Time to add another pair of celebrity exes to the Hollywood mix. What do you do if the person you're dating is afraid of commitment?

Cupid's Advice:

Commitment issues are more prevalent than ever as our society is becoming more care-free and individualistic. If you truly want your partner to come to terms with the idea of a relationship, then don't be afraid to speak your mind. Cupid has three tips to help get your loved one committed:

1. Have fun: It's possible that your significant other is scared of commitment because they associate relationships with rules, routine and constant nagging. Try focusing less on getting them committed and more on enjoying each other's company. This laid-back, fun atmosphere might change their definition of what a relationship consists of.

2. Don't ask for too much too soon: Don't scare away your partner with high demands and lavish plans. Ease into a relationship slowly so they have time to adjust and get a feel for what you want. Hold off on meeting the parents and visiting Europe until the terms of the relationship have been fully discussed and accepted.

3. Show them respect: Hopefully this one is obvious, however, if you act superior and dominant this could intimidate them.

Don't demand to be treated like a princess, rather treat your lover as your equal. Receiving respect can open their eyes to the caring, concerned person you can be.
