This royal celebrity couple is following protocol when it comes to COVID-19. What are some ways to support each other through the pandemic?

Cupid's Advice:

This pandemic has been a crazy roller coaster ride and it's hard to determine what's coming next, which can make your relationship rocky after a while. If you are looking for ways to support your partner through the pandemic, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Make time for each other: It can be easy to get set in your ways and do what you want to do during the pandemic, but set aside some time for your partner. Whether it's twice a week, once a week, or everyday, it's nice to have time specifically set aside for your partner.

2. Try to get out when you can: Being in the house all day can be really suffocating, so try to get out with your partner. You don't have to go to an extravagant place together; it can be just a walk around the block or you can sit right outside your door together. Try to breathe in that fresh air together.

Celebrity Baby: Meghan Markle Reveals Due Date

By Mara Miller

In the latest royal celebrity baby news, Meghan Markle revealed her due date during a walkabout in Hamilton Square with Prince Harry, according to EOnline.com. Markle is currently six months pregnant; the celebrity couple is expecting their first baby between April and May. The Dutchess and Prince have decided to wait to find out the gender of their baby. This is the closest confirmation of her due date available since Kensington Palace previously announced the baby is expected in Spring 2019.

Meghan Markle and Prince Harry are about to have their first celebrity baby. What are some ways of announcing your due date to the world?

Cupid's Advice:

Announcing your due date isn't something you need to keep a secret if you don't want to. What are some ways you can tell your family and friends your exciting news?

1. Photographs: You could do a mini photo shoot with the ultrasound picture and baby shoes. If you have an older child or a pet, include them in the announcement photo. You could have your older child standing next to a chalkboard with something that says, "Big (sister or brother) starting (insert due date)". For your pet, you could do something like taking a picture of their paws next to baby shoes. Have fun and get creative!

2. Announce to immediate family: Announcing your pregnancy and due date is an exciting time for you and your partner, as well as for your family and friend. If you don't want to immediately let everyone on social media know before your close circle does, plan unique announcements for each group! Don't let the pressure of sharing your due date stress you out; it doesn't have to be extravagant. A phone call to your mother (instead of texting) means more because it's personal. Or maybe a cup that says, "World's Best Grandma/Grandpa/Uncle/Aunt" and a picture of the ultrasound with the due date will be more memorable for years to come.

3. Make something special (or have something special) made to celebrate: You can go beyond having a cup made when you announce your due date. If you're creative with programs like Photoshop, you could create a movie poster with the due date or make a small trailer with a video editing program (like iMovie or Windows Movie Maker). If you create the movie poster, you could put it in the baby's room once they're born.

Why Celebrity Couple Prince Harry & Meghan Markle Are Ignoring Royal Rules

By Haley Lerner

In celebrity news, royal celebrity couple Prince Harry and Meghan Markle are apparently ignoring some big royal rules. A source told People that Meghan “has found certain rules in the royal household difficult to understand, like the fact that the Queen prefers women in dresses or skirts rather than trouser suits, and is often asking Harry why things have to be done a certain way. I think she finds it a little frustrating at times, but this is her new life, and she has to deal with it." It appears Meghan is willing to challenge some of the rules of the monarchy, such as public displays of affection. According to EOnline.com, Meghan held on tightly to Harry when they made their first public appearance at the 2017 Invictus Games. Meghan has also made it clear she's not afraid to voice her political opinions, proclaiming that she is proud to be a woman and a feminist on her page of the official British monarchy website. She also voiced her opinions at the first-ever Royal Foundation Forum this past winter, "I hear a lot of people speaking about girls' empowerment and women's empowerment; you will hear people saying they are helping women find their voices. I fundamentally disagree with that because women don't need to find their voices, they need to be empowered to use it and people need to be urged to listen. I think right now in the climate we're seeing with so many campaigns, with #MeToo and Time's Up, there's no better time than to really continue to shine a light on women feeling empowered and people really helping to support them—men included in that." Meghan also hasn't shied away from more modest clothing, opting to bear a sliver of her shoulder at her Trooping of Colour debut in June and often wearing suits instead of only wearing the traditional attire of a skirt or dress. Meghan and Harry also chose to make personal decisions regarding their wedding in May. The couple personalized their wedding vows, had a lemon elderflower cake instead of a traditional fruitcake and chose Reverend Michael Bruce Curry, a Chicago native and the first black presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, to deliver a sermon on their special day.

This royal celebrity couple isn't all about the royal rules. What are some ways to define your own path as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Want to define your own path as a couple with your partner? Cupid has some tips on how to do it:

1. Stick to your morals: Just like Meghan, it's important that you hold on to your morals even while being in a relationship with someone. Don't be afraid to voice your opinions and be proud of what you value.

This celebrity baby news has us excited for the new addition to the royal family! What are some ways to prepare for a third child versus a first or second?

Cupid's Advice:

There are a some things that you would do differently to prepare for another child versus when you were preparing for your first one. Here are a few:

1. Prepare your children for the new baby: Let them know what they should be expecting. You don't want things to be a surprise to them. You should talk to them about how much of your time the baby will be taking up, how they should treat the baby, and also what the new rules may be. You have to establish boundaries and help your kids transition.

2. Spend lots of time with your children: Like said before, the new baby will take up tons of your time. So have some quality moments with your kids. Plan family time a few times a week. And continue planning family time after your baby is born. It will be less time, but planning will help you not neglect that duty.

By Jessica Gomez

In celebrity news, Meghan Markle was baptized at the Chapel Royal at St. James' Palace on Tuesday, according to UsMagazine.com. We can see that the royal couple is making moves before their royal celebrity wedding. In attendance were Prince Harry, Prince Charles, Duchess Camilla, and one of Markle's friends. This royal celebrity couple is preparing for their big day, this time religiously. What are some ways to reconcile different religions when you're going to marry someone?

Cupid's Advice:

It's okay to have differences when in a relationship. However, certain differences take more of a toll on a couple than others. The commitment to different religions is one of them. Cupid has some tips on ways to handle a situation like this one:

1. Share your histories with one another: Besides helping you and your significant other to open up and know more about each other, sharing histories will help you see where the other is coming from. Discuss the religious and cultural pieces of your life with an open mind. Listen and share.

2. Respect each others beliefs: It is important that respect takes place always. Whether you agree with someone's religious views or not, you should show respect. The minute disrespecting takes place, a new problem is created beside the original one of difference in religion. Showing respect can even sometimes fix the problem, because you both feel safe and not attacked.

3. Face all issues that may arise: Do not just ignore any issues that develop due to different religious views. It is better to nip things in the butt before they get worse. Many religious people are serious about their beliefs, so it is best to face obstacles right on. Communicate effectively always. Listen to your partner, and discuss your point of view clearly as well.

Royal Celebrity Wedding: Meghan Markle & Prince Harry to Face Danger on Their Wedding Day

By Jessica Gomez

In celebrity news, royal celebrity couple Meghan Markle and Prince Harry face a potential danger: being a target.

According to EOnline.com, former Head of Royal Protection and Chief Superintendent of the Metropolitan Police Service Dai Davies said: "History has a habit of repeating itself. In the last thousand years, there hasn't been a King or Queen that someone hasn't tried to murder." In addition, it cost $33 million to protect Prince William and Kate Middleton at their celebrity wedding in 2011 – one of the most pricey security operations. Undercover police, investigations to avoid terrorist attacks, snipers, and an extensive search for explosives hiding in any place you can think of were all part of that price. Harry and Meghan's protection plan for their big day could possibly cost more than William and Kate's – yikes! What makes them a bigger target is Harry's active military status in Afghanistan, plus the hate letter containing anthrax (an infectious disease caused by the bacteria Bacillus anthracis) aimed at Meghan. As we can see, the royal fam needs all that protection. We wish this beautiful couple the best of luck!

Royals have a dangerous element to their celebrity weddings. What are some ways to keep drama from infecting your wedding day?

Cupid's Advice:

We all want our wedding day to be perfect, or at least close enough to it. We plan ahead to try to create this perfect day, but there's more to it. Cupid has some ideas on how to keep your wedding day as stress and drama free as possible.

1. Stay organized and delegate when needed: If you plan ahead, like most of us do for our wedding day, then you're off to a good start. But maintaining everything organized is the tough part if things don't go accordingly. And let's face it, many times things don't go according to plan. And don't be a total control freak either. It is your wedding day, but you need to learn to pass down tasks when necessary. Communicate properly and trust in your close friends and fam to help you get the wedding you deserve.

2. Adjust your guest list and seating arrangements properly:

This may not be the case for everyone, but sometimes we need to take more consideration in who will be on the guest list and who will be seated with who for more than just the typical reasons. Do certain people not get along or have drama with one another? Then make sure they are seated far away from each other! And take any other actions necessary to keep drama from going down on your big day.

3. Meditate: On your wedding day, you should meditate. It's an exciting day, but also stressful because you obviously want it to be magical. Try meditating one to three times that day to keep you calm and grounded. We know you don't have tons of time, so five to 10 minutes each time should do the trick. It's worth it!
