In celebrity couple news, pregnancy isn't keeping Sophie Turner from protesting racism with her hubby, Joe Jonas. How do you know you've found a partner with values that align with your own?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding “The One” is always going to be a long process, but finding someone who shares similar values as yours is especially difficult to find. If you're wondering if you and your partner have similar beliefs and ethics, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Just simply ask: Don't be afraid to ask your partner how they feel about current events, politics, and social issues. It shouldn't be an interrogation session, but just you just casually asking your partner a question. This is so much easier than trying to figure out on your own, and you're bound to get a more real and authentic answer.

2. Are they just as excited as you are?: Whatever makes you excited when it comes to your values, whether it's protesting, donating, or a post on Instagram, should make your partner feel the same way. Typically, if you both feel the same way about something, you'll both want to help. On the side, the things that make you angry or upset in society, should make them feel the same way.

3. Do you both see eye to eye on the simple things?: If you two are disagreeing on something simple in the grand scheme of things, then you probably don't have similar ethics and values. Pay attention to the small things you may be bickering about and take a birds eye view to it. You may be able to see your partner's values more clearly.

Relationship Advice: How to Handle Engagement Envy

 By Dr. Jane Greer

Fashion model Gigi Hadid really wants her boyfriend, Zayn

Malik, to propose after she found out her ex, Joe Jonas, just got engaged. This is a common response of feeling envious when your ex has moved on from being with you and gets engaged to someone else. It's difficult to feel like you are a step behind when you see a former partner move forward with increased commitment, planning a future life together with someone else. This can be even more challenging if you are either at a standstill in your current relationship or worse if you're not in one at all. Engagement envy can strike and push you ahead when in fact you might not be ready to get engaged, as well as lead to pressure that can create conflict.

How, then, can you handle envy and see the potential good you have right now instead of focusing on what could have been or forcing what isn't meant to be yet? Here's some relationship advice.

Even though a relationship is over, there can be that urge to look back and wonder what you could have done differently. There might be a lot of bad that led you to the breakup, but somehow people tend to remember that pot of good that brought and kept you together, no matter how small it might be. With that in mind, it is hard not to wonder what you might have been able to do to work things out with your ex. Should you have tried harder, or given the love you once shared a second chance? These feelings can really come to the forefront when your ex becomes engaged to another person. You might even think that could have been, maybe should have been, you.

Those negative feelings swirl around the sense that you've been cheated. You were the one who put up with so much negativity and worked at getting your partner to change for the better, and now someone else is going to reap the benefits. Or you might feel it's not fair that your ex so easily found another partner while you might still be looking for Mr. or Mrs. Right. Or, as in Gigi's case, you might actually be part of a new couple, but seeing your ex get engaged to someone else stirs up your own desire to do the same. This could be stemming from not wanting to see your former lover be more successful than you, resulting in your forcing your new partner to take the next step before either of you are ready.

Related Link: Celebrity Wedding: Joe Jonas & Sophie Turner Are Engaged

All of these scenarios have the undercurrent of envy, which is never a pleasant place to be. So what can you do? First and foremost, remember what was different about the relationship you used to have and why you chose to end it in the first place. Trust your gut that you were taking care of yourself, and the breakup was in your best interest. If your ex was the one to call things off it might help to realize that the expectations he or she had for you were probably unrealistic, and take comfort in the fact that you are now free from that conflict and disappointment.

If you are currently not involved with somebody, it is really important to keep in mind that the connection you had with your ex served a purpose in helping you grow and discover what you are looking for in someone and what you're not. Even though they are now involved with someone else, try to keep that separate from your life and instead let it shed a light on what you want in your next relationship. Rather than getting caught up in feeling left behind or abandoned, or a failure that you and your ex couldn't make it work, focus on what you took out of it to better judge and choose your next partner.

Finally, if you are in a relationship as Gigi is, and your ex is already engaged to someone else, consider that this new situation for your ex may perhaps be a rebound romance. They might be in a hurry to have a commitment, and it still might be just as fraught with the complex issues you had together. Just because he or she is choosing to get married now does not mean it will necessarily be smooth sailing ahead. If you can, sit back and maybe find some relief in the fact that it is not you on the road to marriage with someone you already know brings discontent and hard times to the table.

Hopefully Gigi and Zayn will get engaged when the time is right for them, not her ex.

There's another Jonas celebrity wedding in the works! What are some ways to personalize a marriage proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

Guys or gals, everyone dreams of those milestone moments in our lives. To ensure your proposal is just as unforgettable as this celebrity couple's, make sure you and your partner knows what the other wants. For the beginning of your romantic adventure, here is our relationship advice:

1. Public party or intimate moment: Some people like the spotlight and some want privacy to celebrate. Know in advance how each of you would like to pop the question to truly celebrate this moment together. Remember, this sets the dynamics for the rest of your relationship.

2. Ditch the diamond: Diamonds aren't always a girl's best friend. Be fearless and find a gem, cut, or band that makes a statement unique to you and your significant other. As a symbol of your relationship, the ring serves as an opportunity for bragging about how great you two are together.

3. Switch roles: Today, women are fighters more than ever.

We get what we want because we have the freedom to make it happen ourselves. Why limit this to careers? Bend a knee to your man and take control of your relationship the way you want it.

Celebrity News: Sophie Turner Says Dating Joe Jonas Is 'Like Living in a Fishbowl'

By Marissa Donovan

Sophie Turner is absolutely sick of having her relationship under a microscope! According to Marieclaire.co.uk, The Game of Thrones star shared that she's very happy with her relationship with Joe Jonas, but hates how the mundane moments of their relationship are being photographed. Jonas, who has a dating history of past celebrity relationships, seems to be used to the public attention from fans and paparazzi. Hopefully the couple can work past this issue that comes with being a celebrity couple!

This celebrity news has us realizing the unique challenges # celebrities face in relationships. What are the most common place challenges “normal” couples face, and what should you do about them?

Cupid's Advice:

Your relationship can come with problems no matter how long you and your partner have been together. Here are some common problems couples run into while being together and how to fix them:

1. Communicating: One of the easiest relationship problems to solve is also the one that's the hardest to follow through with. Communicating feeling and problems in your relationship is very important and has to be done if you both want to stay together. If you struggle with sharing your concerns while being together, see a couples therapist to help translate emotions that you and your partner are experiencing!

2. Respecting Boundaries: Like Sophie Turner, boundaries might be your biggest issue with your relationship! Whether it's family members or your partner, sometimes they can cross the line on discussing uncomfortable issues or invade your personal belongings. Although it may feel awkward at first, confront them by addressing how you feel about their behavior and ask them to please stop. If they do not stop the unwanted action, then seek advice from a couple therapist who can personally help you tackle the issue.

3. Jealousy: This problem is annoying and can sometimes make a person feel ashamed during their relationship. The person who is feeling jealous needs to admit the emotion and discuss their feelings. The other partner can accept and reassure their relationship is fine, or find a minor way to fix the jealousy problem. For example, if a partner is jealous of a co-worker, explain that it's just a business relationship and avoid an outside relationship with the co-worker. Jealousy comes in many forms, but it can be resolved through communication!
