How can having a big family bring you closer together as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Having a big family can be a lot to take on, and with more people comes more opportunities for family drama and toes being stepped on. However, they're your family, and sometimes it's great to have such a big support group around for you and your partner. Through the ups and downs, they're always around, and when it comes to moral support, the bigger the better. So here are some advantages to having another child:

1. You can spread the love around. In small families you might feel a bit cramped, always socializing with the same people and having the same conversations as your partner, maybe butting heads once in a while. With a big family, you can spread out and talk to many different relatives in one evening without having to hang around your partner the entire time. By the end of the night you'll both have different stories to tell each other and continue the fun.

2. You will have more role models for your relationship. With many different relatives come many different couples to share stories with. Use this opportunity to learn from their experiences and use what they've learned in your own relationship.

3. You'll get more support during tough times. Sometimes you and your partner will face rough patches, but with big families come a lot of comfort. They can talk to both of you, give their point of view, and help you fix whatever wrong. The more advice and comfort you get the better, and there's much more to go around with a large family.

2. Friends and family approve: While you do have the final say about a guy, your inner circle’s opinion does matter. It’s true that you can’t please everyone, but if a vast majority of your confidants don’t approve of the relationship then there has to be a reason why.

Whether you have money to spare or you're struggling just to get by, where you live can't always be planned. You may need to relocate due to a job change, or maybe you simply need a change from your current situation. Either way, Cupid has found some ways to help you adjust to your new surroundings:

1. Research the area: One of the best things you can do for yourself and your loved ones is to take a look at where you're going ahead of time. City-Data.com is a great site to learn about schools, neighborhoods, and local shopping establishments across the country.

2. Plan a look-see trip: When making a big change, it's helpful to visit the area ahead of time if you can, even if it's just for the day or weekend. You can learn a lot about a location by driving through it.

3. Talk to your family: Even if the location choice isn't negotiable, it's important to include your kids and partner in conversations where you can discuss options, such as school choices, that are available. Remember, they're going through these changes with you.
