Millionaire Matchmaker: Patti

Stanger on Being Single, Celebrity Relationships and Love in NYC

By Lori Bizzoco

Can't get enough of Patti Stanger and her millionaires? Here at Cupid's Pulse, we can't either. That's why we were excited to talk to her about the upcoming premiere of The Millionaire Matchmaker.

This season, Patti and her team (Chief Operating Officer, Destin Pfaff, and his fiancée, Vice President of Matchmaking, Rachel Federoff), are back in her hometown of Los Angeles, ready to put their matchmaking skills to work to find love for those millionaires and one millionairess. Newly-single and ready to step out into the dating world again, Patti not only is looking for love for her clients this season, but she is also on the prowl herself, looking for her very own "Mr. Right."

That's right! Patti is back and she's skinnier, nicer and single as ever! Cupid's Pulse participated in a recent media conference call where Patti offered some words of wisdom and insight on what we can expect to see this season:

This season, you're going to be featured on dates. Can you tell us about your experience?

Yes. In the 13th episode, I actually date and do the mixer process. It was the scariest time of my life. When I'm dating, I am a totally different Patti. I'm soft, subdued, and submissive – completely different than business Patti. My ex used to ask, "Can we switch the business mode off and go back to sweet Patti?" My show-runner turned to me one day and said, "No one is going to believe you. They are going to think you are acting." I'm very quiet when I date – that's just how I am.

Is there something now you realize about dating on-camera that you didn't before?

Yes. I've realized that I usually tend to date down. I've never dated a rich guy. This guy I met on the show is probably one of the richest guys that I've dated, and he isn't even that rich. I think I would like to date a millionaire, but I think it would be nice if I did it off-camera. I'd like to date someone who makes equal or more money than me and romances me that way, but I haven't met anyone like that. I would still have to be sexually attracted to them. One question on my application is: "Would you rather have looks or money?" I'm a looks-person, whereas a money-person is someone who doesn't care about that. The reason that I say that is, getting looks and money together is really hard to find. It is never easy, especially at my age.

What are your thoughts about having a baby?

I would not have a baby without a man. It's not that I couldn't, but I wouldn't feel comfortable. I am adopted, and my mom was married three times. I had a lot of issues with that. I've wanted a kid forever, and I've wanted to adopt, but I want to have a partner when I do it.

How did guest stars Jenny McCarthy, Tori Spelling, and Perez Hilton impact your show this season?

Jenny is one of my closest friends. Actually, she was one of my first famous friends. She comes on the show to help a guy who is kind of a nerd in Silicon Valley find his sex appeal and figure out what to say on a date.

Tori is on the second episode. We have a multi-millionaire who believes that when you're pregnant, you have to stop working and never work again. He doesn't think that you can do both at the same time. So I wanted to show him that Tori didn't live off her family's money. She built her own career, and she didn't marry rich. Tori proves that you can work and also have babies – and chickens too (she has an animal farm in her house)!

I really wanted Perez to date, but he didn't want to do it on camera, so we met at his house. He is adorable and lost all that weight, so he looks hot and happening. He actually interviewed me for his online show and asked a lot of personal questions. He really has an ear for music and has been my source of music inspiration. It is going to be really fun – he is a really good interviewer, and a different person these days. Since he lost the weight, he is nicer. I think that's what happened to both of us – we both lost weight, and now we are nicer. At least, that's what people tell me. You tell me when you watch – do I still have the bitch in me?

Last season, we interviewed Millionairess Beth Shak. She ended up surprising us all by bringing her “gay husband” on the date with her. What shockers can we expect to see this season?

We only have one millionairess this season. I wanted more, but Bravo didn't want it. They had a nightmare with the women last season. But, we do have one woman who is British and owns a stripping facility. She probably makes Shawna look sane. When you see this girl, you'll have to tell me what you think. I give her the most amazing guy, and she doesn't see it.

Are there any celebrities out there who you'd like to help find love?

Well, I probably would put George Clooney in boot camp with Tiger Woods, Jesse James, and Arnold Schwarzenegger. Although, I think George is a serial monogamous. He dates someone for two years, and then gives his woman a parting gift. He is like Simon Cowell – you get cash and a car. He is not as bad as Tiger, Jesse, and Arnold though. They are in a world of their own.

Other than that, I would probably want to help Sandra Bullock, because I feel so bad for her. I would set her up with someone outside of Hollywood.

In fact, there are a lot of girls in Hollywood that need to look for love off of the red carpet. J. Lo is going to be one of them. It's like I've said: no Hollywood husband is safe. She needs an entrepreneur, who lets her shine on the carpet; who has way more money than she does, like billionaire status; who gives her the world, but lets her walk the carpet alone. Because her life with Marc Anthony was like they were competing in the boardroom and in the bedroom. It's never going to work. I knew it wouldn't work. I mean, she was literally unengaged to Ben Affleck for five minutes, and then went straight to Marc Anthony and married him a week later. It was ridiculous.

What are your thoughts on Jennifer Aniston?

We don't know what goes on behind closed doors. But, the guy she is with now is pretty good for her. He produces and writes major movies, and he acts. He is a triple-play for her, which is a good fit for her right now. I'm hoping that they work out. And I hope his Ex finds someone, but if not, she can give me a call.

What advice would you give to singles in New York City based on your experience last season?

The problem is that there are five women to one guy and the men in NYC know that they have the power, whereas in LA, it is much closer to 50/50. For women, it is a terrible thing to be in a city where you feel like you don't have power. Eventually, they get bitter. So one of the rules I would say to single girls in NYC is keep your appearances up – look good, hit the gym, put some lipstick on – and then be nice to the men. They might notice you more if you are sweet and not bitter towards them.

If you could share five tough dating rules that everyone should live by, what would they be?

- 1) TMI – too much information.
- 2) Two-drink maximum. Women tend to share too much information when they drink too much, and then the guy gets scared...and they are no longer dating.
- 3) Let the man lead, and if you are the man, lead!
- 4) No sex before monogamy is my fourth rule. Obviously, this one is a major rule. If you sleep with him too soon, you may feel like you are in love, even if he is a loser.
- 5) My last rule would probably be that if you're dating, but nothing is working for you, don't fret. The right man or woman is probably just around the corner. It's usually those down times that you have to give in to. Once you give in to it, the phone will start ringing. I learned that lesson the hard way.

Or, if you're still in doubt, refer to what the matchmaker often says, "It's all in the kiss!"

wedding, and Tori quickly replied “I’ll do the wedding” although she doesn’t know what kind of wedding she wants. Whatever her friend may want, Tori Spelling is up for the challenge!

How can you include your friends in wedding plans?

Cupid’s Advice:

Even though your wedding is your special day, it can also be a good idea to include your friends in your wedding plans in order to take some of the stress off of yourself and your family. Cupid has some ideas:

1. Theme suggestions: The theme of your wedding is something that everyone who attends will remember, and it sets your big day apart from everyone else’s. Have a brainstorming session with your friends, and make it into a party.

2. Opinions: Yes, your special day is “all about you”, but if you don’t want to be a birdezilla, let your friends share their thoughts on the wedding plans without totally shutting them down. Show that you care about what they have to say and actually listen.

3. Bridesmaids dress selection: The one thing every bridesmaid dreads is having to wear a hideous dress that gets stuck in the back of her closet, never to be seen again. So instead of forcing your friends to wear something just to make you happy, why not allow them to have some say in what they will wear?

Tori Spelling and Dean McDermott Are Expecting Third Child

Tori Spelling

tweeted a special announcement on Monday, one that's been a long time coming. The actress effectively confirmed the persistent rumor that Spelling, 37, is expecting her third child with Dean McDermott. What changes do parents go through when they add a third child to the family?

Cupid's Advice:

Tori Spelling and Dean McDermott are proud parents to son Liam, 4 and daughter Stella, 2 1/2, and are excited to add a third member to the family. That said, there's a big difference between raising two and three kids. Cupid's got some things to expect:

1. Middle child situation: With three kids, you naturally have the "forgotten" or middle child, the oldest child that gets all the attention and the youngest child that gets babied.

Try your hardest not to let your kids fall into these stereotypes.

2. Jealousy: When you start adding more than one child to your family, jealousy rears its head and the child who used to get all of the attention is all of the sudden forced to share. Make sure you teach your kids that sharing is important from an early age.

3. More expenses: With three kids instead of two, that means more everything. It's means more food, more room, more medical bills and more clothes. Make sure you can afford a third child before you have one.

Tori Spelling & Dean
McDermott Give Each Other
Mani-Pedis

90210 star Tori

Spelling and her family seem to always be making news. This week is no different, with Spelling's husband, Home Sweet Hollywood star Dean McDermott, recently telling InTouch Magazine all about his family's interesting hobbies. One of their favorites? Mani-pedis. "I call it 'Male Polish,'" said McDermott. "We started doing each other's nails, and I love it. I'm wearing blue right now on my toes! I don't know why everyone doesn't do it!" Spelling adds, "I wanted to paint my nails gun metal for the night, so I borrowed [Dean's] nail polish." The couple's young children also like to participate. "Whenever we can, they come get manicures and pedicures with us and they love it!" said McDermott. "Liam has blue and red on his toes like Spider-Man this week and green on his fingernails like The Hulk." What are some fun bonding activities for you and your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

You don't always need a reservation at an extravagant restaurant to make your date memorable. Try partaking in some fun activities for easy laughs and quality one-on-one time. Cupid has a few ideas:

1. Board game: Open up your cupboard and fish out an old board game, like Monopoly or Risk. Though you may have to dust off the game pieces, you and your beau will appreciate the simple and amusing activity.

2. Movie exploration: Try finding some old movies neither of you have seen in ages. Funny 80s movies, like Ferris Bueller's Day Off, will have you laughing hysterically together.

3. Video games: If your partner is into video games, then he will have fun teaching you how to play. If you're the one crazy about them, then you'll enjoy watching him squirm as you repeatedly beat him. Your prowess in shooting zombies or braving the difficult stages of Guitar Hero will be sure to impress (or embarrass). Either way, you'll both be rolling on the carpet.

Tori Spelling Scared Hubby Dean McDermott May Cheat

As reported in US Magazine, Tori Spelling (90210) has been happily married to Dean McDermott (Santa Baby 2) since 2006, when they eloped on a private island in Fiji. To celebrate their fourth anniversary last month, they invited guests to see them renew their promises of love and they recited their vows in a sandbox while their kids played at their feet! With what seems like unconditional love, why does Spelling, in her new book, Uncharted terrITORI, reveal her concern that McDermott may cheat on her?

How can you overcome fears of infidelity despite having a strong relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Partnerships are a mix of both good and bad twists and turns, which no one can truly prepare for. However, fear of betrayal can be prevented with some strategic planning and simple faith. See how Cupid breaks it down for you:

1. Love: Just show it. Don't hide it, and don't smother the other person. This should come naturally, and should be enough to keep your mind from your worries.

2. Trust: If you've chosen to marry someone, trust should already be ingrained into your relationship. It's natural to have doubts; take time to talk to your partner about them.

3. Live your life: All the planning in the world can't promise faithfulness, but your best defense is to love your mate, and ensure they're a part of your life mentally, emotionally, and physically. If they are thinking of you, there won't be room for others.
