As of Tuesday night, the Bravo star began to follow McKinley once more, but her family members still aren't.

Fans have some opinions on what was behind this celebrity break-up. What are three good reasons to call off your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Breaking up is a big deal and shouldn't be done lightly, but there are definitely some instances where it's warranted. Cupid has some good reasons it's time to call it quits:

1. They're too clingy: At first, it's nice to be with someone who showers you with constant attention. But if they get angry or disappointed every time you go out with your friends or when you need a night to yourself then its time to take a step back and re-evaluate how healthy this relationship really is.

2. They don't make time for you: Even Prince Charming might forget to respond to a text every so often or be forced to cancel plans when something important comes up. But if you're never able to pin down your guy to hang out, that doesn't give you much time to have an actual relationship. This kind of guy typically isn't looking for anything serious, and if you are, then it's time to move on.

3. You can't trust them: No one likes a liar. If you have serious doubts about where they were when they said they were working late or worse, you catch them in a lie, it's time to dump them.

Real Housewives' Kandi Burruss sat down with Dr. Oz yesterday to talk about her new celebrity baby, her marriage and her body.

Check out what Kandi had to say about tackling a new baby:

On her post baby body, Burruss shares:

“Breast feeding is a major contributor, but also, I did not drink anything but water, no juice, no soda, nothing for the first month and a half. And no sweets because I’m a sweet eater, I love sweets; I can eat dessert after every meal. So I didn’t eat any sweets. It was extremely hard, but typically I give up something in the beginning of the year, every year anyway, as a prayer fast, but this year doing that with breast feeding, it just made the weight come off. And I’m actually smaller now than I was before I got pregnant.”

“That’s on his part, he’s helping me to be a better communicator because I am not the greatest at, you know, expressing my feelings. Like, I’ll shut down easily. What are some ways to keep your divorce civil?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your husband could not work through you problems made the decision to get a divorce. You want to stay civil with one another throughout the process, but aren't sure if that is possible to do. Cupid is here to teach you ways to keep things pleasant:

1. Make compromises: Divorces can often get messy. Both people involved want certain things in the divorce. If your soon-to-be ex spouse is dead set on getting your vacation home and you could care less, let them have it. It is pointless to start a huge dispute over property you don't even want. Be willing to let them have certain things, even if you don't think they deserve to have it. In return they will not pick fights when you make requests to keep the things you want.

2. Remember the good: In all marriages, there are ups and downs. As you are going through the divorce process, try to remember why you fell in love with the person. This will not fix your already broken marriage, but it will allow you to feel sympathy for them and not completely resent them. You and your soon-to-be ex husband will get along a lot better during the divorce if you respect one another in some way.

3. Move forward: The worst thing you can do during a divorce is bringing up old arguments. They are the reasons you chose to end the marriage and should not be mentioned again. The decision has been made to leave each other, so why go through the long and painful disputes again? Keep conversation light between the two of you during this time. Bringing up old wounds will only make you hate each other.
