Relationship Advice: Get the Birthday Gift Right

By Dr. Jane Greer

Birthdays are generally synonymous with hopes, cakes, and, of course, presents, but they can also be tinged with disappointment since there are so many expectations wrapped into this one special day, and emotions can run high.

Sometimes the gift is perfect. For example, Priyanka Chopra and Nick Jonas celebrated his 26th birthday together this past week at a baseball game which, according to social media, seemed to be exactly what he wanted. A misstep with the all-important gift, however, can sometimes be the very thing that sinks the ship, and can not only ruin the day, but can also breed resentment for a long time afterward.

Whether you're dating someone, or you've been married for years, getting the birthday present right can be a challenge. Your partner has wishes you may not be aware of, and you might not be sure what to get. How can you live up to meeting their desires, and where do you start?

There are a few things that can lead you down the wrong path while you are contemplating that purchase. To begin with, if you have not paid attention to what they have appeared to be interested in over the past few weeks or months, like the scarf she stopped to look at in the store window, or if you have missed their hints, like the massage he always says he would like to get, then you may have no idea where to begin. If that's the case, when they tear away the tissue paper, hoping to find something specific looking back at them but find something out of left field, your gift might be met with disappointment. Along the same lines, it is never a great idea to simply buy what you like or want with no consideration to whether or not your partner might feel the same way. Just because it is your taste does not mean it is theirs. If they say they want a sweater, before choosing the one you would buy for yourself, instead think about their preferences and previous choices. Similarly, you might see this as a good time to get something practical, why not? You really need that better coffee maker or expensive knife. Here is another way you can go awry, though, since your partner might not appreciate that, and may be hoping for something more personal and indulgent. Finally, while some do like a joint activity to be the gift, as was the case with Nick Jonas, not everyone falls into that camp. Make sure that is okay before you take the plunge, since some might see it as encroaching on their birthday, which they don't want to share, since they want it to be only about them.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: How to Cope with a Loved One Who Is an Addict

For any and all of these reasons, browsing online or in a store can feel like a minefield that could blow up in your face at any moment. So, what can you do to avoid that? Begin by asking what they want in advance, even going as far as requesting that they make up a birthday list. Think about suggesting that the list have three or four items that fall into different price ranges. That way you can have options, and you will know that whatever you choose will be well received. Another possibility might be to take them to a favorite store and have them try on a few things. You can go back later and choose one or more of those items, and it will still be a surprise, but you know it is something they will enjoy. Finally, you can simply get a gift card to a store or spa you know they like so they can select what they want, going back at a later date either by themselves or together to make an outing out of it.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: Is It Too Soon to Get Engaged?

Sometimes people are reluctant to make a present list because they think it spoils the surprise of the gift, which can be nice but not necessary. They also may think they are making it too easy for their partner by telling them what they want. But the truth is it is more about the pleasure and the good feelings a great gift will generate over time. By helping your partner out so they know precisely how to please you, you guarantee a happy outcome, which is what matters most. The goal is to get what you want, it isn't a contest to see if your partner can figure it out.

It is likely that the way you give gifts comes from the way the family you grew up with gave gifts – in other words, that is what you know, and naturally you continue that pattern. The trick is to be open and aware of your partner's ways and preferences, so you can develop your own gift-giving protocol together. It sounds like Priyanka and Nick have been able to do just that.

Celebrity Couple News: Priyanka Chopra's Mom Praises 'Mature' Nick Jonas After Engagement

By Haley Lerner

In celebrity couple news, it seems Priyanka Chopra's mom has taken a great liking to Nick Jonas after the couple's celebrity engagement. Just several days after the pair traveled to India to meet Priyanka's family and celebrate their engagement, Madhu Chopra, Priyanka's mother, shared her feelings about Jonas with After Hrs via DNA India. "Nick is calm and mature. He's a wonderful person and everyone in the family just loves him. He's so polite and respectful towards elders. What more can a mother want!" Madhu added, "I always trust Priyanka's judgment; she's not impulsive. She gave it a lot of thought and when she decided on something, I was sure it would be good." According to Eonline.com, Chopra and Jonas got engaged at the end of July, but only just confirmed the news via social media and their engagement celebration this past weekend. Madhu revealed that Jonas joined in on traditional Indian festivities, saying, "Nick enjoyed the prayers during the puja. It was a new thing for him and he took it seriously. He followed what our panditji said and chanted the Sanskrit mantras accurately. Both he and his parents did it beautifully. They are nice people."

In celebrity couple news, Priyanka Chopra's mom has nothing but positive feedback about her daughter's engagement. What are some ways to gain the support of your family for your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Want your family to approve of your relationship? Cupid has some tips on how to do it:

1. Introduce them: The most important step in getting your family to support your relationship is by introducing your partner to them. Just like Priyanka did with Nick, it helps for your family to meet your partner to see how happy they make you and all the qualities you love about them.

Celebrity Couple News: Nick Jonas' Family Traveling to India to Meet Priyanka Chopra's Family

By Haley Lerner

In celebrity couple news, Nick Jonas is bringing his family to India to meet his fiancée Priyanka Chopra's family before their celebrity wedding. A source told UsMagazine.com, "It's a tradition to go meet the family before the wedding," and that Chopra, "wants an Indian wedding." The source added that "[Nick] is super supportive of her and he's thrilled." This will be the couple's second trip to India, as Jonas went to Mumbai in June to meet Chopra's mother. Jonas and Chopra recently got engaged in late July after two months of dating. The couple hasn't publicly confirmed the engagement, but it seems things are pretty serious for the two.

In celebrity couple news, Nick Jonas is bringing his family to meet Priyanka Chopra's. What are some tips on how to introduce your family to your partner's family?

Cupid's Advice:

If things between you and your partner are getting serious, it's probably time for both of your families to meet each other. Cupid has some tips on how to do it:

1. Find common ground: If you're going to introduce your family to your partner's family, then you should try to find some areas in common both your family members might have with each other. When everyone meets, bring up topics that should help the two sides get along. One thing everyone is sure to bond over is how much they want both you and your partner to be happy!

Relationship Advice: Is It Too Soon to Get Engaged?

By Dr. Jane Greer

When is it too soon to get engaged? There are so many considerations that go into making this decision, from practical issues such as having enough money to finishing a degree to living in the same place, to more philosophical ones like is there a proper timeline for true love? Sometimes people have to first deal with other commitments and responsibilities before taking the plunge. But what if you meet someone and know instantly that person is your soulmate, do you still have to wait? Some think the answer to that is no. Nick Jonas and Priyanka Chopra announced their engagement after dating for only two months.

Quick engagements can be a sign that one or both parties are ready to settle down and feel the security and stability that comes with marriage. However, there are a number of pieces of relationship advice to consider before taking this next all-important step.

One of the biggest questions that comes up is, does it make sense to wait even if all the pieces are in place so that you can have more time to bring each other into the other's respective world? In other words, does having the inside track on your partner's life before you're all in add to the success of a marriage? Some might worry that the intensity of the high one feels when they first fall in love won't last, and therefore won't be enough to sustain you through life's ups and downs. If you do feel, however, it is enough to get you through, and you are seriously considering a quick engagement, it can be helpful to ask yourself why. Is it because you simply want to get married and crave the security that comes with that? Or were you disappointed by a previous relationship and now eager to move forward with someone who's ready to truly commit and get married? Or is it all about the person, that you have fallen so hard for one another, that you have become a part of each other's lives so completely, and there is enough compatibility, that you feel you want to and will be able to continue to make things work between you?

Related Link: Relationship Advice: Tales of the Other Woman

Whatever the case, most people do find that the all-consuming, instant attraction eventually, and really inevitably, wanes. That's why a certain amount of time and effort is generally important to allow the relationship to solidify so you have the chance to really learn how to work things out together, and to see how each of you reacts to different situations. With time, you'll move from that googly-eyed stage where your partner can do no wrong, to eventually "sobering up," so to speak, and deal with life – sickness, cars that don't work, endless bills, having to work late – as opposed to the euphoria you might be feeling when you first come together. In fact, the "honeymoon phase" can often last longer than most people think, in some cases even up to a year, but by the time you move away from that and into everyday reality where you need to be able to work together as a couple to deal with the nuts and bolts of each day, it takes more than rose-colored glasses to navigate the raging rapids. If you don't manage to build that strong foundation, it will only be a matter of time before your individual needs, as well as all the daily hits of living that create friction and tension, tear you apart.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: The Pitfalls of Dating While Divorcing

If you are in love, and if marriage is on the table, here are a few things you can ask yourself to determine if you are ready. First, do you think you are able to deal with your differences and compromise around them so you end up at a joint decision that feels good for both of you? Are you able to communicate and listen to each other, and ultimately relate to each other's feelings, so that you both feel understood? Can you problem solve, as well as work through and clear up your anger and disappointment so those feelings don't linger and cause trouble between you? Do you have empathy for each other? If you have these skills in place, then you are starting your life together with a full toolbox of important skills.

Nick and Priyanka seem to have found in each other what they are looking for, and have faith that they can continue to keep love alive. If you, too, have that trust in your partner then perhaps a short engagement can work for you as well.

New Celebrity Couple: Are Nick Jonas & Priyanka Chopra Dating?

By Rhodesia Williams

In celebrity news, could it be true that Nick Jonas and Priyanka Chopra are finally together? According to EOnline.com, the two have been spotted possibly celebrity dating. Last year, Jonas, 25, and Chopra, 35, arrived at the Met Gala together. Chopra responded that they were going to be at the same table and that there was no real planning, saying simply, "It just ended up working out." Just this past weekend, there were multiple sightings of the new celebrity couple. While the two have denied being together in the past, the tides may have turned at this point. While the pair's bowling outing and Dodgers game seems innocent, the photos of the two snuggled on a friend's boat seem a little more telling. Maybe it's time for Jonas and Chopra to confirm this celebrity relationship!

There may be a new celebrity couple in Hollywood! What are some ways to keep your budding relationship on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

When entering into a new relationship, your first instinct is to show off your new reason to smile. In a time where social media runs society, it may not be the best idea. Cupid has some advice on how to keep your budding relationship on the down-low, at least initially:

1. Stay off social media: Do yourself a favor and stay off of social media! Give the relationship a chance to grow naturally before bringing in outside forces. While people will always have something to say, staying off of social media cuts out all of the chatter that could potentially ruin this new found relationship.

2. Keep it to yourselves: This new relationship should just include you and the other person. Keeping things quiet can help build the strong foundation needed for a relationship. There is no need to bring any outsiders into what you two have started building; this will also keep your relationship on the down low. Why have everyone in your business from the very beginning?

3. Deny, deny, deny: While lying is generally considered wrong, if you both agree that you want to keep things private, denying you're in a relationship could be the solution. When seen together, you can explain that you're out as friends. Granted, at some point people won't believe you, but to keep things low key in the beginning, it may help.
