By Sanetra Richards

In actuality, she's no "pretty little liar." According to UsMagazine.com, Lucy Hale is dating country singer Joel Crouse and is not afraid to tell all. "They are seeing each other. He is in L.A. right now to visit," a source reveals.

"It isn't anything serious just yet." The 24-year-old actress and her 21-year-old lover were recently spotted courtside at a Lakers game, in which Hale Instagram'd: "First lakers game. Was really great teaching this one the rules of the game. And seeing him looking like a kid in a candy store @joelcrouse." The two were photographed again on May 8th at LA's restaurant Crave Café.

The Pretty Little Liars star has also dated actors David Henrie, Chris Zylka, Graham Rogers, and The Cab keyboardist Alex Marshall.

In an interview with NYLON in December 2012, Hale made it know that she has "learned something good and positive" throughout all of her relationships. "I'm a woman, but I'm not fully the person that I think I will be. We're all just trying to figure it out. Some of us just have to do it publicly."

What are some ways to take your new relationship slow?

Cupid's Advice:

You are excited about your new relationship and want to shout it out to the world, on top of Mount Everest. You have all of these plans lined up and cannot wait to execute each one of them. However, you have learned from past relationships that this is not always the best idea. Cupid has a few tips to help you take this one slow:

1. First comes love: Then comes marriage. It is perfectly OK to fantasize about a dream future with your significant other-who knows, it could possibly come true! However, do not be so quick to start making wedding plans. Give yourself (and your partner) time to actually be in the relationship before jumping the broom.

2. Hold off the family & friends: You can never be too sure on how long a relationship will last, but you can be careful on what is done throughout that period. Introducing your partner to your family and friends is not always the best idea. Yes, feel free to tell them about the person who has your interest, but save the meeting until a later date.

3. Actually date: A major part of a new relationship is dating. This is the time used to go on dates and getting to know each other while having fun. Take full advantage of these moments and let the relationship take its course, instead of planning everything out.

How do you know when you've found 'the one'?

Cupid's Advice:

Stumbling upon love is one of the greatest feelings of all time. Admit it, your head is up in the clouds and you have uncontrollable stomach flutters. As if announcing The Real Girl’s Kitchen tv show wasn’t enough, Matt just took me by total surprise and proposed...on April Fool’s Day of all days! The moment was genuine and sweet (like him!) and I couldn’t wait to say yes!”

What are three unique proposal ideas?

Cupid’s Advice:

Planning a wedding proposal is far from an easy task. Just like the wedding, it takes preparation (and lots of meditation). You have to strategically map out every single detail, from who is going to be involved, where it is going to be, and what day! Not to mention, you have to keep it a secret. Before you can worry about all of this, thinking of how you want to ask for your partner's hand in marriage is most important. Cupid has a few cute ideas to make things a little bit easier:

1. The museum: Ask your local museum if you could place an enlarged framed photo of you and your partner in the photography section with the proposal as the caption. Take your significant other to the city's museum for what will seem to be a regular date. Look at the various pieces and critique each, as usual. Once you get to your 'proposal piece,' wait for his or her reaction as they read the picture's caption.

2. Write 'note' cards: Send or leave your love sweet note cards throughout the day, whether it is of a favorite quote or a reminder of their beauty. Do about five to ten cards. On the final one, ask for their hand. Priceless moment!

3. Deliver it in the mailbox: Make sure your significant other is the one to check the mail the day you want to propose. Set the ring in the mailbox beforehand. Watch him or her as they open the mailbox to see the box among the other envelopes. Voilà ! Here is your chance to propose.

What are some ways vacation can make you closer as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Getaways with your honey are well-needed not only during the rough patches, but also just to keep the spark alive or possibly light the fire even more. Cupid has a few other ways a vacation can help strengthen your relationship:

1. Alone time: One of the biggest perks about a vaca is the isolation spent with your partner. The world back at home is cancelled out for that period of time. Your primary focus is having an enjoyable break and giving all of your attention to each other. Maybe tension between the two of you is slowly taking a toll and you feel a barrier shaping, take a simple vacation to ease away the stress.

2. More experiences: Whether it is a trip to you all's favorite spot or somewhere fresh, completely new memories will be created. You and your significant other will see things that you have never seen before, forming a tighter bond in the relationship. When you are back at home one day, you may see may come across something that triggers a memory from the vacation, and (hopefully) you will smile at the thought of being with your partner.

3. The afterglow: Post vacation romance can definitely keep a relationship going. You may even catch yourself wanting to relive the moment.

Lorde's Boyfriend James Lowe Says He 'Couldn't Be Prouder'

By Sanetra Richards

Lorde and boyfriend James Lowe are making it known that they are on each other's team. Through all of the negative comments and criticism towards their relationship, the 17-year-old singer and 24-year-old photographer have seemed to be unbothered by it all and remained mute – not anymore. According to UsMagazine.com, the pop star's beau posted a blog about dating the "Royals" songstress: "I've written, deleted, re-written, and deleted this post at least five times over the past few months, wondering when would be an appropriate time to start writing again," he says. "Since originally sitting down to write this post, Ella (Lorde) has become a two-time Grammy winner. She has taken home a Brit too," he gushes. "Currently she is on the opposite side of the world on tour. As much as I miss her, I couldn't be prouder of what she has achieved so far."

As mentioned previously, the couple has been exposed to many counts of cyber bullying. Lowe addresses this, saying the negative side is "only a small part" of his world. He continues to say, "There is a bright, shining silver lining to this thing I've been exposed to. I've been able to tell tales of the many amazing people I've met along the way – from fellow photographers, to artists I've always admired and never thought I'd get to meet, let alone have a simple thing like coffee with."

How do you show your appreciation for your partner's accomplishments?

Cupid's Advice:

Your partner's hard work has paid off and he or she has achieved all of their goals and you want to show him/her that you are beyond proud but do not quite know how. Cupid is here to help:

1. Say it: One of the simplest ways to let your significant other know you appreciate all of their dedication is to give a verbal compliment. Believe it or not, an "I'm proud of you" actually goes a long way. Boost their ego and confidence a little more and give a reason(s) why you are so proud of them. Maybe even leave a sticky note somewhere expressing your gratitude.

Kim Kardashian and Kanye West Look Casually Glam Post-'Vogue' Cover Reveal

By Sanetra Richards

Kimye is nothing short of fabulous these days. Kim Kardashian and Kanye West were seen looking grand while walking through the LAX airport on Monday, March 24th. The two have been the topic of conversation since revealing their April 2014 Vogue cover and spread. The reality star was dressed in form fitting gray jeans, a gray V-neck, a black blazer jacket, and nude pointy toe heels. Cupid's Advice:

There's no hiding your emotions when love sweeps you off your feet. You have this glow, and the people around you notice and talk about it (whether good or bad). The love bug's bite also seems to have a side effect of unrealistic fantasizing. So how do you and your partner manage to remain true to yourselves and to each other? Cupid has some tips:

1. Obtaining humbleness: There will be numerous compliments on your relationship, but you and your partner must not let it affect you negatively. Often times, compliments are turned into major ego boosters, and the feeling of being invincible overcomes all else. Don't let this happen to your relationship! Remain flattered by the admiration instead of entitled.

2. Coming to an agreement: Have frequent conversations with your partner on how your relationship is and should be. Maybe you find yourself constantly envisioning this happy fairy tale and things always going your way, while your significant other sees it completely differently.

In this case, you would rather have the second one. Cupid has some ways on how a worthwhile vacation can strengthen your new or existing relationship:

1. Making decisions: Before you are able to actually take the romantic trip, planning has to be done. If it is a joint effort, the two of you have to come to an agreement on the destination, dates, etc. Whether you realize it or not, you and your new partner are actually testing the waters. Find Out What Romantic Thing Aaron Paul Tells His Wife Every Day

 By Sanetra Richards

The two are almost at their one year anniversary and are still keeping things fresh. At a recent screening, Paul told People, “I fall more in love with her every day. Being married to my wife is incredible.” The 34-year-old went on to say, “I tell her every day that I love her, I’ve got to. If you marry someone, you have to let her know how much you care and I do that as often as I possibly can. She really is the best wife and she should know that.”

What are some important things to tell your partner every day?

Cupid’s Advice:

One of a relationship’s key aspects is the emotional attachment, which comes with lots of expression. If you want to maintain the connection with your partner and lessen the chaos, conveying your emotions on an everyday basis is essential. Cupid has some advice to help keep the spark alive:

1. Appreciation: Sometimes we forget to tell a person we are constantly around “thank you.” We start to believe it does not need to be said because it is understood. Do not be mistaken. Your partner needs to know you appreciate them for all they do, not only for you, but for others as well. There is more than one way to show your gratitude – it could be through an easy home activity, such as cooking a romantic dinner for them. Whatever it may be, your partner should feel like they are wanted.

Related: Aaron Paul Says ‘Marriage is Easy’

2. Affection: A simple “I love you” can go a long way, and we tend to say it often as we are departing from someone or just because we feel obligated to. However, if you want to spice it up with more, add “I love you, and I also love how you...” Pay your partner compliments that will actually require you to take time out and think of your favorite qualities in him or her. Do not be opposed to leaving cute notes around the house or sending warming and flirty text messages.

3. Ask: Often times, you may have so much going on outside of your relationship, you become consumed with just that. Instead, make it a part of your daily habits to ask your partner about how their day is going/went. A way to avoid the redundancy is to actually be genuine in the conversation. Further it even more with questions about their current thoughts, such as “What’s on your mind?” Your interest in them will be clear.

Beware of Sweetheart Scammers This Valentine's Day

 By Becky Frost

Rumor has it that many celebrities have dabbled in online dating. And they're not alone. A recent study has determined that one in ten Americans has used online dating or a mobile dating app in their quest for love. It has steadily gained popularity as many find it an ideal way to meet people and discover a good match for themselves versus more traditional means of dating.

Most online daters have the best intentions to simply find their soul mate but beware there are unscrupulous suitors who are out to do more than steal your heart. If online dating is on your agenda this Valentine's Day season it's important to be aware of these individuals, labeled by the FBI and others as "sweetheart scammers."

Their goal is to swindle money or bank account information from unsuspecting online daters by creating a fake profile designed to match a certain type of person: employed, affluent and trusting. As time goes on the sweetheart scammer will scheme to seem perfect in every way, even down to the same likes and dislikes as the target. Once trust has been established, the scam usually escalates to the thief's unveiling of a problem involving money. Typical scenarios include the request for funds to be able to travel to meet the target or to help the thief's sick relative. Love can often blind the victim to only think and act with their heart rather than their head in what otherwise may appear as an obvious scam.

So what can you do to avoid sweetheart scammers? ProtectMyID, a leading provider of identity theft detection, protection and resolution offers up these valuable tips to help protect your online identity and steer clear of fraudulent schemes in the online dating world:

Don't give away too much: Don't disclose personally identifiable information with a prospective dating match until there is an established level of familiarity and trust. This also includes your hometown, home addresses, work specifics, phone numbers, educational background and information about children via profiles and through photo identification.

Related: Technology, Social Media and Dating – The Good, the Bad and the Oops!

Play detective: Don't assume that a prospective dating match always will be truthful. Ask a person to tell you about him or herself; you then can conduct a little background work on websites and see if conflicting information exists. Also, be wary of any requests for financial loans or assistance of any kind.

Create the perfect password: For online dating profiles, do not use passwords that incorporate publicly known information.

While sweetheart scammers definitely operate all year long, they are particularly noticeable this time of year when everyone wants to celebrate romance. These scams are a double whammy for the victim because they are affected both fiscally and emotionally. Online dating can open up your world to true love but approaching it with your eyes wide open is critical to avoid not only heartache. but also becoming a victim of fraud.

'The Bachelor' celebrity couple Sean and Catherine Lowe were able to add some personal flare to their celebrity wedding. What are some unique ways to incorporate your personal style into your big day?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding day is fast approaching, but you still haven't found that special "thing" that will make your wedding a one-of-a-kind experience. Don't worry, Cupid has your back:

1. The decorations: Don't pick the same old boring decor every other couple has picked before you. Think outside of the box. Try different color schemes, different flower arrangements. Better yet, create some of your own decorations for the ceremony and reception so that they are truly unique. If you have a creative eye, you can come up with something nobody has ever seen before.

2. Plan it yourself: This option might be a little tough to do. When it comes to your special day, plan the whole event yourself. This will allow you to have more freedom of thought and ideas as you go. It can be extremely stressful so we do not recommend this for just anyone. Obviously, you can ask for help whenever you need it, but for the most part, doing it by yourself can feel like a huge accomplishment.

3. The little things: The music. The food. The guest list. Think long and hard about ways you can make the small details creative and fun. Ask your partner to help out. Maybe he/she joked about having chicken nuggets at the reception? You don't have to order fancy filet mignon just because that's considered to be a "normal" entree. Do your own thing. If you want a personal friend to DJ at your wedding, let them. After all, this is YOUR wedding day.

1. You've dated long enough: If you've dated your partner for longer than five months, then it's definitely time to let the world know about your new romance. Everyone deserves their privacy and you don't have to give away every single detail about your relationship, but wouldn't you like to spill a little gossip to your best friend? 1. Budget: How big your wedding is should be based on how much you're willing to spend. If you plan on going all out, then the obvious choice would be to invite as many people as you want.
