How can a couple tell when they’re ready for another baby?

Cupid’s Advice:

A baby brings a couple joy and strength in their relationship, but also a higher level of responsibility and stress. So, how do you know when you’re ready to bring another bundle of joy into your family’s life? Cupid offers some advice:

1. Ask yourself questions: Before planning a pregnancy, you should ask yourself, “Why do I want this baby?,” “How will this baby affect our lives?” and “Are we ready for this change?” If honest answers to these questions from you or your partner seem convoluted, you should consider waiting until your lives and relationship are in a more stable place.

2. Consider economics: According to the Wall Street Journal, the average cost of raising a child today is over $225,000.

You and your partner should consider whether you're financially stable enough and can provide a good life for yourselves, your other child or children and the new baby before considering having another.

3. Keep family in mind: The most important thing for you to consider in this decision is your other child or children.

Are they happy, healthy and stable? Will you have enough time, money and attention for all your children? You should also consider other family members, such as siblings and parents, and whether they will be available to help you and your partner with your new bundle of joy.

David & Victoria Beckham Argue on 'Ellen'

According to People, all-star couple David and Victoria Beckham got in their first fight in 11 years this week on The Ellen DeGeneres Show. Is it ever a good idea to fight with your partner in public?

Cupid's Advice:

Though disagreeing about daily chores is hardly a public brawl, fighting in public is never part of a healthy relationship:

1. Unwanted attention: Though you may feel strongly about your end of the argument, fighting in public can be embarrassing for both you and your partner. Wait until you can discuss things in private before you vent. It'll also give you some more time to think.

2. Overhearing: When you fight in public, people around you inevitably overhear. Often times you're having a heated discussion about topics that aren't necessarily meant to go public – personal issues. If you don't want the whole world knowing intimate details about your relationship, refrain from duking it out in a public arena.

3. Trouble: In extreme cases, you might be deemed a “trouble customer” if your fight originates in a place of business. The last thing you need is that type of reputation at your location grocery store. Think about the consequences of your public dispute before you engage in one.
