In celebrity news, it looks like Khloe Kardashian still trusts her man. What are some ways to know your partner is being truthful with you?

Cupid's Advice:

Although trust is a crucial part of any relationship, it can sometimes be hard to achieve. If you do not have trust in your partner, who will continue to face obstacles as the relationship progresses. If you are looking for some ways to know if your partner is being truthful, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. They communicate clearly: While constant communication is not needed to determine if someone is being truthful, clear communication is. If someone communicates openly with you about topics such as where they are going and how they are feeling, then there probably is no reason to worry about them lying. Red flags should only appear if the person is continuously giving vague answers or avoiding questions.

However, with some hard work, long distance relationships can be successful. If you are looking for ways to make a long distance relationship work, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Have a communication plan: When you are not physically near someone, it can feel more tempting to want to talk to them more often. Celebrity News: Jordyn Woods Parties with Khloe Kardashian's Ex James Harden

By Katie Sotack

It looks like more Kardashian exes are after Jordyn Woods! Model, Woods was seen partying at a Houston nightclub with NBA player James Harden, according to People.com. Celebrity exes Khloe and Harden ended things three years ago, but after Khloe's baby daddy Tristan Thompson made moves on Woods, the tensions between the superstar family and Jordyn over exes are high. Woods seems to be attracting all the same men as the Kardashian sisters, as she was spotted with Kim's ex Ray J as well. Though Woods claims she's as sorry and apologetic as she can be, Khloe maintains she never wants to see her again.

In celebrity news, Jordyn Woods may be asking for more drama with Khloe Kardashian. What are some basic rules when it comes to friends' exes?

Cupid's Advice:

According to Khloe Kardashian, her friendship with Woods is totally over. Yet with feelings still webbed between the two and their exes, does girl code still apply? Here are the laws of the land when interacting with a friend's ex:

1. Not too friendly: Unless this ex was part of the friend group before your bestie started dating them, it's best to pull back from that budding friendship. Don't go around commenting on their Instagram posts and bar hopping with them. It's better to let your friend know they're your number one. This doesn't mean you have to hit the unfollow button or that you can't be social at parties. Just try not to be their closest confidant.

2. Dating an ex?: You two really clicked and they might be, like, the love of your life. That doesn't make the situation as less tricky. Parse out if you really have feelings for this ex, that go beyond lust. Then if you're sure you need to be with them, go to your friend first. This doesn't mean you'll be free and clear from any negative fall out, but your friend will respect that you didn't go behind their back.

3. Take your friend's side: Even if you don't agree with their bitching they likely need to vent about the relationship. Don't use this time to point out that their ex wasn't all the bad. After the breakup let your friend blow off steam for the first few weeks. After that if they're still bitter, let them know it's not benefiting them to fret over the past.

Celebrity News: Kaitlyn Bristowe Slams Nick Viall's Reasons for Joining 'The Bachelorette'

By Megan McIntosh

Though they are no longer a celebrity couple, Kaitlyn Bristowe is still has opinions about ex Nick Viall after their celebrity break up. According to UsMagazine.com, though it was all fun and games, Bristowe didn't hesitate to diss her ex in a word association game saying Viall's name negatively in association with "the right reasons." Though it's been years since they've dated, it's clear there's still bad blood even after all this time.

In celebrity news, these exes are clearly not on good terms after their break-up. What are some ways to keep old hurts from your exes from affecting your current life?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be hard to move on from an ex when you've broken up on bad terms. It's best not to let those old wounds reopen and keep you from living your life. It's not always easy to be friends with your ex, like Kourtney Kardashian is with Scott Disick, but it is possible to prevent that old relationship from holding you back like Khloe Kardashian after her break up with Tristan Thompson. Cupid has some tips:

1. Be comfortable moving on: Sometimes when you're afraid of being alone, you tend to hold on to toxic people. Holding on to exes who are not good for you can lead to being resentful and holding onto bitterness, like Bristowe with her ex Viall.

2. Let go of any possible future together: If you're still holding onto to the idea of you and your ex being together, it stops you from building a life with someone else. It also stops you from growing as a person because you may be stuck in the past.

3. Don't talk about your ex: Don't talk about your ex-partner. Just don't. Talking about them is a sign that you're not over them. If you talk about them, you're thinking about them. If you're thinking about them, you're not moving on. Stop talking about them and you will stop thinking about them and you'll finally move on to better things.

Celebrity News: Are Khloe Kardashian & French Montana Getting Back Together?

By Megan McIntosh

Though they were previously a thing, French Montana and Khloe Kardashian are not a celebrity couple, according to UsMagazine.com. After Kardashian's divorce from Lamar Odom, she moved on with French Montana, but admitted that she "was not in a good place" when they dated. Now, after her breakup with Tristan Thompson, she is currently "not thinking about her love life at the moment" and is instead focusing on her daughter, True.

In celebrity news, it seems this rumor is unfounded. What are some reasons you should think twice before getting back together with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be difficult to know when it's right to rekindle an old flame. How do you know you shouldn't take that step and try getting back together; that it's time to really let it go and move on? Cupid has some advice:

1. Nothing has changed: What was the reason you broke up with your partner? Is that still an issue between you two? If nothing has changed since you broke up, then there's no reason to get back together. The issue will only re-emerge and cause a future break up.

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up: Adele & Simon Koneckis Call It Quits

2. The reason you're returning isn't a good one: Why are you getting back together with your ex? Is it because you genuinely have a connection, or is it because you want closure? Never return to an ex because you don't understand the break up. If you broke up, there must have been a reason. If that reason still stands, so should the break up.

3. It might be a rebound: Never rekindle an old flame for a rebound. If you broke up with someone, there's no reason to return to another ex as a rebound. If there's no emotional attachment, you can try to have fun. But, inevitably, feelings always pop up. If you want to rekindle with an old flame, it should only be you two involved in the why.

Celebrity Parenting: Khloe Kardashian Is 'Extremely Upset' With Tristan Thompson For Not Being Involved with True

By Mara Miller

These celebrity parents are at odds with one another. What are some ways to stay on the same page with your child's other parent?

Cupid's Advice:

Staying on the same page with your child's parent when the two of you aren't together anymore can become difficult, especially when the other parent doesn't seem like he or she wants to be involved in actively co-parenting. Cupid has some tips on how to communicate more efficiently:

1. Communicate: You're both going to have to talk to each other eventually, and this can be hard if the breakup wasn't easy. But you will both need to speak to each other eventually for your child. And keep the conversations about the child only. Everything else isn't relevant.

1. Think about timing: Ask yourself is it the right time to start trying again. Is mom ready? Because pregnancy and childbirth are stressful for a mother, even if everything goes right. Are you financially stable to provide for another child? How many children do you already have? Because one baby is expensive but a second is equally expensive.

There's also the long-term things like daycare and schooling added on to your daily expenses. According to USDA estimates, two-parent households spend's 27% of their income on one child, as the children multiply: two children 41% and three 47%. It's a lot to consider. Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes unsatisfactory aspects in your relationship can emerge out of the blue. It is important that these negative occurrences don't affect your child in a bad way. It is definitely beneficial for your child to come to terms with life and do realize that everything is not perfect, or else they could become too sheltered. But it could also serve detrimental if they are exposed to too much negativity. Here are some ways to protect your child against negative parental relationship trauma:

1. Never stop showing them love: Depending on how old your child is, they may or may not pick up on the relationship struggles you are going through if you do a good job at keeping it between you and your partner. But nevertheless, never stop showing your child love. Try not to be too over the top lovey dovey towards them because then it may seem like you're trying to compensate, and the love for your child, or anyone, should just be natural.

2. Don't let them in on too many details: Your child has a right to know what's going on in their parents' lives, but of course they don't need to know everything. If you and your partner are going through a relationship struggle, you can let your child in by saying something like "Mommy and Daddy aren't agreeing with each other lately but we are working on it." You don't need to tell them that one of you cheated or that you think you may be falling out of love.

Cupid's Advice:

It is so fun to fantasize about which specific aspects your child will inherit from both you and your partner. Although, you should not let that overtake the beauty of nature. Your child is going to be so beautiful and will inherit great aspects from you and your partner. It may not be exactly what you hoped for, but you will end up finding it to be perfect anyway. It may be hard sometimes, both before your child is born and much later down the line, to keep your expectations from affecting your children. Fortunately, Cupid is here with some tips on how to help:

1. Let go of timelines: Children are supposed to walking by the time they are one and be potty trained by two, right? No, not necessarily. Don't place such high standards on your child meeting the typical deadlines of when they are going to accomplish these 'firsts'. Every child is different and runs on different schedules. Don't worry, they will eventually take their first steps and be potty trained when the time is right for them. Just enjoy the moments you have together because when they are older and out of the house, you're going to wish you could still be changing their diapers!

2. Let them know they are enough: It is unrealistic to say that you won't have any specific expectations for your children. Even if you do, let your kid know that they are perfect just the way they are. You can encourage them to be the best they can be, but try not to expect so much that you end up getting let down, or worse, your child feels as if they let you down. Shower your child with love and appreciation.

3. Support: One of the greatest things you can do as a parent is show support for your child's interests. Maybe you wanted your child to be a star soccer player like you, but they seem to be more interested in swimming. Great for them! Even if it is not what you originally expected, be happy that they are showing interest in something and support them. Remember, your child is not just a younger replica you, they are a different version of you so let their own light shine!

In celebrity baby news, Khloe enjoyed a baby shower while also celebrating her partner's birthday. What are some ways to balance celebrations in your family?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrating two events in a day can create some very busy energy, but that doesn't make it any less fun! Cupid has some ideas on ways to maintain the balance between both family celebrations:

1. Plan ahead and thoroughly: One event takes time to plan, so imagine two. You don't want to stress yourself out. Ask for help planning if needed. There are many things to consider when planning, so make an agenda and get started when possible. When planning both events side by side, you are more likely to keep them balanced as well.

2. Make the events equal in size: Of course this depends on what type of events you are coordinating, but if you want to create two balanced ones on the same day, without one event outshining the other, it could be a good idea to make them the same size. When thinking of size, you should consider guest lists, themes, decorations, amount of food, etc. Again, this depends on the type of events.

3. Schedule properly: Time management is important. One event should be during the day and the other in the evening, ideally. Plan accordingly by scheduling the events at specific times for specific time periods, with enough room to change clothes if necessary and traveling. There should be a reasonable gap in between, so in order to consider this properly, the events should be on a somewhat tight schedule for the best, stress free results.
