A scenic wedding opens the door to millions of incentives for your special day. These three definitely rank high on the list for your special day with your new hubby:

1. Your relationship is literally held high: You and your man are elevated on one of nature's highest pedestals. In ancient cultures, gods and goddesses lived on the mountain tops, and most momentous ceremonies happened upon mountain tops. On your wedding day you are announcing to the world your love, so why not literally shout it from a mountain top? Conclude your vows by shouting your "I dos" for all to hear.

Mountains unite sky and ground, lightning, thunder, nature, and wind. They encompass all of the natural elements in just one scene. This can equate to love. Just like your marriage vows describe, love encompasses a lot as well. Sickness, health, for richer and poorer, there is a lot to consider that creates the bond of love. What responsibilities come with being married?

Cupid's Advice:

Dating is to basic math as marriage is to differential equations; it's a whole new level of work.

Cupid has a few tips to remember when taking the leap of faith:

1. The beauty of monogamy: The two of you made a promise to stay faithful through good times and bad. It takes a responsible couple to make that realization and strive to uphold it every day.

2. 'A Whole New World': This means more than just living together. They say that once you're married, everything changes; the best couples are the ones who adapt to the changes and make things work.

3. 'We Can Work it Out': The truth is that you and your spouse will fight a lot in your marriage. If you're serious about your commitment, then you'll have to remember one word – compromise.

For a young child, the announcement of a new brother or sister can be both exciting and terrifying. Remind your children just how special they are to you and what a great role model they can be for their new sibling:

1. Spend quality time with your child: Spending time with your son or daughter when you're expecting will make them feel secure in that they are not being replaced by the new baby.

2. Include them in your plans: Take your child shopping with you to pick out the baby clothes and furniture. It's a great way for them to bond with you and their future sibling.

Is it truly possible to be “just friends”?

Cupid's Advice:

Why is it okay to have boy-friends as a kid, but it's considered weird as an adult? Cupid thinks you can be just friends with someone of the opposite sex:

1. If it starts at work: If you meet someone of the opposite sex at work, it's a lot easier to keep it on the friend level. There's no expectation to take the relationship past being friendly, because a work environment keeps romance out of the equation.

2. If you grow up together: If you've been friends with him or her from the time you were little, it's easy to stick with your close friendship. When you meet someone at a bar, it's tough to start a friendship, as there are expectations of making it more. Knowing someone from back in the day takes away that expectation.

3. It just happens: Some people simply have an easier time making friends with the opposite sex and connecting with them on a friendly level than they do with someone of their own gender. No one goes out in hopes of landing themselves a great friend of the opposite sex. It's something that happens without even realizing it.

What are three important things to know about your partner before marriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

When you get married, you promise to cherish another person “until death do you part.” That’s why it’s so important to really get to know your partner before walking down the aisle. Cupid shows you what you absolutely must know about your partner before saying “I do”:

1. Beliefs and values: A person’s religious beliefs and moral values make up a large part of who they are. While you probably won't agree on everything, at least be open to your partner's views. If your beliefs and values differ too much, you might want to rethink taking such a huge step in your relationship.

2. Goals in life: You and your partner should have similar goals if you want to spend the rest of your lives together. For example, finding out that he doesn't want children before getting hitched might make you change your mind.

3. Bad habits: It may sound insignificant, but get to know his habits before settling down together. If he has some habits that you just can't learn to live with, it's best to find out before you tie the knot.

Fred Armisen Already Moved on From Mad Men Star

How do you keep your cool when your ex moves on shortly after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

It's easy to get infuriated when it comes up in your Facebook feed that your ex is already seeing someone else directly after a breakup. Here are some tips from Cupid on how to handle it when your ex has moved on rather quickly:

1. Think before you react: It's normal to want to confront your ex about how angry you are, and wonder if your romance ever meant anything to him or her in the first place. However, the best reaction in this case is usually no reaction.

2. Get your mind off things: When you first discover your ex's new relationship, it may linger on your mind. Try to focus on other things, such as hobbies or work. Keeping your focus somewhere else will keep your feelings in check.

3. Seek the company of friends and family: Even if you aren't ready to move on, that doesn't mean you have to be alone. Spend time with close friends and family. If you want to get out your feelings, these are the people who will listen.
