

Single Celebrity Parents: Balance Your Career & Parenting Like Sandra Bullock

By Bonnie Griffin

One single celebrity parent who seems to have it all figured out when it comes to being a full-time actress and mom is Sandra Bullock. According to RadarOnline.com, Bullock was already helping raise her three stepchildren in her previous marriage when she decided to adopt her baby boy from New Orleans. Bullock handled her quickly changing family situation and becoming a single mom with grace, making a smooth transition into her role as a single celebrity mom.

This single celebrity parent balances working full-time as an actress in the public eye. What are some ways to balance being a full-time single parent and a full-time career?

Cupid's Advice:

Trying to balance work and being a single parent can be the most difficult job of them all. Spending time away from your child to work, then coming home to take care of them and provide a happy, healthy home can be a lot to juggle for anyone. Cupid's has some parenting advice to help you balance work and parenthood:

1. Find your support system: Being a single parent doesn't have to mean you are all alone. Everyone needs support, whether it be someone to listen when we need to vent or to lend a helping hand. This includes single parents. Reach out to family or friends and find people who are willing to listen and occasionally pitch in when you need some time for yourself.

2. Take care of yourself: It is easy to focus all your energy on making sure your children eat well and take their vitamins so that they are healthy, but it's not as easy to remember to take care of yourself. If you are going to pull double-time working and being a single parent, taking care of your own health is essential so that you can care for your child and not wind up completely worn down and exhausted. Your health will help you keep up with your busy career and allow you to be the best parent you can be.

3. Have a backup plan: The unexpected can happen to anyone. We would all love to ditch work and take care of our child anytime they are sick or don't have school, but that isn't always realistic when you're working. It is important to have a plan for what to do when something happens out of the ordinary, like losing a job or handling work when you have a sick child. Having a friend, neighbor, or family member as a backup for childcare when you cannot take your child to daycare or school will help you balance work and parenting. Folks in the IT world know that passing the Cisco 200-125 test to get the ExamSnap's Website credential can make all of the difference. Other parents simply go back to school to find what they love to do.

In celebrity news, Halsey denies she's dating John Mayer with a snarky remark on social media. What are some ways to shoot down false rumors about your relationship??

Cupid's Advice:

Rumors have a way of catching fire once lit; it's information that can't be trusted. Rumors give room for doubt in a relationship. Cupid has some ways to shoot down false rumors about your relationship:

1. Confront the source: If you know who spread the rumor, you should talk to them. Be civil and keep your head high and talk to this person honestly. If you don't want to face them alone bring a few friends. Don't put yourself in harm's way or a dangerous situation if you know that talking to this person in question will try to do you no good.

2. Broadcast the rumor: Verbalize the rumor in a bold way. By acknowledging the rumor, you're taking away some of its power. People spread rumors to gain social status and they only have that if they have the inside scoop. By broadcasting their inside info, this person loses credibility and motivation to spread the rumor. Because Everyone will already know. Sometimes talking about is the easiest way to prove how ridiculous the rumor is.

Cupid’s Advice:

Does anyone really know how to keep things simple when love could be on the line? Cupid has some tips on how to keep things casual at the beginning of a relationship:

1. Be comfortable, but don’t get comfortable: A casual relationship allows you to spend time with someone you are attracted to and sincerely like being around. But aren’t ready to share your secret stash of voodoo dolls with. You should be able to have fun, keep things light. Don’t talk about anything too deep. Just enjoys each other’s company.

Corinne Olympios just went through another celebrity break-up very soon after announcing her relationship. What are some ways to know if your new relationship will last?

Cupid's Advice:

When you begin a relationship, there's always an element of uncertainty. Sometimes, you just know when somebody's going to be around for longer than a few dates. Here's what Cupid has to say:

1. They're eager to be with you: Everyone's busy to some extent. However, it is important to recognize the difference between not having time and making time. If your partner seems super eager to spend a lot of time with you, and never (or very, very seldom) postpones plans, that is very telling! Even better: when the time they want to spend with you is thoughtful or seemingly mundane (i.e. offering to tag along with you while you run errands.)

David Foster Talks Life After Celebrity Divorce from Yolanda Hadid

By Whitney Johnson

Music producer David Foster recently opened up about his celebrity divorce from Real Housewives of Beverly Hills alum Yolanda Hadid and revealed that being single in his sixties is better than expected. According to UsMagazine.com, in a recent interview with Vanity Fair, Foster candidly said, “I tend to go from marriage to marriage – leaving one wife for another. This is the first time in my adult life that I’ve been single. It’s a very powerful feeling, but I’m not used to it.” The former celebrity couple first announced their split in December 2015, and Hadid officially filed for divorce the next month.

This celebrity divorce proves that being single is a “powerful feeling.” What are some ways to embrace being single?

Cupid’s Advice:

For many people, it’s tempting to jump from relationship to relationship, but sometimes, the best thing is just to focus on yourself. Take time to get to know who you are and what you want out of life. Whether you’re recovering from heartbreak or happily enjoying your alone time, check out this love advice for three ways to embrace being single:

1. Be selfish: When you’re in a relationship, it’s important to compromise, but when you’re single, it’s okay to make it all about you. Watch your favorite movies. Read your favorite books. Spend your time however you want to spend it – and don’t feel bad about it! Do whatever makes you happy.

2. Focus on your non-romantic relationships: It’s easy to let your friendships fall to the wayside when you’re in love and wanting to be with your boyfriend 24/7. Now is the time to rebuild those relationships. Make an effort to grab coffee with an old college friend or throw a dinner party for your best girlfriends.

3. Set new goals: Instead of wallowing in self-pity and loneliness, use this opportunity to better yourself. Professionally, go after that promotion at work, or if you're unhappy in your current job, look for a new one. Personally, train for a half-marathon, paint your bedroom a cheery yellow, or start writing that book. Just because you don't have someone by your side doesn't mean your life can't be happy and fulfilled.

January Jones Opens Up About Being a Single Celebrity Mom

By Justin Thomas

In a recent celebrity news from Red Magazine, Mad Men actress and proud single celebrity January Jones opened up about the only (little) man she needs in her life. That, of course, being her 5-year-old son, Xander. She has never revealed the identity of Xander's father to the public, saying that that information is strictly the business of her son. Jones, 38, said something a lot of modern day single moms might need to hear: "It's good to have strong women around a man. To teach him to respect women. He doesn't have a male person in his life saying 'don't cry' or 'you throw like a girl.' All those s—ty things dads accidentally do." She went on to say, "I just don't feel I need a partner. Do I want one? Maybe. But I don't feel unhappy or lonely,".

This single celebrity is totally fine being alone! What are some ways to embrace your single lifestyle?

Cupid's Advice:

It can sometimes be hard to walk in a single person's shoes but it doesn't always have to be. Here are some tips to help make the stride a little easier:

1. Single doesn't mean alone: Keep family and friends close to you heart. Make sure you make and spend time with loved ones. Don't underestimate the value of family and friendship and all of the love and support they offer. We all get by with a little help from our friends.

2. Enjoy your own company: Learning to enjoy your own company isn't just important for single people; it's essential for everyone. From the social media crazed world we live in today to the office to the local mall, we're surrounded by people from every angle. Getting that alone time can help you not only rejuvenate, but also to learn a lot about yourself. Maxwell Maltz said it best: "If you make friends with yourself, you will never be alone."
