

Travel Tips During the Pandemic: Is Flying on an Airplane Safe?

By Diana Iscenko

The world is still in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic. Even though cases in the United States are still rising in some areas, many states are reopening in phases. The threat of getting sick is still real, so many businesses are open with new social distancing measures in place to prevent the spread of the virus. This combined with the summer weather has caused many people to want to travel again.

So, is it safe to travel on an airplane right now? The CDC warns against making unnecessary trips anywhere, including on airplanes. Air travel includes the time spent in security lines and airport terminals, both of which can bring you in close contact with people and frequently touched surfaces. Social distancing can be impossible on crowded flights, so you may be stuck within six feet of someone for hours at a time.

That said, if you need to get into a plane for a necessary trip—or if you're otherwise willing to take the risk—there are ways to travel as safely as possible.

Whether you're taking a mandatory trip or hitting a vacation destination, here are three travel tips for flying during the pandemic:

1. Pick Your Airline Carefully

Many airlines have implemented new safety requirements to lower the risk of staff and passengers being exposed to the virus. These policies vary from company to company, so it's crucial to research your airline's procedures before booking a flight. Most airlines are requiring everyone to wear face masks. Others are flying at half capacity, increasing the frequency of cleaning procedures or conducting temperature checks before allowing anyone on their airplanes. Airlines are being transparent about their requirements so you can fly on an airplane where you feel as safe as possible.

2. Masks and Sanitizers are Your Friends

You should be wearing a face mask the entire time you're traveling, regardless of what the airport or airline recommends. It's also important to bring hand sanitizer and wipes to keep your hands clean and to sanitize the surfaces you'll be touching throughout the flight. If possible, skip using the bathroom while flying. You'll expose yourself to more germs walking to the bathroom and touching the surfaces while in there. If the flight has unassigned seats, try to sit by the window so you'll have less contact with those walking down the aisle.

3. Self-Quarantine at Your New Location

Traveling from city to city and state to state brings you into contact with countless people. You should self-quarantine for two weeks after your arrival if possible to make sure you didn't catch COVID-19 and won't get anyone else sick. This should be easy for those making necessary trips—like moving into a new home in a different city—but it's not great news for those looking to vacation. This is something you have to consider if you want to book a trip. Are you willing to take the necessary health precautions, even if it means sitting in a hotel room for two weeks?

Travel Tips: Top 5 Things to

Do in Maui

By Mara Miller

Hawaii—probably one of the most luxurious vacation destinations we can take away from the mainland without the worry of a passport or travel visa. Whether you're going for your honeymoon or because you want your own Instagram-worthy vacay, we've gathered up some of the best things to do in Maui in these travel tips.

Check out our travel tips on the top five things to do in Maui!

Hawaii has eight major islands as it's an archipelago, so for now, we're focusing on Maui only. From hiking to a snorkel adventure, you're sure to find something to do in Maui using our travel advice. You can even find a few budget-friendly options, since a plane ticket to Hawaii can cost upwards of $2,000 if you're traveling there with your partner:

1. Road to Hana: If you're a bit strapped for cash after the hefty plane ticket, think about driving on highway 360. It's free! The Road to Hana twists through lush rain forests and gorgeous waterfalls. But, beware: the road can surprise drivers with hairpin curves. Make sure you're following the speed limit!

2. Ziplining: Fast and exciting, you'll get to fly through the trees and get an aerial view of the island. There is more than one zipline in Maui, so all you need to do is pick the one you think you and your partner will enjoy the most, meaning if you are both beginners, there's sure to be something to accommodate you both.

5. Surf lessons: If you have always wanted to learn to surf, now's the time to do it! Not only is surfing a great workout, but you'll get to enjoy the waves and your partner will get to laugh at you if you fall in the water. West Maui has water conditions that are great for beginning surfers. And better, you'll get some real advice, because Hawaii was the birthplace of surfing!

Vacation Destinations: Forget Land & Say 'Hello' to Water

By Bonnie Griffin

Looking for your next exciting vacation destination? Consider leaving land behind and taking to the water on a cruise. One of the best things about a cruise is that you often don't have to decide on just one location. Many boats travel to numerous locations and they include drinks, food, and entertainment for your pleasure all on board.

Not sure where your next vacation destination should be? Perhaps it's time to consider a cruise.

Cruises offer many options and the best part is that many of them operate year-round. After all, it's still hot in the Bahamas in December. Cupid's has some inspiration for your next cruise:

1. Fun for any sized group: Whether you're traveling with a group of friends and family or taking a solo vacation, a cruise has plenty of fun options for everyone. Many cruises have games and entertainment, such as shows, right on board. You will find family-friendly entertainment in addition to adults-only, like casinos and comedy nights. All of this can be found on the ship before the myriad of adventures begin at each port!
