

Single in Stiletto Show: What Makes a Man See You as Marriage Material

On this week's Single in Stiletto show, founder Suzanne Oshima and romance artist Zan Perrion share their video dating tips for what makes a man see you as marriage material.

Video Dating Tips: Love Advice to Make a Man See You as Marriage Material

The relationship experts believe that a man looks for a woman who: takes care of him, who inspires him, who is supportive, who doesn't emasculate him, who doesn't try to change him, and who needs him. If you follow this love advice and possess these qualities, the guy you're dating may just start to see you as a potential wife!

Dating Advice Q&A: Is It Appropriate to Play Hard to Get Via Texting?

Question from Kaitlin B.: It sounds silly, but I think a lot about my texts before I send them to a guy I've just met. When and how do I play hard to get while texting? What things should I consider before pressing send?

Read on to find out what our relationship experts think!

Dating Advice from Our Relationship Experts

Suzanne K. Oshima, Matchmaker: I think it's interesting that you prefaced your question with "it sounds silly"...and the reason why I bring that up is because I think deep down you know this is completely silly! You're thinking way too much about what you should or shouldn't do when it comes to texting a guy, which is probably taking all the fun out of the beginning stages of dating and just getting to know him.

If a guy really likes you, whatever you write in a text is very rarely going to change how he feels. However, if you play too many games and play hard to get, you're more likely to lose him than to get into a relationship with him. Here's my best dating advice: Stop thinking too much about what/how/when to text him and just go with the flow. You might win him over by being yourself!

Related Link: Is It Okay If My Boyfriend Texts His Ex?

Paige Wyatt, Reality Star: It's very easy to overthink when it comes to texting someone you've just met. It's important to note that you don't always have to play hard to get. Sometimes, it's better to just act like yourself and reply back without too much thought. If you feel like you need to do a little more to keep this person interested, don't reply back right away; it can be enticing if you don't seem too available. You don't want them to think they don't have a chance with you, but you can let them know that you have your own life and that you're a busy girl.

If you still want to play hard to get, don't be too cold. Remember that it's called "hard to get," not "never get!" My best dating advice is to make sure they know you're in demand but that you're also willing to make time to see or talk to them.

Related Link: Dating Advice: Is It Bad to Double-Text a Guy?

Robert Manni, Guy's Guy: The most important consideration is if texting is the best way to play hard to get. The written word, particularly emails and texts, can be easily misinterpreted. Playing a finesse game like "hard to get" can be challenging when the playing field is limited to a few brief words and phrases. If setting the hook and making a real connection is your goal, I suggest a phone call or, better yet, meeting up in person. Remember that guys are visual. There is no better way to make a man want to see you more than by looking into his eyes and smiling.

Relationship Advice for the Early Stages of Dating

These dating experts share their best relationship advice for what keeps a man's attention after the first few dates. In the beginning, of course, your chemistry is based primary on your looks, the way you smile, and how you smell. But if you want him to stick around, you have to make him happy. It's really as simple as that! The best way to do so is by communicating clearly. Men get confused easily, so say what you mean and mean what you say. If you follow this relationship advice, you'll quickly move from "just dating" to a committed partnership with the right guy.

Love...Fact or Fiction?

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima talks to Duana Welch, author of Love Actually, about whether or not you can really find love by not looking for it. According to the dating advice shared by these relationship experts, that approach won't work. Instead, if you want to find love, you should: join several online dating sites; be open to meeting men anywhere and everywhere; get out and do things; and make eye contact and smile when talking to someone you're interested in.

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima chats with Dr. Diana Kirschner, best-selling author and CEO of Love in 90 Days, about the most important thing you can do to find love. First, you need to get a Love Mentor, someone who can guide you in the right direction to find The One. Once you have a Love Mentor, they can help you understand: what you want in a man and a relationship; if you're sabotaging yourself in relationships; how you're isolating yourself from meeting someone special; how being too picky is keeping you single; and how sleeping with someone too soon can ruin a relationship.

Single in Stiletto's Show: How to Move On After a Breakup

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima chats with dating coach and author Abiola Abrams about post traumatic love disorder, which refers to being stuck in the past and unable to heal after a tough breakup. First, you have to identify the signs of this disorder: bed hopping from man to man; spending late hours at the office to avoid dating; jumping into another bad relationship; and being afraid to be alone. If you recognize any of these symptoms in your behavior, it's time to find a cure, which includes five simple steps. Start by doing a self-assessment; then, list out past relationships and the lessons you've learned from them; next, learn how to love yourself unconditionally; additionally, learn more about yourself through the dating process; and finally, take baby steps towards meeting the right man.

Single in Stilettos Show: How to Talk About Being Exclusive with Your Partner

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima and dating coach Robert Manni discuss how to talk about being exclusive with your beau. The author of The Guys' Guy's Guide to Love shares five important things to remember when you bring up this subject: make sure it's a good time to have a serious conversation; do it in person; let him know it means a lot to you; never give him an ultimatum; and remember that it's about what you both want.

Related Link: Robert Manni on How to Get a Second Date

Ultimately, it's a conversation between the two of you. Although you may be focused on sharing your feelings with your partner, be sure to listen to him in return. Pay attention to how he responds. If he says he's just not ready, respect his wishes and be patient. However, if he says he doesn't want to be exclusive with you, it may be time to move on.

Q&A: Should I Be Concerned About My Man's Social Network Activity with Other Women?

Question from Jane C.: This guy and I have been dating for a few months now, and everything is going great, but I sometimes get bothered by the way he interacts with other girls on social media. It will pop up on my Facebook Newsfeed that he's liked a bunch of girl's photos or commented on some girl's picture. Should I read into this, or am I just being paranoid?

Related Link: Is It Okay If My Boyfriend Texts His Ex?

Suzanne K. Oshima, Matchmaker: When you're dating someone exclusively, it just means that you're not going to date other people. It doesn't mean that he can't be friends with other women or like their photos on Facebook.

However, that being said, his behavior could be inappropriate based on the type of photos he's liking or commenting on. If the photos are innocent in nature, then I wouldn't be so worried. But if the photos are sexy or provocative photos of the women and he's making inappropriate comments, then it's definitely a red flag that he may have a wandering eye. Not to mention the fact that it's completely disrespectful to you! If the tables were reversed, I'm sure he wouldn't appreciate you liking and commenting on photos of other men with their shirts off or flexing their muscles.

It's not something that I would say you should break up over. However, it is something that you should keep an eye out for.

Paige Wyatt, Reality Star: The way people interact online can give you a good insight to their personality. In your boyfriend's case, he seems to be flirty and outgoing. He doesn't think twice when he comments on girls' pictures or posts on their walls because that's his personality. He probably doesn't see anything wrong with it. His online interactions are completely innocent to him because he doesn't think too deeply into them. Although it may not be a problem to him, it is for you. It's important to be open and honest with your feelings and opinions, so let him know what you're thinking. Otherwise, he may never change his behavior.

Related Link: Should I Delete or Unfriend My Exes on Social Networks?

Robert Manni, Guy's Guy: It's called social media for a reason. People connect online and socialize. Unfortunately, a lot of guys raised on social media think the way to score dates is sitting in front of their laptops in their tightey whiteys and hitting on random women. And that could be the case here. Without knowing the parameters of Jane's relationship, it's easy to condemn this guy for blatantly flirting while he's dating Jane.

If they're in an exclusive relationship, Jane might ask why he's so friendly with these other women. If he's evasive or she doesn't buy his answer, she has some choices. She can put up with it (not recommended), return the favor and also flirt online, or start dating other people – at least until he realizes what's good for guys can be very good for the ladies.

Single in Stilettos Show: Why You Can't Make Him Love You

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima talks to Duana Welch, PhD, author of Love Actually: 10 Proven Steps from I Wish to I Do!, about why you can't make a man fall in love with you. Usually, if a woman asks the question, "How can I make a man love me?," it's because the relationship is one-sided. It's impossible to make a man see you as his perfect match if he simply doesn't have feelings for you. Remember that love is reciprocal – you can't make him love you if he doesn't!

On this week's Single in Stilettos show, founder Suzanne Oshima talks to writer, speaker, and author Zan Perrion about the best way to start a conversation with a man. He's worked with thousands of men and really knows what they want from women. The problem, he says, with women approaching men to start a conversation is "they're damned if they do, and they're damned if they don't." If they don't say hello to that cute guy in the corner, they go home alone because he's not doing his job and being the man. But if you do make the first move as a woman, even if the relationship works out, you may forever be holding up his end of the bargain. Listen up for more great dating tips from Perrion!

On this week's Single in Stiletto show, founder Suzanne Oshima talks to passionate living coach and author Abiola Abrams about ways you're being unavailable and how to attract love in your life. Here are some things you may be doing to block love from entering your life: You're not really trying to meet the right man; you complain to your friends and family that there are no good men out there; you think all men are cheaters; you think it's impossible to meet a man because there are more women than men in your city; you keep making excuses as to why you can't meet someone; you're stuck in a past relationship; you're using your looks or work to hold you back; you think men your age just want to date younger women; you think of yourself as a victim; or you're afraid of the love you deserve, being vulnerable, and/or intimacy.

Cupid wants to know: How do you keep an open mind after a not-so-great first date?

Q&A: Should I Tell My Friend Her Crush Has Been Facebook Messaging Me?

Question from Amelia S.: This guy who my friend has been hanging out with a lot will randomly message me on Facebook whenever I'm online. It's always harmless stuff like, "What are you up to?" but it still catches me off guard. Should I tell her, and if so, what's the best way to bring up the subject?

Suzanne K. Oshima, Matchmaker: You know that saying "you're stuck between a rock and a hard place?" Well, guess what?

You're in a no-win situation! From what you said, it sounds like your friend just likes him and isn't dating him yet, so "technically," she can't get upset that he's contacting you. Now, I say "technically" because we both know that, if you tell her, she will be upset and hurt.

Now, while you may think that his messages to you are completely harmless, men don't do things without some sort of intention. Without knowing the entire situation, I'm going to guess that he's not just looking for a friend and that those harmless messages are going to lead to something more.

So here's my advice to you: If you truly value your friendship with your friend and have no interest whatsoever in this guy, then I suggest you ignore his "harmless messages"...because it's just going to lead to a no-win situation for everyone involved.

Related Link: Should I Delete or Unfriend My Exes on Social Networks?

Paige Wyatt, Reality Star: Absolutely tell your friend that this guy has been messaging you. If it truly is harmless, he won't be embarrassed or upset if she brings it up. If he does have an ulterior motive, then you warned your friend, and it's now her move. It's much better to be honest with your friends about situations like this one. If you didn't tell her and she found out, she may get upset with you. If it really is nothing, then what's the harm in letting her know?

Related Link: Can You Tell By Someone's Social Network If They're The Relationship Type?

Robert Manni, Guy's Guy: Some say where there's smoke, there's fire. In this case, it's hard not to miss the smoke – but let's not rush to judgement. When a guy is really interested in a woman, his focus is on her, and he curtails his flirting. Maybe this guy just wants to establish good relationships with his leading lady's BFFs. Still, I'm not sure if this is the best way to do it. He must know that girlfriends talk. And when friends talk about the curious actions of a guy, his behavior and character go under the microscope. At this point, I'm not sure that's in his best interests.

As for you, for now, I suggest you either ignore his Facebook messages or keep the exchanges polite. Over time, his true intentions will surface. When they do, you can determine if it's necessary to let your friend know about his correspondence.
