special as it is their son, Archie's, first Christmas. The source also states that "the drama surrounding the couple has caused a huge amount of stress. They're making their family their No. 1 priority right now."

In celebrity news, Queen Elizabeth isn't happy that Harry and Meghan won't be celebrating Christmas with her. What are some ways to balance family obligations during the holidays?

Cupid's Advice:

Although they are royalty, Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan still deal with holiday family drama. The holidays are a great time to be with family, but they can also cause an unnecessary rise in tensions. Cupid has some advice to help you balance family obligations during the holidays:

1. Take turns: This is the easiest way to avoid any holiday drama. There are enough holidays for you to spend some with your family and some with your partner's family. Once you spend a holiday with your family, spend the next one with your partner's and so on.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Tristan Thompson 'Isn't Giving Up' On a Future with Khloe Kardashian

2. Prioritize: Some families value certain holidays over others. Discuss with your partner which holidays are the most important to your family and ask which are the most important to theirs. You can prioritize who you spend the holiday with based on how important it is to both of your families. This also helps if there happen to be any cultural differences regarding holidays between you and your significant other.

Celebrity News: Queen Elizabeth Fuels Feud Rumors By Removing Photo of Duchess Meghan & Prince Harry

By Meghan Khameraj

In celebrity news, Queen Elizabeth reportedly removed a photo of Duchess Meghan and Prince Harry from Buckingham Palace. According to UsMagazine.com, the photo was first spotted in 2018 when the Queen met with Conservative leader Boris Johnson. Recently, the Queen was photographed with the High Commissioner for Grenada, Lakisha Granta, but this time the photo of Duchess Meghan and Prince Harry was mysteriously missing. Tensions have been brewing amongst the royal family after the famous couples' names were pulled from Prince William and Duchess Kate's charity. Prince Harry stated, "we're brothers, we'll always be brothers. We're certainly on different paths at the moment, but I'll always be there for him and as I know he'll always be there for me."

In celebrity news, the rumors are alive and well when it comes to a feud between this royal couple and their royal family. What are some ways to handle a rocky relationship with your in-laws?

Cupid's Advice:

Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan have been the center of a lot of discourse among the royal family and overall British population. Though Harry and Meghan understand their relationship is subject to public opinion, Cupid has some relationship advice to help you mend a rocky relationship with your partner's family:

1. Talk to your partner: Be sure that your partner is aware of the issues at hand. It might be ideal for them to discuss the problems with their family members before you actually get involved. Sit down with your significant other and establish the best way to address the problem.

Celebrity News: Why Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Want to Live in Africa

By Ahjané Forbes

In celebrity news, Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan want to move to Africa! After being attacked by many British media outlets, Meghan has been having trouble adjusting to royalty. According to UsMagazine.com, a source describes the celebrity couple home in Kensington Palace, saying, “The critics have made their lives ‘absolute hell’ and they’d get more privacy in Africa – they won’t be hounded by photographers around the clock.” The source also adds that Prince Harry believes that having their celebrity baby Archie surrounded by nature will be great for him.

In celebrity news, Prince Harry plans to build a home in Africa. What are some ways to decide where to live with your partner?

Cupid’s Advice:

Planning to move in with each other can be a big step for your relationship. To benefit the needs of your partner or yourself, you may have to relocate. Cupid has some advice on what to consider when choosing a place to live with your partner:

1. Show your partner the places that you like: Start the conversation by explaining the reasons why you like this area. Remember to mention things that they are interested in as well. If they like to go the gym, tell them about the local fitness center down the street.

Related Link: Date Idea: Hometown Tourism

2. Find a compromise: You won't always agree on everything, but it is important to reach a mutual agreement. Don't assume that they will love everything about the place you want to live. Try to consider the problematic areas: distance from work, school system for your children, and the nearest family member. Don't say that "it will all work out", rather, try to make the transition a little easier.

Celebrity News: Prince Harry & Duchess Meghan Are Considering Moving to Canada

By Ahjané Forbes

In celebrity news, British royalty may be moving to Canada! According to UsMagazine.com, Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan are considering a move to the Great White North, where Meghan Markle used to film the Suits. The celebrity couple plan to stay in Kensington Palace for now with their celebrity baby, Archie.

In celebrity news, this royal couple is considering a move to Canada. What are some ways to compromise with your partner about where to live?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting serious in a relationship means that you will have to start making choices with and for the benefit of your partner. This may mean considering a relocation for career or family reasons. Cupid has some advice on how to help make the discussion a smoother one:

1. Listen to their reasons: You don't have to be fond of moving to another state or country. It is normal to feel this way. Changing your environment is a huge adjustment, but hear your partner out. Ask them: how will this help us or our family? Weigh the pros and cons, and try to remain reasonable.

2. Let them know your concerns: If you feel that you won't get enough money in the location being discussed for work, tell them this! Also, share your thoughts on cost of living, school systems, and transportation (if needed). Work on focusing on common ground. Show them what you are looking for in a place you want to call your home.

Related Link: Date Idea: Hometown Tourism

3. Take a trip there: The only way you'll know if you like a new location is if you go there in person. Cruise around and go sightseeing. This will help you become more accustomed to the area. Let your partner show you the city they love through a different perspective.

Celebrity Couple News: Duchess Meghan Comments On Her Relationship with Prince Harry to Pharrell

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity couple news, Duchess Meghan Markle opened up to singer, Pharell, about the difficulties of having her relationship always in the spotlight. According to UsMagazine.com, Meghan said “They don’t make it easy,” seemingly referring to the constant public scrutiny her and Prince Harry’s relationship is always under. Every relationship has its own complicated parts, and this celebrity couple clearly states that having all of your personal life on display for the world to talk about isn’t easy.

In celebrity couple news, Duchess Meghan was honest about having a relationship in the spotlight. What are some ways to handle scrutiny of your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Whether your relationship is constantly in the public eye like the Duchess and Prince, or you find your family and friends nitpicking your every move, it’s no fun being scrutinized by others. Cupid has some advice on how to handle the scrutiny of your relationship:

1. Ignore it: The number one thing to do is just ignore what others have to say about your relationship. If they are not a part of your relationship, then their scrutiny does not have to hold any bearing on how you and your partner feel for each other.

Royal Celebrity Parents: Meghan Markle & Prince Harry Are 'Enjoying Each Day' with Baby Archie

By Katie Sotack

Royals Meghan Markle and Prince Harry are stowed away in Windsor and “enjoying each day” with their eight week old celebrity baby, Archie. According to People.com, the celebrity parents are focused on giving Archie a peaceful start to life, hence the escape to a private cottage. A royal source says they are “basking in the glow and enjoying each day”. Like all new parents, the royal couple are living soulfully in their new baby’s needs and wants, discovering his newness every day that they spend with him.

These royal celebrity parents are enjoying the time with their infant son. What are some ways to bond as a couple in the face of parenthood?

Cupid’s Advice:

New parenthood is filled with as many challenges as it is joys. Making time for your partner when this new life has become your world can feel impossible. Here are relationship tips for parents looking to bond outside of their baby:

1. Make time for one another: With your new baby becoming the center of your world, it's difficult to make time for each other. However, having one-on-one time is essential to a sturdy relationship and ultimately the growth of your baby. Go on a date together or just sit and talk after the baby's gone to bed.

Celebrity Parents: Duchess Meghan Plans to Take Baby Archie to NYC Over the Summer

By Mara Miller

The royal celebrity couple has been adjusting to life as celebrity parents well: Prince Harry is on diaper duty! In the latest celebrity news, Duchess Meghan and Prince Harry plan to take royal celebrity baby Archie to New York City this summer, according to UsMagazine.com. They have plans to visit with the Duchess' mother, Doria Ragland, and friends in America.

These celebrity parents are brave to travel internationally with an infant. What are some tips for traveling with a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

The standard recommendation is to wait until your baby is at least one month old before traveling, although some doctors recommend waiting until your little one is four to six months old so his or her immune system has enough time to become strong. Cupid has gathered some tips that might help if you do decide to travel:

1. Breastfeed if you can: Breastfeed your baby when he or she gets hungry. You don't need to be shy about where you breastfeed and you won't need to lug around any extra gear.

Celebrity Interview: 'Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal' Actor Noah Huntley Talks Career, Charity & Relationships

Interview by Courtney Shapiro. Written by Courtney Shapiro

Notorious for his roles in dramas and fantastical films, including The Royals, The Chronicles of Narnia, and Snow White and the Huntsman, it is no surprise that London native Noah Huntley was cast in the new and exciting TV movie, Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal.

In our exclusive celebrity interview, we chat with Huntley about how his childhood helped shape his career path, what he really thinks about the Royals, as well as his charity work and the projects he's excited to take on in the future.

Celebrity Interview with Noah Huntley: Early Career Path, Real Thoughts on the Royals, and Future Endeavors

Huntley came from humble beginnings, as he grew up with seven siblings and had to carve out individual opportunities for himself. "It was slightly by happenstance because my parents had three sets of twins. You kind of thought to make your own rules," explains Huntley. He and his siblings went through a mix of private schools, home education, and state schools, until age 11 when the Sussex native attended a less expensive stage school for a year and a half to save his parents money. "I didn't really think I was cut out for such an overtly theatrical life; I wasn't going to be a tap dancer," he explains. But, that didn't stop him from finding a passion in acting while there. From that point on, he was hooked. "I got an agent and I kept working basically until I was 19 or 20, and I did a series in England called Emmerdale for two years, and that got me started."

Before landing some of his larger roles, the actor also spent time in the fashion world as a model. Expanding upon how he got into it, Huntley says, "My mother was doing a degree in textiles, so that was always there in the background. I came out of a soap and very much focused on film and theater for the next 10 years really. Then, I was in LA and I was broke, probably about 10 years ago, and did a little bit of modeling just to earn some money, and I thought nobody would see it, but it went really well.” Huntley partnered with big names like Annie Leibovitz and L’Oreal, and his time modeling allowed him to put money in the bank as he continued to pursue his passion in acting.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Duchess Meghan Has Been ‘Very Emotional’ Since Welcoming Baby Boy

Over the years, Huntley has played many different types of characters. To prepare for various roles, he says “it’s usually about finding something in your own life or in your own character or personality that you can apply to a character that you’re playing.” Huntley also adds that certain character’s voices immediately get in your head. “It suddenly clicks and you go, oh, that’s the voice that the tone comes to me. Directors maybe see a different version of it, but to me, it’s the voice, and when you get that voice, then it sort of embodies a lot of the character and very often that’s key to unlocking the character you’re playing.”

Speaking of characters, Huntley’s most recent role is that of Caspian in the new Lifetime TV movie, Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal. In the movie, Caspian is one of the co-hosts on the fictional broadcast program, Good Day U. K., who often describes his disdain for Meghan and her romance with the Prince. The actor admits, “It’s a really fun character to play. It’s kind of the voice of the public in terms of media and how easily that partly represents the questions of the public, but it’s also very invasive, and to some extent has an agenda on getting the sensational scoop for a story.” On the other hand, his co-star, Louise Bond, who plays the other host on the broadcast, is the voice of reason and passion. “I’m really the yang to her yin in that respect,” Huntley explains.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Royal Drama Has 'Put Pressure' on Prince Harry & Meghan Markle's Relationship

However, Huntley's real life views on the royal celebrity couple don't align with his character Caspian's. "There is an element of celebrity that goes along with being part of the royal family. It talks about the political demands and expectations of the royals and then the other side of it, which is there should be no political agenda," the actor elaborates. "So, I think that's a fascinating argument. My character Caspian is kind of exploring the underside of that rather than getting caught up on the fashion and the glossy cozy fairy tale that is the royal family."

The fact is, Prince Harry and Duchess Meghan are mostly portrayed in the media as having a fairy tale romance. In contrast, Huntley's love life is far from that. When asked about what he looks for in a significant other, Huntley jokingly confesses, "Oh God, don't ask me! I seem to just fail at it miserably, and I think three years was my longest relationship." However, the Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal star does point to selflessness as one of the keys to a successful relationship. He adds, "I think that fairy tale in terms of love, is almost transcendental. It's something that's bigger than the sum of its parts."

Huntley may not be fulfilling selflessness in a current relationship, but he certainly applies it in his philanthropic endeavors. During the filming of The Chronicles of Narnia, Huntley was cast, but told he wouldn't be receiving payment for the role. He would only be earning residuals from the film, so he decided, "I'll do it for free, and you can donate more money to my my nominated charity and that's the way I prefer it to be rather than take any any money for it." Huntley supports Greenpeace, Bloodwise and The Actors Benevolent Fund, among other charitable organizations.

Aside from filming Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal, and taking a passionate step into charity, Huntley is currently working on a new show called Pandora that will air on the CW coming out this July. The actor confesses, "I've wanted to do sci-fi for a long time." In the show, Huntley plays the head of a military training academy, who he admits "is potentially a bully." Huntley is greatly looking forward to this project, which is unlike anything he's starred in previously.

You can watch Noah Huntley as Caspian in 'Harry and Meghan: Becoming Royal' on Lifetime, premiering May 27th. You can also follow Noah on Instagram and Twitter.

According to an exclusive source from UsMagazine.com, Duchess Meghan has been very emotional since welcoming her new bundle of joy! “This is definitely my first birth,” Prince Harry said. “I am so incredibly proud of my wife and as every father and parent would ever say, your baby is absolutely amazing, but this little thing is absolutely to die for, so I’m just over the moon.”

In royal celebrity baby news, Duchess Meghan was ‘very emotional’ after welcoming her son into the world. What are some ways to support your partner’s emotions after the birth of your child?

Cupid's Advice:

Emotions can be all over the place after you go through the birth of a child, and it's important that your partner supports you. Cupid has some tips:

1. Let her cry or get emotional: Don't try to fix it. If she needs to cry, let her cry. Comforting her is the most important thing you can do. She needs time to process what happened during the birth and her feelings over becoming a Mom.

Celebrity Couple: Royal Celebrity Couples Face Online Bullying

by Mara Miller

Kensington Palace is worried about online bullying against the royal celebrity couples, Kate Middleton and Prince William, and Meghan Markle and Prince Harry. In the latest celebrity news, according to People.com. Kensington Palace staff have spent countless hours monitoring negative comments aimed toward the royal sisters-in-law. These comments often try to pit Duchesses Middleton and Markle against each other, with fans of both taking sides and arguing among themselves. In some rare cases, there have even been serious threats of harm. The cyber bullying isn't just toward both women: Kate and Meghan fans often turn against, and threaten, each other.

The Royal Celebrity Couples are facing terrible comments on social media and, in response, Kensington Palace is making a peace movement. What are ways can adults cultivate a positive experience online?

Cupid's Advice:

Kensington Palace has been locking down the comments on social media about the royal family. While it might be easy to act thoughtlessly online without caring about another person's feelings, bullying has serious emotional repercussions that have, in some cases, led to suicide when an online social interaction is not as easily monitored. We should all strive for a positive online experience. Here are some ways to achieve it.

- 1. Remember the Golden Rule: Remember the saying, "If you can't say anything nice, don't say anything at all?" Apply this logic to any future comments you might make online in a public forum. Realize the comments you are making are about real people, too. It's easy to get into shipping wars when we adore our royalty and our celebrities, but they have feelings and busy lives just like we do. Would you want to hurt your favorite celebrity because you've said something terrible about one of their family members when they're trying to work out their personal differences?

2. Report Threatening Behavior: If you're on a forum like Facebook or Twitter, you can report any threats toward someone who is getting bullied. Often, there is the option to block a specific user. Never make any threats yourself. While there are no exact laws against cyber bullying, it is still a form of harassment and there can be legal ramifications if you're caught.

3. Just Walk Away: The best thing to do is ignore it, even when you might really want to make that comment to try to make an internet troll go away. Bullying can take away the enjoyment of the video or article you're trying to read and put you in a horrible mood when you could have just ignored someone else's childish behavior.

Celebrity Baby: Meghan Markle Reveals Due Date

By Mara Miller

In the latest royal celebrity baby news, Meghan Markle revealed her due date during a walkabout in Hamilton Square with Prince Harry, according to EOnline.com. Markle is currently six months pregnant; the celebrity couple is expecting their first baby between April and May. The Duchess and Prince have decided to wait to find out the gender of their baby. This is the closest confirmation of her due date available since Kensington Palace previously announced the baby is expected in Spring 2019.

Meghan Markle and Prince Harry are about to have their first celebrity baby. What are some ways of announcing your due date to the world?

Cupid's Advice:

Announcing your due date isn't something you need to keep a secret if you don't want to. What are some ways you can tell your family and friends your exciting news?

1. Photographs: You could do a mini photo shoot with the ultrasound picture and baby shoes. If you have an older child or a pet, include them in the announcement photo. You could have your older child standing next to a chalkboard with something that says, "Big (sister or brother) starting (insert due date)". For your pet, you could do something like taking a picture of their paws next to baby shoes. Have fun and get creative!

2. Announce to immediate family: Announcing your pregnancy and due date is an exciting time for you and your partner, as well as for your family and friend. If you don't want to immediately let everyone on social media know before your close circle does, plan unique announcements for each group! Don't let the pressure of sharing your due date stress you out; it doesn't have to be extravagant. A phone call to your mother (instead of texting) means more because it's personal. Or maybe a cup that says, "World's Best Grandma/Grandpa/Uncle/Aunt" and a picture of the ultrasound with the due date will be more memorable for years to come.

3. Make something special (or have something special) made to celebrate: You can go beyond having a cup made when you announce your due date. If you're creative with programs like Photoshop, you could create a movie poster with the due date or make a small trailer with a video editing program (like iMovie or Windows Movie Maker). If you create the movie poster, you could put it in the baby's room once they're born.
