It's no secret that you spend a lot of time outdoors in the summertime and are thus exposed to the harsh rays of the sun, which can be damaging to your skin. That's not what you want when you're hoping to get that sun-kissed tan that will have you looking hot for your beau. But don't worry! Savane Organic Skincare will rejuvenate your skin and give you a fresh look that's perfect for the warmer season.

The Savane Range collection blends together ancient and traditional knowledge with modern green science to give you Africa's unique botanicals in their most natural form. The products work hard to penetrate the skin to help restructure, regenerate, and revitalize it. The main goals of these items are to protect your skin, to help in the fight against premature aging, and to restore the skin to its natural balance.

There's no need to let unhealthy skin get in the way of your summer romance. Instead, invest in the Gentle Exfoliant, Purifying Toner, and Protective Moisturizer from the Savane Range collection. First, the exfoliant, made with Rooibos flakes and sugar, will gently polish your skin without damaging it. It'll also stimulate cell rejuvenation and soften your skin, thanks to the Marula and Jojoba oils.

The toner, which is one hundred percent natural, will brighten up tired and dull skin. It's job is to refresh and even out your complexion. The product's powerful antioxidants – aspalathin and super-oxide dismutase – will help prevent premature aging and fight to protect your skin against all of the hazardous things that we face daily, like pollution, smoke, sun exposure, and stress.

Finally, lather up with the moisturizer. It will give your skin the deep hydration it needs to look radiant. The antioxidants from Rooibos and Baobab protect the skin against damaging free radicals, while the Manketti and Yangu oil protect it from the sun. Plus, the Kigelia tightens your skin and can repair the damages caused by the sun.

CupidsPulse.com will be giving away these three Savane products to one lucky reader. Before you know it, you'll have healthier and smoother skin. You'll also have the confidence you need to attract the attention of your crush and to feel comfortable in your own skin!
