Celebrity Baby News: Kylie Jenner Plans to Keep Motherhood Journey with Stormi Private for Now

By Jessica Gomez

In celebrity news, Kylie Jenner plans on keeping her life with celebrity baby Stormi low-key, at least for now. The 20-year old reality TV star and makeup mogul kept her pregnancy on the down-low and demands that her motherhood journey be kept private as well, according to UsMagazine.com. “She is extremely protective and she is very focused on trying to keep motherhood private for right now,” a source said. “All Kylie wants is for her privacy to be protected right now and is pretty demanding about that at this time.” The source also adds that Kylie is in no hurry to get engaged to beau Travis Scott, so we guess there won’t be any celebrity wedding bells ringing there for a while.

In this celebrity baby news, it begs the question – is it okay to post photos of your child on social media? What are some factors to consider?

Cupid’s Advice:

Whether you want to post photos of your child on social media or not, the decision is up to you. It’s all up to preference, as long you understand the loss of control that takes place on your end once you upload a photo on the web. Here are some factors to consider:

1. It will always be on the web: When you post photos of your little bundle of joy, they will permanently be on the internet. This concerns some people, while others don’t find any harm in it. Think it through and decide whether or not this factor plays a role in your preference, considering that these photos are of your child and they will one day grow older and potentially see them.

2. Cyber safety risks: Do I want everyone to see this? Unless your social media account is private, the photo is available to pretty much the whole world. So think about what you're posting and consider whether you care who sees it or not. Cyber safety is one of the biggest concerns for parents considering it has been suggested that approximately 50% of photos on Pedophile sites come from the social media pages of parents.

3. Some photos may either be misjudged, misappropriated, or both: On social media, everyone has an opinion. This makes room for people to sometimes misjudge what they see or think they see on a photo. Misappropriation also happens often, especially with memes. You never know if one your photos will fall victim to this. People all the time take photos and turn it into a post relating a totally different message, good or bad. If you're fine with this because of your care-free attitude then that's fine, but others may want to stray away from this.

Instagram on Sunday. "My pregnancy was one I chose not to do in front of the world. I knew for myself I needed to prepare for this role of a lifetime in the most positive, stress free, and healthy way I knew how. There was no gotcha moment, no big paid reveal I had planned. I knew my baby would feel every stress and every emotion so I chose to do it this way for my little life and our happiness," she explained. "Pregnancy has been the most beautiful, empowering, and life-changing experience I've had in my entire life and I'm actually going to miss it. Well, this celebrity baby news wasn't just a rumor! What are some reasons to keep your baby news to yourself for a while?

Cupid's Advice:

There are a few reasons that you may want to keep your pregnancy under wraps for a while, just like Kylie Jenner and many others. Cupid has some reasons as to why:

1. You have a stressful pregnancy: You just don't need nor want the stress. If you have a sensitive pregnancy where your health and the one of your baby depends on you taking it easy, then hiding your pregnancy could be an option for you. If we feel like outside factors can cause us stress during a critical time, then as mothers-to be we must cut out those factors. Sometimes people can become over bearing when it comes to receiving baby news – so if you're around those kind of peeps, you know what it is.

2. You're superstitious and don't want to jinx it: This may not be logical to everyone. However, if it's logical to the mother-to-be, then that's enough – it's her body and her baby. Sometimes certain people find reassurance and comfort in not telling people right away due to fear of a miscarriage or something going wrong. At the end of the day, as long as the baby news is delivered later rather than never, it should be enough.

3. Judgy peers: Whether these peers are at school or work, or are your neighbors, friends, or fam, sometimes they're just not the easiest people to deal with. At times, we may be surrounded by people who judge or gossip, and that can lead to you wanting to keep your pregnancy low-key. During pregnancy, drama should be avoided, so there's no shame in doing what you have to do.
