

Celebrity Exes: Teresa Giudice Honors Estranged Husband Joe on Father's Day

 By Alycia Williams

In latest celebrity news, reality tv star Teresa Giudice honored her estranged husband Joe Giudice on Instagram for Father's Day. According to UsMagazine.com, Teresa's post was of Joe and their four daughters captioned, "Happy Father's Day, the girls miss you today & everyday!" Joe commented under the post and said, "Thank you for being my angels, for showing the world you are superstar."

These celebrity exes may be estranged, but they're keeping their parental duties front and center. What are some ways to keep things civil with your ex for your kids?

Cupid's Advice:

A break-up is never an easy thing, and a lot of the times you never want to see your ex again, but if there are kids involved, then that's out of the question. If you are looking for ways to keep things civil with your ex for your kids, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Only talk when you have to: If you and your ex ended things badly and you have kids together make sure that the only reason that you both are communicating is the kids. Keep every conversation, phone call, or text message pertaining to the children. Don't talk about what went wrong in your relationship, it'll just create bad blood between you two.

2. Set your hurt/anger aside: Wearing your emotion on your sleeve won't benefit anyone and especially not your kids. It's ok to be hurt, but separate your feelings from your behavior because you don't want to put your kids in the middle of your drama.

3. Don't try to be in control: Walking all over your ex when it comes to decisions about the kids is not helpful, and it won't be good for your co-parenting relationship. Keep the communication gate open when it comes to the kids and make sure that you both make decisions for the kids together.

Celebrity News: Teresa Giudice Says She's No Longer 'Physically Attracted' to

Husband Joe

By Hope Ankney

In the latest celebrity news, reality TV star Teresa Giudice opened up about her marriage to estranged husband Joe during the reunion of The Real Housewives of New Jersey. According to UsMagazine.com, she was anything, but gentle. Andy Cohen asked her back in October if she was still attracted to her ex-husband, and she said she wasn't. In the previews of the episode, he asked her again, months later, and she was still firm about having no physical attraction to him. She even went as far as to say that Joe wanted to have sex on their trip to Italy and that she was thankful for her youngest daughter sleeping in the bed with her every night. "It was a good c-kblocker."

In celebrity news, Teresa Giudice is no longer attracted to her husband. What do you do to get the spark back in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes, the attraction that you have for your partner can fade. You can get into a routine that causes the romance to flicker. Or, your honeymoon phase has ended, and it's hard to navigate the relationship in the same way you did before. Being physically attracted to your partner is an important aspect of a relationship's longevity, and keeping that fire alive isn't always as easy as it seems. If you're having trouble with finding that spark again, don't worry! Cupid has some love advice that can help you relight that flame in your relationship:

1. Watch old videos: If you're married, sitting down together to rewatch your wedding video can cause you both to remember why you fell in love with one another in the first place. Even if you aren't married, old videos with each other in the peak of your relationship can be the catalyst for jump-starting the emotions and attraction that you might've lost along the way.

2. Plan a trip: A lot of times, a relationship can suffer because it's been harder to spend as much time together as you used to. Planning a trip to go away together for even just a couple of days can do wonders for a relationship that hasn't gotten alone time in quite a while. Existing with one another away from your day-to-day life is a great way to rekindle relationships.

3. Reenact your first date: A fun way to bring the spark back into a relationship is to reenact the first date you guys went on. Whether that be a dinner date, a trip to the movies, or whatever it may be, it can be a cute way for both of you to reminisce on what initially caused you to fall in love with this person. Besides, if the first date was bad, you both can laugh about it together all the way through.

Celebrity Couple Kelly Ripa & Mark Consuelos Send Daughter Off to College

By Katie Sotack

It's off to school season, and celebrity parents are not immune to their nests becoming smaller. Live! host Kelly Ripa and Riverdale actor Mark Consuelos recently sent their second oldest and only daughter off to college. Consuelos uploaded a photo with the caption "2 down... 1 to go", referring to the couple's third child. Using the same picture, Ripa shared the news via Instagram, where many celebrity friends were sympathetic to the news. Lisa Rinna, Real Housewives of Beverly Hills star, who recently sent her daughter off to college as well, commented several sobbing emojis in solidarity.

This celebrity couple's nest just got a little bit smaller. What are some ways to deal with an empty nest when your children leave home?

Cupid's Advice:

It's college season in America! Parents cry and young adults rejoice as they ship off to schools across the country. Empty nesting may seem daunting at first, but think about all the perks of your children leaving home:

1. Reconnect as a couple: It's likely that you and your partner have not lived alone since before your child was born. Once your baby moves out, recommit to your relationship. Being home alone with your partner means date nights in and walking around in your underwear again. A child leaving is nothing lost; it's readjusting to a life you once had.

2. A new relationship: When your child moves away, your relationship will morph. Likely, it'll get better. The saying "absence makes the heart grow fonder" is absolutely true in this case. Instead of relying on you for their needs, they will learn to care for themselves. In doing so, your relationship will become more balanced and less demanding on your end.

3. It may not be permanent: In today's economy, moving out is not always permanent. It's very possible your child will be moving back in after college or if their job goes south. This is both totally normal and hope for you to have your baby under your roof again.

Reality TV Star Lea Black Says, "Once You Find the Right Person, You've Really Got to be Committed to Having Equal Power"

 By Sarah Batcheller

The ever-glamorous Lea Black has appeared on The Real Housewives of Miami since season 1. Her charm and sass – not to mention her whirlwind lifestyle among Florida's elite – have drawn audiences in. With a steady celebrity marriage and beloved thirteen-year-old son, the reality TV star has also balanced a cherished domestic life with all the glitz. She hosts an annual charity gala to raise money for troubled teens and, in addition to her philanthropic efforts, is the president and CEO of The World of Lea Black, a multi-brand company that offers everything from jewelry and handbags to beauty products.

Now, in her upcoming novel Red Carpets & White Lies, Black has penned a fictional depiction of the scandalous, unpredictable lives of Miami's top socialites. In this exclusive celebrity interview, we had the chance to speak with the newly-minted author about her book, the Housewives, and her best love advice.

Reality TV Star Discusses Her Glamour-Filled Upcoming Novel

The spunky Texas native believes that the city of Miami is one of the best in the world, so it's no surprise that she wanted to capture its essence in her novel. "Miami is a very complex city, and it's very international – there's a very diverse crowd," she explains. "So I think it is one of the most exciting cities in the world because it really is a gateway to Central and South America. It's so multi-cultural; you get everything from the really serious intellectuals to the people who came here wanting to live the American Dream to the riff-raff who come and go and sort of reinvent who they are."

Of course, the best people to inspire the characters in Black's novel were none other than herself and her intriguing social circle. So we had to ask: Are her characters based off of real people? "They all are in a way," she confirms. "But they're compositions of people. I would take the personality traits of one person along with the character of another and kind of camouflage them."

Whether or not we'll see the The Real Housewives of Miami stars, whom readers may be able to identify in Red Carpets & White Lies, grace the small screen again is still up for debate. The reality TV star says, "Bravo continues to say they haven't made any decisions, and I think that's totally true. Our ratings were certainly close to some of the other shows that were renewed, so they could justify bringing the show back."

The network may be rethinking the cast too. "I think that some of the personalities on the show weren't as well-received by the audience as they would've hoped...and that may include me!" she adds. Having formed friendships with other Housewives, including Lisa Vanderpump, whom she did business with in Los Angeles, and Kathy Wakile, it's safe to conclude that Black won't be falling off the radar anytime soon.

Despite her busy career, her number one focus is always her family. Not only do the jewelry designer and her husband Roy love to have date nights when they travel, but they work to raise their son to be a respectable young man. "It's funny; I've sent my son twice now to etiquette and charm school! As for my husband, he does good and bad, so I point it out to my son when he does something that's not acceptable!" she reveals with a laugh. "I put a big effort into teaching my son manners. I think if you don't have an ounce of manners, then later in life, people will view you differently." As for their summer vacation plans, the family of three are planning to travel to Los Angeles, something they do each year.

Lea Black Shares Best Love Advice

The reality TV star's happy celebrity marriage can be attributed to her commitment to working at her relationship every day. She believes that communication is key. "You should communicate before things escalate, not after," she insists.

“And you need to be on the same page in life. If you focus on the ‘me’ instead of ‘we’, then that relationship is not going in the right direction.”

The beauty guru believes that, after you find the right person, you need balance. “Once you find the right person, you’ve really got to be committed to having equal power, an equal balance,” she asserts. “That’s why I’m so against guys who make girls sign prenups – because it situates the guy to have more power through money. You have to go in expecting both people to have an equal say.”

Black also thinks that, if you’re facing disapproval from your friends and family, you need to make a decision about who’s worth keeping in your life. “You have to tell your friends to support you unconditionally. If not, you can be friends with them at a distance and be amicable, but they can’t be in your daily life,” she believes. “If they’re judging your relationship, then it’ll just cause problems. If they’re going to be in your life, they need to be supportive. They don’t get to criticize your spouse unless it’s something very serious that requires an intervention.”
