

Parenting Tips: 5 Tips for Co-Parenting

By Rachel Sparks

As if being a parent isn't enough stress, actively parenting with an ex can be a high stress situation that seems to have no silver lining. You ended your relationship with that person for a reason, yet you have to find a way to keep things not only civil, but open and respectful for the sake of your child(ren). How can you rock co-parenting as well as celebrity exes like Drew Barrymore and Will Kopelman?

Check out Cupid's parenting tips for co-parenting like a rockstar!

Cupid's Advice:

Remember that even in a marriage, people make sacrifices for their children. Being a parent is about focusing on the needs of your children before your own. Arguments, even among couples living together, should not be in front of children. A lot of the practices you had as a couple parenting together are still the same now that you co-parent with your ex, with a few additions. Here's our parenting advice:

1. Pick your battles: We've all heard this, but it's worth a reminder. Heck, put a stick note on your mirror with this on it every morning, it's that good. As much as your ex may grate your nerves, is every battle worth fighting with them? The end goal is the same for everyone, including the children and the exes: everyone wants to have a good time with their family. Is that little insult really worth the fight?

2. Share info about the kids: Too many times one parent stops communicating with the other. Remember even the non-custodial parent wants to know how the kids are doing in school. Share important things like doctor visits, grades, and important dates to ensure both parents know what's going on with their kids. The children will appreciate it more than they will ever tell you.

3. Don't use your kids as messengers: Kids shouldn't be asking who they're spending the holiday with, if they can get money for school clothes, or if they're in trouble for their bad grades. Basically, kids shouldn't be the ones delivering this news. Always communicate with your ex, even if you dread it. Let the kids be kids.

4. Respect the kid's time: Look, as parents we tend to be pretty nosy. Ultimately, we want to make sure our children are having a good time, but are also safe and learning the best lessons. If you don't necessarily trust an ex (they are an ex for a reason) it's normal to want to pry into the time the kids had with their other parent. Don't. That's special time they have and that should be respected. If there is anything wrong, more than likely, they will let you know on their own.

5. Single parent means alone time: There's a lot of challenges to being a single parent. Even if you do remarry, there's a whole new set of challenges. Co-parenting offers a unique opportunity to have the highly coveted alone time, something so allusive to most parents. Enjoy the precious moments you have to yourself while the kids are with your ex. You will value yourself and your time more, the time you do have with your children, and likely even your ex for allowing you to have time alone.

5 Celebrity Chef Brunch Recipes to Try This Weekend

By Rachel Sparks

Brunch is the perfect way to recover from a late night or the best way to start a late morning. Often starring traditional breakfast proteins such as eggs, bacon, or ham, brunch is a more filling option than breakfast and more savory than a light lunch. Try these recipes this weekend to help you, and anyone else, have a speedy recovery from weekend festivities or as the start (or end) of a weekend date idea.

Try these five celebrity chef recipes for your Sunday brunch this weekend!

1. Sarabeth Levine's Goat Cheese & Arugula Frittata: There's something about the word "frittata" that scares people, but you shouldn't worry. Frittatas are one of the easiest, low maintenance egg-based meals you can make. Scramble the eggs in a bowl, pour into an already warm pan, toss in goat cheese crumbles, arugula, and seasoning, and bake on low for thirty minutes. It's easy but delicious.

2. Suzanne Goin's Breakfast Sandwich: This open faced sandwich features brioche, prosciutto, gruyere, and a fried egg. All that means is fancy bread, pork, and cheese served with a fried egg on top. Sound fancy with this fast, high quality breakfast sandwich. Add arugula for a sprig of green and a slice of tomato for an extra juicy, savory bite.

3. Sam Crannell's Poached Egg Over Roasted Asparagus and Ham: This brunch is worthy of a white tablecloth and a mimosa. Slow cook the ham to help it soak up all of its own fat for a tender texture and rich flavor. Blanch (a fancy term for partially cooking in a boiling pot of water) the asparagus and then sauté to help them remain crisp even as they brown. Top with a poached egg. Once you crack open that extra runny yolk, you'll have a plate worth licking.

4. Classic Israeli Shakshuka: This Israeli classic is as easy to make as the frittata. The traditional recipe is eggs poached in a tomato sauce, served family-style in the cast iron pan. Make it more brunch-like with shreds of ham, sliced arugula, and goat cheese crumbles. Any variation you make will be delicious!

5. Alton Brown's Eggs Benedict: If you haven't heard of Alton Brown the food genius, you're missing out. Aside from his food science shows, Brown is known for his shows Cutthroat Kitchen and Iron Chef. His resume is intimidating, so we trust him with this classic. The trick for Eggs Benedict is perfecting the Hollandaise sauce, so be prepared to have a carton of eggs (or two) as you learn. But once it's perfected, this is the celebrity status brunch everyone will love.

Fitness Tips: 5 Couple Exercises That Are Worth the Sweat

By Rachel Sparks

Now that the holidays are over, we're no doubt regretting some of those holiday treats we consumed. The cold keeps us in, the sweets come out, and we're juggling between moments of extreme stress and joy with friends and family so our eating habits are erratic at best. Right after that came the new year with the promises we made to lose the weight we gained over the past couple of months. Let's break that cycle now by taking a cue from celebrity couples like Jennifer Lopez and Alex Rodriguez and start working out with our S.O's.

The hottest fitness tips start with you and your partner breaking a sweat together.

Working out makes us feel great about ourselves, but make it even better by doing it with your partner. Celebrity couples who work out together boast of strong bonds with their partner. There's nothing but good reasons to exercise with your partner, so grab them up off the couch and get going!

1. Hiking: We're starting easy and free (usually). If you or your partner are new to the exercising world, hiking is a great way to cheat the mind into thinking you're not working out. You can control your path, mileage, and speed so it's a great way to get into shape with a motivating view.

Related Link: Let Your Partner Be Your Inspiration to Getting and Staying Fit

2. Kayaking: Another way to trick those who hate traditional exercise into getting active involves another outdoor sport—kayaking. Most rental kayaks offer an option to share a two-butt kayak. It's a great workout for the arms and it challenges your communication and teamwork.

3. Rock Climbing: Let's keep it safe and stick with indoor rock climbing gyms until that confidence and strength has built up. The latest celebrity trend involves rock climbing gyms, but beware that there's a fair amount of trust involved. Your partner usually holds onto the rope that keeps you secure as you climb. When your arms start shaking, there's no better feeling than your S.O. cheering you on.

4. Kick Boxing: Don't do this when you're mad at your S.O. Or at least, don't miss the bag as you throw your anger-fueled upper cut and knock your partner in the teeth. It's a great way to relieve stress and learn self-defense in addition. Take turns on the offense and defense and offer each other constructive criticism. Hot celebrity couple Chris Hemsworth and Elsa Pataky are known to practice kick boxing together.

5. Yoga: Yogi's make intense positions look effortless, but be warned: there is a fair amount of knowledge and practice that goes into this sport. Couples who practice together help strength fine-tune muscles and flexibility. Bonus: you can do some really cool arial tricks together. Adam Levine and his wife Behati Prinsloo have been pictured holding plank together. And yes, holding your favorite position is an integral part of yoga.

Parenting Tips: Co-Parenting During the Holidays

By Rachel Sparks

The holidays are meant to be a time for family, friendship, and joy, but for a lot of families there's the stress of a divided household. Co-parenting can be stressful even at the best of times, but not everyone has an amicable relationship with their ex. Celebrities like Reese Witherspoon and Jennifer Lopez set high standards for what co-parenting looks like, and not all of us can reasonably achieve such a peaceful situation.

Read Cupid's parenting tips to navigate holiday stress.

While you may want to have your child(ren) on the exact day of the holiday, it's fair to assume your ex does, too. If you divide the holiday in half, then you don't get to enjoy all of your traditional celebrations without feeling rushed. So, how can you and your kids enjoy the holidays stress-free? Here's Cupid's relationship advice:

1. It's about the kids: Remember this as you feel frustrated with your ex's time demands. Any time with a parent is seen as magic for your kid, so don't spend that time being angry or disappointed. Remember, too, that kids can sense when you're upset, so put aside emotions when you're interacting with your ex to show the kiddos that mom and dad can get along.

2. Set up a routine: Children thrive off of routine, but so do co-parents with busy schedules. What's more, if a schedule has been written, it cuts down on emotional communication about the holidays. If not, then work on compromising holidays with your ex and setting up a schedule you can both respect. It will take a lot of pressure off of future conversations.

Related Link: Co-Parents: See How Stars Manage to Raise Their Children Post-Split

3. Find effective communication: If seeing your ex's face makes you want to hit something, consider an alternative way of communicating. Again, remember that co-parenting is still about raising a happy and successful adult. Shouting wars will not be conducive to the lessons you teach. If even hearing their voice makes you cringe, resort to e-mail; it's impersonal and typically gives an air of professionalism.

4. Terminology: Everyone knows to watch what you say about your ex in front of your kid, but also think about how you say something. Instead of saying, "This is my ex," which likely brings up a painful history for your child, say, "This is my child's father/mother." It allows the child to take ownership and pride in their parents, something every child and parent wants.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How to Cope With Stress

5. Try parallel parenting: Co-parenting requires both parents to remain pretty active in not only their child's life, but their ex's. Parallel parenting is still being involved with your kid, but keeping it hands off and at a distance with your

ex. Communication is at a minimum and when the kids are at your house, it's just about you and them, not what the other parent is doing.

Beauty Trend: 5 Face Masks to Try

By Rachel Sparks

Fall is coming. That means sugary delights, flavored coffees, chunky sweaters, and all those knits you've been dying to wear for the past six months. That also means dry skin, and what's worse than a flaky face? Celebrities like Kendall Jenner always have glowing skin, despite the season. How do they do it?

Follow this beauty trend, and check out our winter season face mask recommendations for all your skin care needs.

Our skin needs change as seasons move on. Age, hormones, stress, and make-up all add their set of troubles. When choosing a mask, focus on what your skin needs and what issue you want to target. Whatever your concern, be it wrinkles, hydration, brightening, lifting, or acne, we've got your introduction to masks.

1. Honey and coconut mask: Soothe those winter wrinkles with this double-power hydrating mask. Winter dries you out and no matter your age, those cold winds wear down the skin. Give your skin a break by re-hydrating, brightening, and lifting with a honey coconut mask.

2. Moisture bomb: For ultimate hydration, try a sheet mask. Sheet masks are the newest beauty trend and are worth trying; you'll fall in love! They cool, soothe, hydrate, and decrease puffiness. For extra hydration, don't wash your face immediately after taking off the mask; let your skin soak up as much moisture as it can.

3. Brightening mask: Brighten your skin for that healthy summer glow all winter long. Look for paraben, sulfate, and phthalate-free masks to avoid further chemical pollution. Continue use weekly, or as needed, until you find your skin to have that photo-ready glow.

5. Mud firming treatment: Mud masks are great outside of the spa, too. They pull the skin inward, tightening loose sections and reducing age lines by years. reproduce spa day at home for a return to a younger version of yourself.

1. Know what you want: Monogamous, long-term relationships are not for everyone. There's no right or wrong to what makes you happy, but you need to know what does. If you're ok with an on-again off-again relationship, stay the course. If each break-up tears you down a little more, it's time to reevaluate. You deserve what makes you happy, but it starts be knowing what that is.

3. Who do you want to be? What does the future version of yourself have to do with your current relationship status? Everything. Imagine who it is that you want to be. Does your partner support that? Does the relationship hold you back from that vision? The only way to become the person you envision is to start acting like you're that person now. If someone distracts you from that vision, realize it's not what you need and move on.

This royal celebrity baby is arriving in April 2018! What are some ways to decide timing when it comes to having children?

Cupid's Advice:

When baby fever hits, how do we know it's the right time? Kids are a serious, lifelong commitment and require more hours in the day than we have. While we may not all have celebrity babies, we understand that all couples, including famous couples, have to decide when it's the right time:

1. The puppy rule: We've all seen those happy couples who adopt a puppy and then announce their pregnancy a couple months later. Puppies, like babies, require late nights, selfless dedication, and constant attention. Can't handle a puppy yet? Hold off on those cute tiny toes until you can give all of yourself.

2. How's that career looking?: While not as demanding as a newborn, cultivating a stable and successful career takes a lot of time and dedication. As cute as those chubby cheeks are, wait until you can focus your time on your new baby and have the support from work.

3. That monster, debt: We've all been young, holding our first glossy credit card. There's appeal in swiping and getting what you want, but you have to pay for it at some point. As we get older, we accumulate student loan debt, car payments, mortgages, and medical bills. Even if you only have a few of these, think month by month. Will you be able to give your child everything you want them to have?

When baby fever hits, sometimes we can't say no. What are some other factors you consider before planning for your own bundle of joy? Start the discussion below.

There's another Jonas celebrity wedding in the works! What are some ways to personalize a marriage proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

Guys or gals, everyone dreams of those milestone moments in our lives. To ensure your proposal is just as unforgettable as this celebrity couple's, make sure you and your partner knows what the other wants. For the beginning of your romantic adventure, here is our relationship advice:

1. Public party or intimate moment: Some people like the spotlight and some want privacy to celebrate. Know in advance how each of you would like to pop the question to truly celebrate this moment together. Remember, this sets the dynamics for the rest of your relationship.

2. Ditch the diamond: Diamonds aren't always a girl's best friend. Be fearless and find a gem, cut, or band that makes a statement unique to you and your significant other. As a symbol of your relationship, the ring serves as an opportunity for bragging about how great you two are together.

3. Switch roles: Today, women are fighters more than ever. We get what we want because we have the freedom to make it happen ourselves. Why limit this to careers? Bend a knee to your man and take control of your relationship the way you want it.
